Heart to Heart Talks.

By EDWIN A. NYE.

PICTURES OF THE TIME.

The newspapers give descriptions of two recent balls—the Stuyvesant Fish and the Vanderbilt, both at Newport—so gorgeous in their display as to have staggered the imagination of a generation or two ago.

There was the Stuyvesant Fish. It cost $100,000. The features included electric fountains with varicolored waters, tropical water plants, countless roses of pink and red, thousands of goldfish in flashing fountains, myriads of butterflies flitting about purple lights, French mirrors, servants dressed in the correct livery of Louis XVI, dances of nymphs and hundreds of white doves billing and cooing about the dancers.

And the Vanderbilt. It followed the Fish orgy and was intended to outdo it. It cost $120,000. Precious decorations adorned the walls, myriads of arbutus lights, reproductions of miniatures and domes blazing with color transformed Beaulieu, the Vanderbilt estate, into a veritable dreamland. Then with a single word—$5,000—a real play, "The Merry Comtesse," was brought direct from New York to a specially erected theater. In the final dance "diamond decked slippers" glided over the ball-room floor.

Riotous, lavish, foolish, are the first adjectives that spring to one's speech. To be sure, the shopkeepers and workmen who prepared the features were well paid, and the money went into the channels of circulation, but—

Were there no contrasting pictures showing a better disposition of surplus money one might despair of the time. Happily there are other pictures.

The same newspaper that told of the fish exhibition told of the wedding reception of Richard Harding Davis and Bessie McCoy, who also have money, but better taste and disposition in the spending of it. They gave 500 tired New York mothers and their fretted children an outing on Coney Island and a free ride on the ocean.

And—

It told of Henry C. Frick's lawn party in honor of his daughter. Frick is richer than Fish, but his way was to invite the whole population of Beverly to have a good time.

Also—

It told of a New York luncheon where moneyed men and heads of benevolent societies conferred as to how they might help the poor of the east side.

Which things renew one's faith in his fellows high and low.

There are others besides the Fish and Vanderbilt coteries.

The latter are mere incidents in our civilization. They are sated hostesses on the rim of the wheel of progress.

Very Often.

She—Do you believe a man knows when he is in love? He—Yes, and she doesn't know anything else.—Judge.

MISS CLARA FIELDS WINS SILVER SPOON

Miss Madge Brightbill and Miss Margaret Brown entertained a few of their friends at the home of the former on Twelfth and Main Streets Friday evening. The evening was enjoyably spent in five hundred and the prize, a handsome silver spoon, was won by Miss Clara Fields. Refreshments were served. The rooms of Miss Brightbill's home were beautifully decorated with bright colored autumn leaves, and chrysanthemums were arranged in an artistic manner.

Present were Miss Kathryn Simont, Miss Marion Money, Miss Mary Ecos, Miss Lenort Wilson, of Portland; Miss Lillie Miller, Miss Edna Holman, Miss Alice Moore, Miss Florence Grace, Miss Clara Fields, Miss Marie Sheahan, Miss Stella Cross.

His Wish.

They had just moved into a new house, and they stood surveying the situation. "I wish," she said, "that this carpet was velvet." "I don't," responded the husband unfeelingly. "I wish it was down."

5000 BALES OF HOPS ARE SOLD

Since the first of last week about 5000 bales of Oregon hops have changed hands. All of the dealers are busy making shipments. Choice Oregon hops are holding close to the 20 cent mark and it is difficult to get the price beyond this mark. For fancy lots, 20 1/2 and 21 cents has been bid, but the latter price has not yet been paid. George Randall, of this city, and sons of New Era, have sold some of their hops at 19 cents, there being 60 bales in the lot.

OSTEOPATHY NOT RELATED TO MASSAGE

As some people have the conception that osteopathy is merely massage, a word under this heading might right someone's misconception. The barber and the surgeon both work on the body with sharp instruments, yet their work is different. A homeopath is not an allopath because they both use drugs. There is a difference between the stone mason and the sculptor.

The masseur uses his hands in his work; so does the osteopath and there the comparison ends. Massage is simply a system of movements, certain shippings, rubbings and squeezings, done by rote and learned in a few months. An osteopath is a trained physician seeking out the cause and removing it. The masseur finds a limb congested or badly nourished and goes about rubbing and squeezing to stir up the stagnant circulation. You could do this in case of the arm which has gone to sleep because it has been hanging over the back of the chair, or the leg which has been crossed, but only temporary relief would be afforded if the limb is not moved in such a manner that the pressure upon the nerves and blood vessels is removed.

The osteopath would seek out the point where obstruction existed to these blood currents, remove that obstruction and open the channel. This done, he reasons that the heart will propel the blood, and the nervous system will attend to the distribution in a normal manner. He stretches the muscles when necessary, he relaxes the ligaments, and adjusts to their normal relations cartilages, bones and other dense structures, but he does not stroke and rub the surface.—Herald of Osteopathy.

Restoring Rubber.

People using articles made of rubber that frequently lose their elasticity through oxidation may restore the material to its original condition by a simple process. Soak the part in a mixture of one part of ammonia to two parts water. This is particularly well adapted to the restoring of rubber bands, rings and small tubing which are ready to become dry and brittle.

Gentle Reproof.

