Did We Build Panama Canal For Benefit of Other Countries?

By CHARLES H. SHERRILL, Former Minister to Argentina. SUPPOSE for a moment that war should break out between England and Germany. What manufacturer in the United States would trust his goods on a ship of either nation? Seventy-five per cent of our trade is carried in English and German bottoms. The result of a war would be that our foreign trade, for which the American manufacturers have been working and which is increasing with gratifying rapidity, would RECEIVE A SHOCK UNPARALLELED IN ITS HISTORY. Your goods would remain upon our docks, and the effect of this sudden check upon our manufactures would be felt not only by the manufacturers, but in the farthest corner of our country and in the most remote farmhouse. In the beginning of our republic our wise forefathers lent to our merchant marine such legislative assistance as ENABLED US TO BUILD UP SUCH A FLEET AS NOT ONLY TO BE AMONG THE LEADERS UPON THE HIGH SEAS, but also when there came the clouds of battle to win for us the war of 1812. So successful did our seamen become that no less a man than James Buchanan stated in Washington that governmental assistance was no longer necessary to retain our supremacy upon the high seas. As soon as this governmental assistance was withdrawn our supremacy began to slip away from us. TODAY WE ARE THE LAUGHINGSTOCK OF THE WORLD, BECAUSE AFTER BUILDING THE PANAMA CANAL AT A COST OF HUNDREDS OF MILLIONS OF DOLLARS WE ARE LISTENING TO THE SOPHISTRY OF THOSE WHO WOULD DEPRIVE US OF ANY RETURN FROM OUR ENTERPRISE. I KNOW THAT IN EUROPE STATESMEN AND MERCHANTS ARE AMUSED AT THE SPECTACLE OF THE UNITED STATES BUILDING A CANAL FOR THEIR BENEFIT.

The Princeton Tigers wear a large smile today.

Three victories for the Democrats since 1856. The Republican Party had to be divided to lose.

Woodrow Wilson may thank Theodore Roosevelt for his elevation to the presidency. Incidentally William J. Bryan has a thank or two coming from the successful Democratic nominee. Bryan is in the position of the man who could not be king, but was a king maker.

Fur Farming by Uncle Sam.

The Department of Agriculture at Washington is said to add another to its long list of activities. It is about to start a great reservation in Idaho for the purpose of raising fur-bearing animals for profit. That is an excellent place in which to begin the experiment. Idaho has an abundance of room—more room than people—and a remnant of a few of the more important fur-producing animals are still in its wild spaces. It has an average of only four inhabitants to the square mile.

This will not be altogether an experiment, for there are a few private fur farms in the wilds of the United States and Canada. Uncle Sam's however will be on a far larger scale than any of these, and will be conducted on scientific lines. In some of the private inclosures not only are mink and marten raised, but foxes of all varieties, which are far more difficult of cultivation, are produced. For years fox raising was a failure, but methods have been evolved by which it can be carried on successfully. The skins of foxes of the black and silver breeds bring from $300 to $2000 a pelt, which means a large profit to the producer who is able to raise any amount of them. The government is to start with mink and marten, both of which are moderately plentiful in some parts of Idaho in a wild state, and it gradually extend its "plant" until it covers beaver, fox and the other more valuable kinds of animals. As the demand for furs is increasing far faster than the population, while the supply of the more valuable sorts is declining, the government's aim in its Idaho enterprise is to prevent the supply from dying out, and also, by scientific cultivation, to give "points" to private producers which will enable them to enlarge their field of operations. The quantity of furs which reach the markets of the United States every year is increasing, but this means the least valuable of them—the muskrat, the skunk and other sorts of furs which are found comparatively near the centers of population.

WOODROW WILSON.

The Morning and Weekly Enterprise advocated the election of William Howard Taft because they believed he had made a good president, and, if returned to the White House for four more years, would be of even greater service. We still believe Mr. Taft deserved to wear the toga for a second term, but the people have spoken at the polls, and Mr. Taft has gone down in defeat. Woodrow Wilson is the choice of the electorate of the United States, and the Enterprise has not a word to say against him. In fact this paper has always respected Mr. Wilson's ability, commended his achievements and honored him as a man. We congratulate Mr. Wilson upon his election to the highest office in the gift of the people, and wish him a successful administration. If the Democrats had to win the country is fortunate that they named as their standard-bearer a man of such fine attainments and such superlative abilities as Governor Wilson.

Mr. Taft's service to his country will be more appreciated in years to come than it was at the polls Tuesday.

JIM SAVAGE A WONDER ONE NIGHT; QUILTS THE NEXT.

