SELF GOVERNMENT.

Nine road measures are submitted to be voted upon at the general election. Two of these are the so-called grange bills, six are the "Harmony" bill, the other is the County Home Rule bill, which is designed to solve in simple fashion, the problem of county road building and gives to counties the right of self government in road matters now enjoyed by cities. The home rule is similar to the constitutional amendment voted by a large majority two years ago, except

We Are Living In the Best Age Since the World Began

By Dr. HENRY HEAD, Fellow of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons in London

THERE NEVER WAS A TIME IN THE HISTORY OF MAN WHEN THERE WAS SO WIDE AN INTELLIGENCE, SO GREAT AND VIVID AN INTEREST IN THE THINGS OF THE MIND AS THERE IS TODAY.

There has never been so broad a distribution of intelligence, and I am sure that never since the second century in Rome has there been SO BROAD A DISTRIBUTION OF HAPPINESS. Indeed, of all the times in all the history of mankind I think that the present age bears the closest resemblance of those days of the Roman empire. They were not yet the days of dissolution, but they were days of decadence. And so is this.

And I do not see why that should be anything to wonder at or explain against. THE DECAY OF ONE CIVILIZATION IS NOT SUCH A TERRIBLE THING. Even if it is followed by a period of chaos it is the way of life and development that one civilization should decay and go to pieces.

Certainly, however, this is NOT A STRENUOUS AGE. This is a soft age. It is an age in which there is a great deal of overwork, a great deal of fatigue and neurasthenia. But it is SOFT for all that.

LOOK AT THE PEOPLE ALL ABOUT US. DO THEY LOOK AS IF THEY LIVED IN A HARD AGE OR A HARD NATION? YOUR WOMEN HERE IN AMERICA AND OUR WOMEN IN ENGLAND, YOUR LOVELY YOUNG GIRLS TROOPING OFF TO SCHOOL—THERE IS NOTHING STRENUOUS ABOUT THEM. OVERRUSHED THEY MAY BE; MANY OF THEM ARE, BUT THEIR LIFE ISN'T WHAT YOU COULD CALL HARD. IT CAN'T COMPARE TO THE LIFE OF WOMEN IN AGES PAST. IT IS ESSENTIALLY A SOFT LIFE.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

SCORES FOES OF SUFFRAGE. OREGON CITY, Oct. 21.—(Morning Enterprise)—About one man in ten when asked what he thinks of Equal Suffrage, says: "Sure I believe in it—let 'em suffer." If Adam or Hamlet or Josh Billings, of whoever first thought of that joke had only had it patented, he would have saved this world a heap of forced laughter. But after you have done your little laugh, unless you are perfectly reckless with your time you might as well drop the subject, for reasons that need no explaining. But the other day the ninth man happened to be a very well known citizen—you would certainly smile if you knew his name, and he said emphatically that he was opposed to the extension of the franchise, because for one reason, women were much better off being represented by the men. I started to remind him of the millions of women who have no man to represent them, but he was not in a reasonable mood, so I hung at him the fact that his sister was a prominent suffragist, and this is what Mr. Well Known citizen said: "I know—he wants to vote. She has often talked the matter over with me, but I do not think she should, and her husband does not think she should, and so she doesn't stand much chance of voting." And that is the way one woman in Oregon City is represented by the men of her family. ERNESTINE SINGER.

Peoples' Ticket Names Good Men

PROGRESSIVES PLACE POPULAR MEN UPON CA.—OT.

Candidates for State Offices Named at Bull Moose Convention Are All Noted for Efficiency and True Principles. Efficiency, activity, straightforwardness are the main characteristics that apply to the state Progressive Party ticket in Oregon. The delegates that gathered at Salem to name this ticket bore the good of the party in mind constantly, and also kept constantly before them the pledge that Theodore Roosevelt had made to the people—"to carry out in the interests of our whole people the policies set forth in the Progressive platform." This pledge of the leading Progressive was regarded as the party pledge, to be carried out both in the national and state branches of government; and the convention therefore picked or endorsed men for the state positions whom they believed would prove of substantial aid to Progressive policies if they were given office. From top to bottom of the ticket this was born in mind, and the men now on the Bull Moose ticket are such as should appeal to all truly Progressive voters. A. E. Clark, long an attorney and citizen of prominence in Portland, was named for United States Senator. Mr. Clark knows the needs of Oregon as but few other men do, he has the confidence of thousands of voters, and he has repeatedly proved himself a man of public spirit. Free of any connection with former political "rings" and combinations in the state, it is believed that he will poll a winning vote while factional leaders will defeat each other. John D. Mickle, the nominee for Dairy and Food Commissioner, is also believed to be a candidate who will add strength to the ticket. For Secretary of State the Progressives have placed the name of Benjamin E. Kennedy upon the ballot. Kennedy is a man well known throughout Eastern Oregon, where he is a general favorite with men of all parties. A man of wide experience and great breadth of view upon all questions, he is regarded as one of the best possible nominees for the position, and as one upon whom the hand of Victory is apt to rest. As a newspaperman, Kennedy was always known as one of the best. Robert Service, the candidate for railroad commissioner, is well-fitted for the position by many years of experience in different departments of transportation work. The men selected as presidential electors are those who can be relied upon to cast their ballots in the electoral college as instructed by their home voters, while the congressmen who have been endorsed will add dignity and strength to the ticket.