"There ain't nothin' very bad about me, ma'am, there ain't," said the beggar at the Boston back door. "Think not?" said the lady with the spectacles. "How about your grammar?"—Yonkers Statesman.

WHY CONGRESSMAN W. C. HAWLEY Should Be Re Elected to Congress.

Because Mr. Hawley has had "No interests to serve but the public interests."

Because in point of ability, experience in qualifications for the position of congressman no opponent can dilute can compare favorably with Mr. Hawley.

Because to large abilities and efficiency is added Mr. Hawley's reputation for honesty, moral manhood and a character without blemish.

Because he was born in Oregon, knows her needs and has secured millions of dollars for public improvements in the First District.

Because he does not spend recesses between sessions in Congress in idleness but travels thousands of miles annually over his district conferring with his constituents and learning their needs and opinions that he may better serve and represent them.

Because it has been proven that Mr. Hawley is able, efficient and successful and has large plans for the people which he can complete in an other term.

Because he has reached an influential position in Congress after years of hard work on committees on Agriculture and Labor and his future labors would bring greater results for Oregon than any new man could hope to secure until after several terms in Congress.

Because without distinction in party affiliation, wealth or position, Mr. Hawley has served all of the people to the full extent of his abilities.

Because as a public servant he has labored for progressive legislation beneficial to the people, the State and Nation that Presidents Taft and Roosevelt, his associates in the House, and his constituents generally have praised Mr. Hawley in terms similar to those of Governor West who made the following statement after a visit to the National Capitol: "In intellect, oratorical ability and devotion to the interests of the people, Hawley stands head and shoulders above the great majority of the members of the National House of Representatives."

PUT OUT THE FIRE

DON'T SUFFER FROM ECZEMA WHEN RELIEF IS GUARANTEED—A GENEROUS OFFER

ECZEMA, one of the most common of all skin diseases, and one of the hardest to cure. This is because it is caused by a living germ or parasite, a fact perhaps not generally known. Therefore, any remedy, to be effective, must destroy that germ. That is why Zemo is so uniformly successful in this vexatious disease. It is made from a germ-killing vegetable, in combination with other ingredients employed for their soothing, healing, cooling and antiseptic qualities.

To relieve this burning, itching, smarting disease—to put out the fire—to kill the germs—to soothe and cleanse the tortured skin—use Zemo. If it does not do these things—if it does not heal and comfort you and make you thankful—come back and get your money. We mean this. It is our guarantee, pure and simple—to give back your money if it does not heal. Just that and nothing more. You have no excuse. You take no risk. Put out that fire! Price 50 cents and $1.00. Sold in this community only at our store. The Rexall Store, Huntley Bros. Co.

People Who Do Not Read Books.

There is a story of an educated man and an author who believed and maintained that "The Heart of Midlothian" was written by Gladstone. The literate man is astonished to find that people can be happy and refined, witty and wise, without books at all. * * * He should remember that Dickens rarely read anything except his own novels, that Millais never opened a book and that Prince Bismarck is said to have been chiefly happy with Vidocq. Books are not the measure of all things.—London Saturday Review.

PATIENT, HARD WORK.

Genius is genius. But unless it goes in double harness with hard work it seldom gets anywhere. Dickens remarked once at the height of his fame, "My imagination would never have served me as it has but for the habit of patient, daily, toiling, drudging attention."

REPUBLICANS DO NOT FEAR ROOSEVELT

By Chas. F. Scott. Special Correspondence

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 26.—One of the most difficult situations that confronted the Republican managers at the beginning of the campaign arose out of the feeling on the part of many Republicans that there was really danger of election of Roosevelt and that the only sure way to defeat him was to join the Democrats and vote for Wilson. "The most important duty of any American citizen," these men declared "is absolutely to eliminate Theodore Roosevelt from the American politics by defeating him so badly that he can never again become a political factor."

And just as that feeling constituted the most difficult problem at the beginning of the campaign, so now the most encouraging aspect of the situation is the return of those who entertained such sentiment to the ranks where they belong. Their return has been due, not only to the collapse of the Third Term campaign, but to the realization of the fact that if by reason of Republican support of Wilson it should happen that Roosevelt were given the second place in the election returns, instead of being eliminated as a political factor in the future he would loom larger than ever, with the practical certainty of being the leader of whatever party may carry the radical banner in the next campaign. It is perfectly certain elimination of Roosevelt is to be accomplished through the re-election of President Taft.

This is so clear that Democrats as well as Republicans are now using it as a reason for their support of Taft, and the Republican campaign is feeling the stimulus which comes from this reinforcement.

But the thing which is stimulating the Republican campaign more than anything else is the rapidly growing sentiment in business circles against a change either in policy or in administration.

It is recalled that when President Taft entered the White House three and a half years ago the business of the country was depressed and discouraged, with thousands of men idle and with capital shrinking from investment; and it is noted that from the very beginning of the Taft administration the tide of business activity has been rising until it is now at full flood. Just how full the flood is, had striking evidence here in Chicago this week when the Tribune, which is not supporting President Taft, published an editorial article boasting that the preceding day's issue of that paper, containing thirty columns of "help wants" advertisements showing a brisk demand for labor of every sort, trained and untrained, men and women, old and young.
