What Writers For the Press Should Know By CHARLES R. MILLER, Newspaper Writer and Lecturer

EDITORIAL writing for which PREPARATION IS MADE ONLY BY READING NEWSPAPERS is pretty certain to be without background and in such cases the guidance of fixed principle is too often lacking. THE PURPOSE OF AN EDITORIAL ARTICLE IS INSTRUCTION, ADMONITION AND ADVICE—THEY SHOULD BE GIVEN WITH AUTHORITY, AS BY AN EXPERT—AND A NEWSPAPER WRITER SHOULD STRIVE DILIGENTLY TO QUALIFY AS AN EXPERT UPON A WIDE VARIETY OF TOPICS. AN EDITORIAL WRITER SHOULD READ MUCH, TALK MUCH, THINK MUCH, TRAVEL WHEN HE CAN. CONVERSATION WITH THOSE WHO KNOW A GOOD DEAL MORE ABOUT THE SUBJECTS TALKED OF THAN HIMSELF IS NOTABLY PROFITABLE. It is vital that writers for the press should have such A GENERAL KNOWLEDGE OF LAW and legal principles as a layman can attain to. Since the law relating to trusts is likely for many years to come to be a frequent subject for editorial writing, it would be a first rate preparation for a student to make a careful comparison of Justice Peckham's construction of the anti-trust law sixteen years ago with Chief Justice White's opinion in the oil and tobacco cases. INTERNATIONAL LAW, TOO, SHOULD BE STUDIED DILIGENTLY.

TOOZE AGAIN HONORED BY SUNDAY SCHOOLS

One of the most successful meetings in its history was held by the Clackamas County Sunday School Association at Canby Thursday and Friday. The meeting was largely attended and enthusiasm was at a high pitch. F. J. Tooze was re-elected president, and O. W. Boring was re-elected secretary. Mrs. W. A. White was elected vice-president and Hon. H. E. Cross was elected chairman of the department of good citizenship. The discussions were interesting and the women of Canby served dinner both days. The dinners were excellent and the delegates wish to thank those who donated them. The program was as follows: Thursday—Morning session, Rev. C. L. Cressy, Canby; address of welcome, A. J. Burdette, Supt. Canby M. E. Sunday School; response, Fred J. Tooze, Pres. C. S. S. Association; address, Elementary Work in Clackamas Co., Miss Clara Ulrich. Afternoon session—song service, Rev. W. L. Wilson, Boring; address, "Work in the Secondary Division," address, Relation of Girls' Organizations to the Sunday School, Rev. G. N. Edwards, Oregon City; address, Relation of Boys' Organizations to the Sunday School, Rev. J. R. Landsborough, Oregon City; address, Relation of Superintendent to Teachers, Supt. H. E. Cross, Oregon City; address, Rural S. S. Problems in Clackamas County, Rev. E. A. Smith, Oregon City; address, Personal Work of the Teacher in the Community, C. F. Romig, Canby; roll call; response by delegates; appointment of committees. Evening session—Song and devotionals, Fred J. Tooze, Co. Pres., special music; address, The Task of the American Sunday School, Rev. J. D. Springston, state superintendent; address, Temperance, Mrs. Adkins. Friday, Morning Session—Praise service, Rev. Henry Speiss, Clackamas; ten minute talks by superintendents—Rewards, John Slevers, Gladstone; How Increase Attendance in Sunday School, W. L. Wilson, Boring; How to Raise Money in the Sunday School, H. C. Tozier, Oregon City; Missions in the S. S., C. H. Dye, Oregon City; Relation of the Superintendent to County and State Work, H. C. Nlrich, Mt. Scott; address, The Sunday School, the Nursery of the Church, Rev. T. B. Ford, Oregon City; address, Influence of Brotherhoods on the Sunday School, Rev. W. T. Milliken, Oregon City; ten minute talks, Relation of Teacher to Attendance, Mrs. D. N. Latourette, Astoria; Punctuality, Mrs. W. C. Green, Oregon City; Preparation of the Lesson, J. W. The Giant Squid.

