GOVERNOR INDORSES IT.

Governor West was one of the first men appointed on our State Railway Commission, and it was his splendid record while serving on that commission that had much to do with his election to his present high office. While a commissioner he saw that all public utilities corporations doing business in the state ought to be under the control of that commission and he had much to do with framing the Malarkey bill, which was passed with almost unanimous vote at the last session of the Legislature. Revolutionizing Methods of Teaching Foreign Languages. By Professor NICHOLAS MURRAY BUTLER, President of Columbia University.

WE MUST REVOLUTIONIZE OUR METHODS OF TEACHING MODERN LANGUAGES BEFORE WE CAN HOPE FOR FURTHER PROFITABLE INTELLECTUAL AND COMMERCIAL INTERCOURSE IN EUROPE. Children in the schools must ACTUALLY SPEAK FRENCH AND GERMAN with an attempt at pure accent instead of merely picking out a few passages from a book, as at present. When we began teaching languages in the American universities we imported foreign instructors. The foreigners, however, could not maintain discipline and were gradually replaced by native teachers, many of whom, though excellent scholars themselves, were HARDLY ABLE TO CONVERSE IN A FOREIGN TONGUE. The belief has arisen that it is unnecessary really to speak French and German. Thousands of educated Americans visiting Europe annually are proving the fallacy of this dictum. English certainly is sufficient to carry tourist parties from hotel to hotel, but it is IMPOSSIBLE TO OBTAIN A TRUE IDEA OF FOREIGN LANDS AND THEIR VALUABLE CULTURE WITHOUT BEING ABLE TO CONVERSE WITH THE INHABITANTS. Interchange of professors in American and European universities, so beneficial to the cause both of international peace and international scholarship, positively cannot be developed properly because so FEW AMERICAN PROFESSORS ARE TO BE HAD WHO CAN TALK TO A FRENCH OR A GERMAN AUDIENCE.

Governor promptly and cheerfully signed it, but the interests applied the referendum. Now it is on the November ballot for rejection or approval, it should pass. All public utilities corporations should be in charge of four Railway Commission. We need no new boards, no new commissioners for this work. The Railway Commissions of 20 states have such control. Oregon is behind the times in taking control of such concerns. Vote 314 X Yes. It will be almost a crime for the voters to defeat this excellent measure.

A Word With a Strange History. "Trecle," or molasses, is a word with an interesting history. The earliest treacle was an antidote against the viper's bite and probably was made of viper's flesh itself. It is a word with a strange history, descending from the Greek "ther," a wild beast, whence came the adjective "theriakos," pertaining to a wild beast, which was eventually specialized to mean serving as an antidote against a wild beast's bite. In English treacle then came to mean anything soothing or comforting. Chaucer even speaks of Christ as "treacle of all harm." And, as so many soothing remedies were sirups, treacle at length meant simply sirups of various kinds.

The Korean Way. In Korean ministers of state who gamble recklessly are liable to be caned by police officials.

Ogdities of Translation. When the Bible was translated into Japanese an equivalent to the word "baptize" could not be found, and the word "soak" had to be used instead, so that Japanese Biblical students are acquainted with a person named "John the Soaker" and with a doctrine of "soaking for remission of sins." In that case the mistranslation is due to inadequacy of language. It is often due to ignorance. A schoolboy once rendered "Miserere, Domine!" into "Oh, heartbroken schoolmaster!" And another recovered from German the text "The spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak," in the form "The ghost, of course, is ready, but the meat is feeble."—London Standard.

Mahogany Polish. Two tablespoons of olive oil and a dessertspoonful of vinegar make a good polish for mahogany.

WORRY. Worry is one of the most fatal of all transgressions. It is a sin against not one organ of the body, but against the whole body. It is a vice whose pressure is felt upon the heart, and there is not a capillary in any gland or tissue which does not shrink under the glance of its gloomy eyes.

If you saw it in the Enterprise it is so.

Points for Mothers

The Rainy Day Closet. It is almost time to lay away materials for the "rainy day closet," a device intended for the alleviation of the care of mothers. Interest is now centering in school playthings are tossed aside for the more serious business of life, but they should not be tossed so far that they cannot be found again in case of need. Into the "rainy day closet" should go the toys from which the interest has temporarily departed, together with the accumulation of summer magazines, later, and specimens of rock and shells brought home from the seashore. This closet should contain story books for children of all ages, riddle books, old picture postals, clever advertisements which come to the house and many other things vainless to grown-ups, but dear to the heart of childhood.