Jim Savage, a heavyweight pugilist, who works out of Orange, N. J., submitted proof recently that all fighters who bandy gloves are not game. Savage quit to Gunboat Smith at a New York club in three rounds. A few weeks previous he had knocked out Tom Kennedy in a fight that showed Savage as a master boxer and a wonder of a fighter. Occasionally Savage displays wonderful form. Other times he will seek a soft spot on the slightest provocation. Sailor Burke and Frank Moran are of the same type as Savage, only they cannot fight as well as Savage when the latter is on a good streak.

BIG CUE TOURNEY NOV. 11.

Much Money Will Be Hung Up For 182 Bunk Line Masters. Announcement has been made that the tournament to revive the world's billiard championship at 18.2 will start Nov. 11 in New York. Each player must pay an entrance fee of $250. In addition to the championship trophy there will be $3,000 in prize money, to which will be added the entrance fee and the net gate receipts. The winner will receive 40 per cent of this total and the next three contestants will receive, respectively, 30, 20 and 10 per cent. All ties must be played off. Each game will consist of 500 points, subject to the playing rules at present governing this style of game. The winner of the emblem will be required to defend the title subject to the rules governing the championship. Hoppe, Morningstar, Sutton, Cline, Demarest, Slosson and Cutler are probable entries from this country, and it is hoped that Cassagnol, the French player, will compete. Yamada, a Japanese player, also may enter. There is also a possibility that Clarence Jackson of Chicago may try for the title. This protegee of the veteran Thomas Foley has rounded into a great player since he left the amateurs some years since.

Weather Forecasting.

Temperature is but one of the elements of the weather. Considered by itself its evidence is valueless. The chief factor in forecasting impending conditions of weather is the pressure of the air as recorded by the barometer. To this prime record the reading of the thermometer and the condition of the wind are contributory, but always secondary. As the winds fall from all directions into the trough of low barometric pressure the temperature tends to fall, when the center of the low passes south of the observation point, and to rise when the low passes northward and thus admits the air from the warmer south.—New York Sun.

Prussia's Forests.

Timber from forests belonging to the Prussian state brings in an annual revenue of $30,000,000.

A Clincher.

The Youth—Sir, I came to ask your consent to my marriage with your daughter. The Old Man—Is your income sufficient to support a wife? The Youth—It is, and, in addition to that, it is sufficient to enable me to stand an occasional touch from my wife's father. The Old Man—Say no more, young man. She's yours. Bless you, my son.

John Schrank, the Man Who Shot Theodore Roosevelt

Copyright, 1912, by American Press Association.

THIS is John Schrank, the man who shot ex-President Theodore Roosevelt, photographed shortly after his arrest at Milwaukee. He said he was born in Bavaria thirty-six years ago and had lived in America twenty-five years, being most of that time in the liquor business in New York. He claimed he was informed in a dream by President McKinley that Colonel Roosevelt was McKinley's real assassin. He also asserted he shot Roosevelt because the colonel was called the "third turner," and he didn't want Roosevelt elected again. The man was apparently crazy over politics. He is held under heavy bail for trial in December.

Helping Him On.

Mr. Timid—I—er—suppose your daughter has told you the—er—object of my—er—visit to you—er—this evening? Her Father—Yes, young man, and she told it better than you seem able to do.

Rev. E. A. Smith will conduct services at Willamette tonight.

The subject will be "A Business Man's Look." "Everybody's Meed" service at 7:30. All welcome.

When rough, high-proof, strong whiskey begins to tell on you—when your nerves and stomach commence "calling for help"—try a little Cyrus Noble. It is mild in character—aged in wood in charred barrels—blended and re-aged in steam-heated warehouses. This gives it that palatable, enjoyable flavor peculiar to its mellowness—its richness.

GO. "Well, he's posted up the last letter this time, instead of the right on, hasn't he." "Thinks he can fool us, I suppose." "But we'll just wait around and see what he's got." "I'll bet it's something good."

COMMERCIAL CLUB TO PLANT FINGERLINGS

The Board of Governors of the Commercial Club have accepted 150 gallons of trout fry from the government. The Committee on planting fish, composed of R. L. Holman, H. E. Draper and J. E. Hedges, were instructed to see that the fish were liberated to the best advantage. It is expected that the fingerlings will arrive in a few days. B. T. McBain was appointed a committee of one to act with committees of other commercial clubs of the Willamette Valley to try to obtain a six foot channel from Oregon City to Eugene. Major McIndoe has suggested that collapsible dams instead of dredges be used. The committees will meet in Albany. M. D. Latourette was appointed a committee of one to cooperate with the Clackamas County Automobile Club to try to obtain better roads on the East Side between this city and Portland.
