IS BIG SUCCESS

The hallowe'en social given by the Wednesday evening at the church, was one of the most enjoyable affairs ever given in the church parlors and was attended by about 125 young peo-ple, members of the church, including members of the Junior Society. Mrs. Charles Oglesby, who had charge of the entertuinment, was assisted by Miss Eschol Armstrong, wro arranged the program, consisting of vocal and AMONG THE CHURCHES instrumental music, every number re ceiving hearty applause.

The early part of the evening, as the guests arrived dressed in fancy and grotesque costumes was taken up with guessing the maskers' names, and those guessing the most were awarded the prizes. They were Veda Lynch, Gladys Cannon and Naomi Armstrong, Miss Eschol Armstrons was awarded the prize for the best sustained character, she representing an Indian girl, while Frank Milliken was awarded the consolation prize, he being dressed up as a tramp and arrying out his part to perfection. Many pretty costumes were in evi-