Great Interest Shown in Party

PROGRESSIVE HEADQUARTERS VISITED BY MANY. Rooms of Oregon Roosevelt Organization Always Filled With People Desirous of Learning News of Colonnels' Progress. One of the interesting sidelights upon the presidential campaign in Oregon to be found by a visit to different headquarters is that in no one camp does there seem to be any real activity. At the rooms of the Progressive Party, in the Hotel Oregon, there is always a crowd, people are constantly coming and going, and an interested group is always to be found standing before the bulletin board, whereon are posted the latest reports from all sections of the country. In sharp contrast to this are the scenes at the headquarters of the other two principal candidates. Some slight sign of life may be found at the Democratic rooms, but at Taft's headquarters there is evident only the quiet and still peace of the grave. The voter who makes the rounds of all three headquarters will be impressed with one thing, no matter what his politics may be, and that is that the Progressive Party is interesting the people. And what ever the people are interested in is worth watching.

Golf Champion Jerome D. Travers And the Havemeyer Trophy

JEROME D. TRAVERS, the new amateur golf champion of the United States, has three demonstrated that he is the country's greatest golfer and has won the Havemeyer trophy, emblematic of the championship, three times with his name. The trophy which may only be held by the winner's club as long as he is champion, is now in the custody of the Upper Meridian Country Club. Mr. Travers won the championship in 1907 and repeated his victory in 1908 and 1912. He is also the holder of the metropolitan championship, comprising about seventy clubs near New York.

The Fork. It is about 1,900 years ago since the fork made its appearance in Europe. In 99 A. D. a son of the duke Pietro Orsola had wedded in Venice the Byzantine Princess Argina, who produced at the wedding breakfast a silver fork and gold spoon. Then the high Venetian families followed suit, and the martlets to fashion picked their lips with the new instrument. The fork prospered, however, and spread over Italy. In 1573 it had traveled as far as France, and in 1608 a traveler took it direct to England.

Summons

In the Circuit Court of the State of Oregon, for the county of Clackamas. Frank P. Gilmore, Plaintiff, vs. Barbara Gilmore, defendant. To Barbara Gilmore, defendant, above named, of the State of Oregon, you are hereby required to appear and answer the complaint filed herein against you, in the above entitled court and cause, within six weeks from the 10th day of September, A. D., 1912, said date being the first day of publication of this summons. And if you fail so to appear or answer, for want thereof, the plaintiff will apply to the court for the relief demanded and prayed for in the complaint filed herein, to-wit: That the bonds of matrimony now existing between the plaintiff and defendant be dissolved, and for such further relief as may seem just and equitable to the court. This summons is served upon you by virtue of an order made by Hon. Circuit Judge of the State of Oregon, for the county of Clackamas, dated on the 9th day of September, A. D., 1912, and which order prescribes that the summons in this suit should be served upon you by publication once a week for six successive days and consecutive weeks in the Morning Enterprise, a newspaper of general circulation in the County of Clackamas, State of Oregon. H. R. SALTMARSH, Attorney for the Plaintiff.

Summons

In the circuit court of the state of Oregon for Clackamas County. Effa M. Shields, plaintiff, vs. T. Edward Shields, defendant. To the above named defendant, T. Edward Shields: In the name of the state of Oregon you are hereby summoned to appear in the above entitled cause in the above entitled Court on or before the 3rd day of December, 1912, the last day of the publication of this summons, there to answer the complaint filed in the said cause against you, in default whereof the plaintiff will take a decree against you dissolving the bonds of matrimony now existing between you and the plaintiff, and for the relief demanded and on the grounds stated in the said complaint. This summons published by order of the Honorable R. B. Beatie, County Judge of Clackamas County, Oregon, Hon. J. U. Campbell and J. A. Eakin, Judges of the above entitled court being absent from Clackamas County, Oregon, made, signed and filed on the 22nd day of October 1912, which order fixed the said 3rd day of December, 1912, as the day within which you are to answer the said complaint. MARTIN L. PIPES, Attorney for Plaintiff.