One of the most terrifying creatures of the sea is the giant squid. It is claimed it will not hesitate to attack a boat if sufficiently angered. Many scientists hold that the giant squid is responsible for the sea serpent stories. This creature rises to the surface in deep water and propels itself with great rapidity just under the top of the waves. "This curious jerky motion, due to the ejection of water from its baglike body, makes what is seen of the creature seem very serpentine."

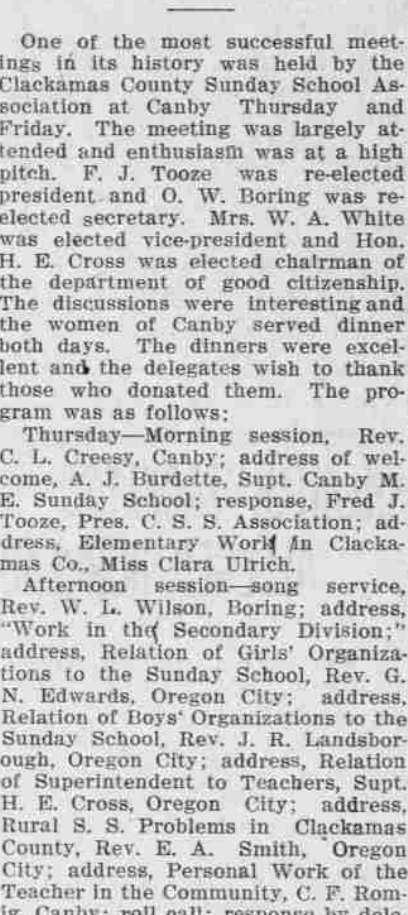

PRISONERS OF HOPE.

Humans are souls—struggling, more or less, to express themselves. Some souls live behind thicker walls and sit in greater darkness than others and struggle harder to get to the light and express themselves. The stronger the soul the greater the effort. There's the soul of Helen Keller. She became deaf and dumb and blind in infancy. The walls about her soul seemed so thick as to be impenetrable and her dwelling place so dark as to doom her to perpetual isolation and silence. She was a prisoner of hope. Struggling to be free, her soul found a way by which she could speak to the world. Following a tiny ray, she broke through to the light. Helen Keller was educated in the best sense—heart, brain and body. Learning to read, she was guided to the best in literature. Thinking along the higher lines, her sympathies were broadened. A mute, she gained the power of perfect speech—with what painful striving we may never know. Blind, she saw many things more clearly than we who have perfect eyes. Deaf, she has heard the pleadings of the unfortunate better than we who have perfect ears. And now this wonderful soul astounds the savants of the world by singing difficult music and by making an address in English, French and German, masterly in its plan for the unfortunate souls in prison. Soul of man or woman— If this woman, so hampered, could do so much, what cannot you do who have every perfect sense? Your soul is a prisoner of hope. And if it is strong enough to break through to the light no walls can prove a barrier. There are no limits it cannot set aside, no darkness it cannot escape. Though blind, it can learn to see. Though mute, it can break forth into song. Though deaf, it can hear all the harmonies of the universe. What do you want to do that is good? If you really want to do it, and try, you will. As with Helen Keller, it may take infinite patience and striving but— The time will come when you shall open the door of your prison house and break from your cell. Because— You are a prisoner of hope!