Furniture catalogues appeal particularly to little people, and mismatched decks of cards sorted over can absorb a good bit of time. A few good new games should be among the collections of this wonderful room. Rolls of colored crepe paper, a supply of paper napkins, costing almost nothing, with the assistance of pins, will make the grandest kind of fancy costumes and with their aid all kinds of dramatic performances are possible. Paper for making flowers, clay for molding purposes, bits of pretty wall paper for covering boxes and all medium sized firm boxes should find their way to this treasure house.

Envelopes from which the used stamps are to be cut will afford some boy amusement. All the odds and ends of lead pencils and crayons can go into the closet and some day find a use. There are sure to be "shut in" days, many of them, when all this apparent "trash" will be welcomed.

In families where the "rainy day closet" has become an institution the room is kept carefully locked, so that its opening on rainy days or sick days is looked upon as an event of great importance. The articles are carefully arranged on shelves or in drawers, and an older sister, or even an "old maid aunt"—for such there still is—appointed custodian. Among the rules and regulations posted on the inside of the door is one to the effect that no one must ask for a new article to play with inside an hour, though articles may be amicably interchanged among the group of little folks who have been cut off by the weather from their customary amusements.

Nervous Children. If when parents notice the nervousness of a little girl they would give it just a little daily treatment besides the proper diet and rest it is more than likely that the trouble would be soon overcome.

In the first place, for a child under nine years very little if any meat is advised. Poultry is best, and not too much of that either. Do not have the old fashioned idea that sleeping on an empty stomach is best, because it is not. It may be all well enough for a dyspeptic, but with healthy, whole some people it is different. If a child tells you it is hungry while preparing for bed and some time has elapsed since the last meal was partaken give her a cracker and half fill a glass with warm milk and allow her to drink it. If she is healthy it will not be long before she will be sound asleep.

And now a word about how she sleeps. If you wish to have your little girl grow up without nervousness you must see that she has nine or ten hours of comfortable, undisturbed sleep in a thoroughly well ventilated room. By comfortable is not meant a soft and downy bedding, but rather it would be better to throw away all feather pillows and wool mattresses and substitute bolsters and beds of hay. This would mean real comfort and a sweet and clean bed, and the wonderful relief that would come to a weak, nervous or timid child one has no idea of. There is always a bayonet odor about it, and that in itself is better than the heavy odor the other bedding has, especially when it becomes damp with perspiration. The hay bedding is always cool and clean, and, what is more, it can at any time be renewed at a trifling expense.

Look at New York's Latest! Pretty Woman Fire Inspector

Photos by American Press Association.

WOMEN in this era of female trolley conductors, aviators and suffragettes can do anything a man can. Even mere man himself is forced to admit this much. In a great city like New York, for instance, it would be hard to pick out many lines of work in which women do not figure. America's greatest metropolis now even has a woman fire inspector, paid by the city to inspect factories and conduct fire drills among the employees. She is Mrs. Sarah Christopher, and she will get $1,200 a year. She has been assigned to the cloak, suit and skirt factories in the city, which number over 500 and employ 100,000 persons, mostly women. One of Mrs. Christopher's duties is to drill the employees of the various factories in preventing fires and also to establish a fire-drill, which will be carried on regularly under the supervision of a monitor appointed by the woman inpector. Mrs. Christopher says that her interest in factory conditions has grown out of her interest in eugenics. "I think of factory girls as potential mothers," she said, "and I want to see them protected not only for their own sake, but for that of posterity." Could even a hardened violator of the fire laws withstand Mrs. Christopher's winning smile, which you can see for yourself? Also notice one of the climbing stunts she must perform in her inspection duties. Ladders have no terror for her.

No Nicknames. It's by far the best plan to choose an attractive baptismal name for a child, and the name once given, stick to it. Elizabeth should never become Betty, Bet, Lizzie, Beth or Liz. Mary is far lovelier than Mamie. Caroline is a worthy and beautiful name, but Carrie is not. Jennie is a common diminutive of the stately and infinitely to be preferred Jane. Dolly for Dorothy, Lulu for Louise, Gerrie for Gertrude, Nell for Helen, Mattie for Martha, Kitty or Katie for Katherine—oh, don't!

Wants, For Sale, Etc. Notices under these classified headings will be inserted at one cent a word, first insertion; half a cent additional insertions.
