The Indian Is Held From Developing; He Must Get Fair Play

By ARTHUR C. PARKER, Secretary and Treasurer of the National Indian Conference

EVERY thoughtful student of human development believes that the INDIAN POSSESSES EVERY ABILITY AND CAPACITY FOR DEVELOPMENT and that he is capable of any attainment possible for men provided his environment is made normal. This postulates that the Indian is equal in inherent capacity and therefore NOT AN INFERIOR. Many mistakes and much misery have been produced by dogmatically asserting the contrary.

Hampered by a false environment and artificial social conditions, though necessary to restrain him, the Indian has found it DIFFICULT TO DEVELOP ALONG NORMAL LINES. The education, civilization and incentive came from without and not from within.

The INDIAN IS A CAPABLE, USEFUL AMERICAN when he is permitted to be. There can be little doubt that the majority of Americans desire justice and progress for the Indian.

Americans, as a rule, believe in FAIR PLAY. As the law stands this is now difficult to give. An uncertain and indetermined status makes it possible for dishonest interests to prey upon the Indian so affected. There has often been the lack of fair play and often no redress. The LAW BLOCKS THE WAY.

THE INDIAN HAS NEVER BEEN THE SUBJECT OF SEARCHING SOCIOLOGICAL STUDY. BASIC CAUSES FOR CONDITIONS HAVE NEVER BEEN STUDIED; HENCE THE "PROBLEM" THERE MUST BE A NEW BEGINNING. SCIENTIFIC SYSTEM MUST SUPPLANT DISORDER.

BEATIE AND HARDING ASK APPOINTMENTS

(Continued from page 1) to office here. Three of the important county offices—county judge, assessor and sheriff, are filled by Democrats. Mr. Harding has always been a staunch Democrat but never held a political office. He came to Oregon City several years before the civil war, and when President Lincoln made a call for troops, Mr. Harding was one of the first to offer his services. He is a member of Meade Post, Grand Army of the Republic, and has held about all the important offices in the post. Mr. Harding was one of the organizers of the electric light company which first manufactured electric light from power from the Willamette Falls. The company later passed into the control of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. He has always been one of the most progressive and public spirited citizens in the county, and aside from conducting his drug business, he is a director of the Bank of Oregon City, a leading member of the Commercial Club, a director of the Oregon City Schools, and is identified with several other organizations. He rendered valuable service to the Democracy of the county on various occasions by allowing the use of his name for office when the party candidates had no chance of winning. Mr. Cooke served two terms as sheriff and was a candidate for mayor two years ago. He has always supported the nominees of the party and has aided them in other ways. Mr. Cooke is connected with the hardware store of Wilson & Cooke. T. P. Randall, who is the present postmaster, probably will hold on for two years and a half when his term expires.

TELEGRAPH COMPANY PLANS INSURANCE OF EMPLOYEES

C. F. Butler, manager of the Western Union Telegraph Company's office in this city, has been notified by Theodore N. Vail, president of the company, of a provisional pension plan inaugurated by the company guaranteeing an income to faithful employees after having a certain term of service. An additional announcement also has been made that the company will not only give pensions to faithful employees but will provide sick benefits and accident insurance. Employees having relatives dependent upon them will be provided with life insurance.

4 Couples Get Licenses.

For Two Pins.

"My wife told me this morning that for two pins she'd kiss me." "How affectionate!" "No; merely crafty. She's after two diamond hatpins she saw in a jeweler's window yesterday."

If It Happened It Is in the Enterprise.

It happened it is in the Enterprise. Dickens' Gay Clothes. We were walking down Wellington street, Strand, and just passing the office of Household Words, when a handsome cab stopped, and out stepped a gayly dressed gentleman. His bright green waistcoat, vivid scarlet tie and pale lavender trousers would have been noticed by any one, but the size of the money in his buttonhole riveted my attention, for it was a regular flower garden. My father stopped and introduced me, and I, who had only seen engravings of the Macaire portrait and a very handsome head in my mother's photograph album, was astonished to find myself shaking hands with the great novelist, Charles Dickens.—From Miss Friswell's "Recollections."

No Wonder She Was Alarmed.

The news of the young woman's engagement had just been made public. She was in the little store one day when the clerk laughingly said, "Well, Miss Gertrude, I see it's coming off soon." "The young woman caught nervously at her clothing. "My goodness!" she said. "What?"

Habit.

Habit is what makes one hang on to chewing gum after the flavor is gone.—Atchison Globe.

What He Was.

"If you were fair," his wife said, "you would acknowledge that I have done much to make you what you are." "Oh, I acknowledge," he replied, "that you deserve nearly all the credit for making me what I am. By the way, do you happen to realize that what I am is held over heels in debt?"—Judge's Library.