HIGH SCHOOL TEAM PLAYS CAMAS TODAY

The Oregon City High School Football team will play the fast Camas, Wash. team this afternoon at 2 o'clock on Canemah grounds. The High School team played the Camas team at Camas October 26, and was defeated 16 to 6. The local boys expect, however, to regain their lost laurels this afternoon. The team has been practicing every night this week and is in the pink of condition. The High School team will journey to The Dalles on Thanksgiving day and play the High School team of that city. The lineups for this afternoon's game will be as follows: Oregon City—Miss, R. E. L.; Dunger, R. T. L.; Quinn, R. G. L.; Gault, C.; Green, L. G. R.; Beatie, L. T. R.; Dambach, L. E. R.; Wilson, (Capt.) Q.; Rotter, R. H. L.; Cross, L. H. R.; Beatie, F. Camas—Harvington, R. E. L.; Prickett, R. T. L.; Stahl, R. G. L.; Moore, C.; Gustoff, L. G. R.; Normoyle, L. T. R.; Elliott, L. E. R.; Blake, Q.; Blair, R. H. L.; Powers, (Capt.) L. H. R.; Hall, F. Samuel Arnold will referee and Chris. Mickels will be head linesman. Her Simple Question. A young man took a young woman friend to a ball game for the first time, and in his superior knowledge he asked her after the first inning was over if there was anything about the game she would like to have explained. "Just one thing," said the sweet young thing—"I wish you would explain how that rheumatic bush league reliever in the box ever sets the ball over the plate without the aid of an express wagon." And in the silence that followed all that could be heard was the faint chugging of the young man's Adam's apple working feverishly up and down.—Boston Traveler. Coon Fur. Largest Ship In the World Under Unique Bulkhead Test

A UNIQUE test has just been carried out aboard the Emperor to determine the strength of her bulkheads under extreme conditions. The Emperor, which is the largest ship in the world, is receiving the finishing touches at Hamburg. The vessel is divided by numerous longitudinal and transverse bulkheads which reach to the second deck, high above the water line. To improve the strength of these steel walls several of the compartments have been completely filled with water. The water was then pumped out, the largest fire engine in Europe being used for this purpose. The accompanying illustration shows the Emperor as she appears today with the great fire engine being lifted to her deck. The engine seems to be about the size of a watch charm in comparison with the enormous bulk of the great liner. The test proved that the bulkheads could readily withstand any pressure exerted against them.

Heart to Heart Talks. By EDWIN A. NYE

Engagement Announcement. There were twelve girls in a neighborhood who had grown up together, and the first one to become engaged made the announcement in this way: Her elder sister wrote a brief history of her life on cards, one for each guest, which made eleven, placed each card in an envelope decorated with cupid and hearts and the name of the guest, so they served as place cards. But they were asked not to open the envelopes until after the dessert had been served. Of course this piqued the curiosity of all present and kept up a lively fire of conversation. Then the girl at the right of the hostess was asked to open and read her card, which told of a little girl and her first arrival in the village and her first day at school. The next gave another incident, and so on until the maiden was brought to her debut and her meeting with a certain man. The last card left off just right for the hostess to slip on her engagement sparkler, and so the announcement was made. Center piece was a loving cup filled with pink roses and forget-me-nots, which were divided among the guests, and the cup filled with claret cup or grape juice, and all drank a standing toast to the happy bride to be. This method is only practical where all know the bride well, and the fun depends upon the clever telling of the story, bringing out episodes with which all are familiar. Useful Little Article. A useful little article is a pocket flashlight. This is made on the order of the tungsten light and can be had in nickel or solid silver. It is contrived to slip into a man's pocket or a woman's bag so that in evening call a card could be read or a number seen or one's watch looked at on any such small emergency. It is about the size of a match box and the press button is of an artificial jewel, a ruby or turquoise, which adds to the general appearance of the article. In silver these cost $6 or $7 and are engraved; in nickel they can be had for $1 or $2. The tungsten lights are from about $1.50 up. Many people who live in a country house where there is no electricity use them to go up and down stairs in the dark or to have by their bedside so that they can see the time at night without striking a match. Wedding Presents. A charming idea that will be useful to those who know and wish to make offerings to the bride and bridegroom is to give them presents that match. A very popular young couple with many mutual friends received among their wedding presents recently two exceedingly neat and very smart short stick umbrellas for country wear, exactly alike save that one was just a little more attenuated in stature and bulk than the other.
