COLONEL SUFFERS FROM DAY'S LEVEE

T. R. OVERTAXES STRENGTH AND PHYSICIANS GIVE HIM WARNING

'I FEEL QUITE TIRED,' HE SAYS

Ex-President Must Rest Today In Order to be Able to go to Oyster Bay Tomorrow

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—Colonel Roosevelt at 11 o'clock tonight told Night Nurse Fitzgerald that he felt exceedingly tired. He had put in the time since the consultation of his surgeons at 6:30 in reading and talking with Mrs. Roosevelt, shaving himself, having a bath and eating a little lunch. His temperature at 9:30 was 98.2, at which figure it remained when taken again at 11. His respiration and pulse were stationary and about normal.

"I feel quite tired," he said to Miss Fitzgerald, as she left him for the night. "I think I saw too many people today. I will be glad to sleep, I need it."

The Colonel took a book, saying he would read a few minutes and then go to sleep for the night.

Colonel Roosevelt must rest all day tomorrow in absolute quiet if he is to be able to take an early train for New York Monday morning.

This was the decision reached by the surgeons who met in consultation after a day during which, they asserted, the Colonel overdid it. A succession of social gatherings and at least one important political conference which he held with Governor Johnson took place today, and the surgeons definitely determined to call a halt.

SUFFRAGISTS HAVE BIG STREET CROWD

MISS GRIFFITH AND MR. GILLESPIE APPEAL FOR VOES FOR WOMEN

CHIVALRY NOT NEGATIVE ARGUMENT

College Equal Suffrage League To Hold Meetings Here Weekly Until the Election

The cause of Equal Suffrage was preached to the people of Oregon City Saturday evening by Miss Ethel E. Griffith of the College Equal Suffrage League, and S. S. Gillespie, an attorney of Portland, who spoke from an automobile to a large street audience. Miss Griffith spoke on suffrage from a woman's standpoint, stating that women are held responsible for the health of the family and should have a voice in the appointment and election of the various market and milk inspectors, as well as in many other matters in which women are, or should be vitally concerned. Miss Griffith set forth the need women have for the ballot, while Mr. Gillespie spoke on the need of the country for the ballots of the women and urged upon the voters of the state that they place "Justice before Chivalry." That the prejudice against women is a relic of barbarism, was Mr. Gillespie's opinion, and he outlined the gradual evolution of the primitive races and compared it with man's dawning recognition of women. "The ballot for women is the anti-septic needed for the dangerous growth of modern evils" was one of the arguments which Mr. Gillespie advanced. The thinking people of the state are beginning to appreciate the good work done by the women of Washington and California and the sentiment in favor of Equal Suffrage is spreading.

SUICIDE OF GIRL IS NOT EXPLAINED

YOUNG MEN WHO WENT ON AUTO TO TRIP HELD ON BAIL FOR HEARING

CHAUFFEUR TELLS OF BREAK DOWN

Coroner's Jury Renders Non-Committal Verdict—Girl Companion of Suicide Gives Details

John Finucane and Harry Timmons accused of contributing to the delinquency of Valeria Proffitt, a fifteen-year-old girl, who committed suicide early Friday morning by drinking carbolic acid, following an all night automobile trip to Portland, will be tried in the county court tomorrow or Tuesday. The coroner's inquest revealed few new circumstances in connection with the trip and the mysterious act of the girl. The only conclusion that can be drawn from the testimony at the inquest, is that the girl, after being out all night, feared to face her parents. Dr. Guy Mount, who made the post mortem examination, said the girl had not been molested recently, which is corroborated by the other four members of the party. Clara Johnson, also fifteen years of age, who is being held as a witness by the jail matron, said she took a sip of port wine the boys had, and that Miss Proffitt did not drink any of the wine. She said the young men drank some of the wine. Mrs. C. C. Hall, of the firm of Everhart & Hall, who sold the girl the acid, said that Miss Proffitt explained that her little sister had cut her finger, and she wanted to use the acid for a wash. Frank Proffitt, father of the dead girl testified to finding a half emptied bottle about 300 yards from the house. Peter Marrs, the driver of the automobile, said the car was taken to two garages for repairs and that the last time it broke down the other members of the party boarded a street car and went to West Portland. They ate
