Nothing to it. "Green and Brown are having a terrible row down the street." "What seems to be the matter?" "I don't know, but they are calling each other 'thief and liar'." "Did you say Green and Brown?" "Yes." "I thought so. They are just having a friendly political discussion. Come on, let's go home."

SILK BLOUSE OF DARK BLUE

A design for a silk blouse to be worn with a tailored suit is shown in the sketch. The original of this was a dark blue messaline, the buttons covered with the same material and combined with ecru shadow lace. Becoming long lines and a vast effect were given by laying the material in two pleats over the shoulder with an inner box pleat running from shoulder to waist line, which outlined the vest. Below the yoke of lace, which was in surplice style and button trimmed, was a flat band of the material with three large messaline covered buttons and holding jabot of lace. The elbow sleeves were finished with turned-back cuffs of the material, below which showed a portion of the little lace cuff.

Protected Both Ways.

Two conservative ladies of old fashioned notions were traveling in the west and, becoming interested in a young girl on the train, finally asked why she was making so long a journey alone. They were greatly shocked at her little explanation: "Well, you see, my mother and step-father live at one end of the journey, and my father and stepmother live at the other. They send me to each other twice a year, so there isn't a bit of danger with four parents all on the lookout!"—New York Times.

HOMESTEADER WINS FIGHT WITH COUGARS

ESTACADA, Or., Nov. 12.—Attacked by a cougar in the mountains, 14 miles from here, Manny Hill, a homesteader, killed it after a brisk fight, during which he escaped injury. Hill with a bird dog was hunting grouse in a thicket near his cabin, when the cougar shot out of a tree, alighting on the dog. In passing the animal's claws struck Hill, knocking his hat off and slighting scratching him. The dog wriggled out of the way and the animal promptly rushed at Hill, but the 22 caliber bullet had wounded him and while he crouched for another leap, Hill shot the cat through the head, killing him instantly. Hearing a snarl, Hill whirled about to see another huge cougar leap out of a tree and retreat up the trail. Not caring to chance another shot with the small caliber rifle, Hill ran to his cabin, secured a heavier rifle, and returned to find the living cougar waiting near the dead mate. He killed the brute. Both cougars are large specimens. Their conduct is puzzling to old hunters, who have long asserted that a cougar avoids trouble, unless wounded.

MACCABEES GIVE LARGE BANQUET

Oregon City Tent of the Knights of the Maccabees listened to talks Tuesday evening by Deputy State Commander Samuin, Judge Grant B. Dimick and John Denison of Portland. Mr. Samuin lauded the local lodge on their rapid growth during the past few months and told the members that he would make arrangements for the Portland drill team from Tent No. 1, to put on the degree work at the next meeting of the local lodge. Nine new members were initiated at the meeting after which a banquet was given. At the next meeting which will be held the last Tuesday in November a large banquet will be given. The meeting was marked by its large attendance.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET.

The Woman's Missionary Society of the Baptist Church will meet at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the church parlors, and the society will begin the new study book, "China's New Day." All ladies of the church are invited to be present.

HOP MARKET QUIET; PRICES STEADY

Dealers today reported a fair movement in the hop market, though for the most part at prices slightly under those quoted a week ago. One of the best known local traders quoted 18 cents as the outside figure on the best hops now available in the state, admitting at the same time that holdings of grade were sent in the extreme, and quoted 12-12 to 15 cents on the next best grades. Buyers were said to be more disposed to take hold than was the case last week and growers at the same time were reported to be more inclined to sell.

In some quarters slightly higher prices were quoted, but the bulk of the trade now passing was admitted to be at figures within the range of those given above. Producers having fair so good grade hops, however, are not rushing to the market. One of the reasons for the activity on the part of the buyers at this time is the advance in freight rates on shipments to the Atlantic seaboard that will go into effect November 20. The advance will amount to about $50 a car over the previous charge, and naturally is an item of importance to shippers. Buyers on the coast having consignments for delivery East now are loading and dispatching care to the extent of their ability, but are seriously hampered by the scarcity of cars.

Dealers are said to be averaging about 10 days' notice on cars ordered for the traffic eastward, the demand for cars for the movement of all sorts of agricultural products being so great that the railroad companies cannot supply the needed rolling stock on short notice. On consignments sent out now the advance in freight charges will be saved, and to effect this saving dealers are said to be rushing out shipments not yet sold, with a view to disposing of them while the cars are on their way east.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

Money Goes For Everything But National Highways

By Heber MacDonald and Louis W. Gay, New York City, N. Y., in "Better Roads". This story shows the Millions of Public Money voted for Everything but Good Roads in the States. To railroads (in public lands) $1,000,000,000 To rivers and harbors 592,295,900 To Panama Canal 400,000,000 To public buildings 213,376,000 To Mississippi River levees 16,582,900 To roads in Porto Rico, Alaska, Canal zone and Philippines 8,300,000 To roads in the States. Not a d—cent Over two million miles of county roads in the United States, of which less than eight per cent are improved. Transportation tax is $53.37 per capita. Present tariff tax is $18.13 per capita. Good roads in one year would save this country $500,000,000 or a hundred million more than the cost of the Panama Canal. That it costs a farmer more to haul a bushel of wheat nine miles over unimproved county roads than to ship it from New York to Liverpool—a distance of 3100 miles. That good roads would add $5 to $10 per acre to farm land values. That good roads would add four and one-quarter billion dollars to our national wealth. From Western Motor Record, Oct. 22, 12.

The Ancient Egyptian.

The question, "Of what race were the ancient Egyptians?" has never been satisfactorily disposed of, but we may be sure that they were not negroes. They were not black, nor was their hair "kinky"—therefore they belonged to some other than the negro race. They certainly were not Caucasians, nor were they of the Mongolian or yellow breed of men. The builders of the pyramids were probably of Arabic stock or of stock in which Arabic predominated, although, as has been intimated, it is by no means settled as yet as to just where the old Egyptians are to be placed in the human scale.—New York American.

ENDURANCE.

"What every man in the world is looking for is the sense of having the mastery over life. But I tell you, my boy, there is only one thing that really gives a man this coveted assurance. "And that is?" "Our power to endure. That's it. You are safe only when you can stand anything that can happen to you. Then, and then only, are you really safe. Endurance is the measure of a man."

Here---everywhere---in the frozen north---in the fever ridden swamps of the tropics they look to me for aid. To the invalid, the convalescent, the old, the infirm, I give real helpful service. A little of me goes a long way.

Green Rod RATS

What was you sayin' awhile ago, Bill, about 'sparin' the rod'?" "What you got it in for us kids for; wasn't you a kid once yourself?" "We get enough of the rod all right enough without you comin' along and boostin' for it."

Two Different Matters. "I cannot understand, sir, why you permit your daughter to sue me for breach of promise. You remember that you were bitterly opposed to our engagement because I wasn't good enough for her and would disgrace the family." "Young man, that was sentiment; this is business."

Pulverized Diamond. According to the Mohammedans of southern India, pulverized diamond is the least painful, the most active and the most certain of all poisons. According to "Wilke's History," the powder of diamonds is kept on hand (by the wealthy only presumably) as a last resource. But a belief in the poisonous character of the diamond also existed in Italy in the sixteenth century.
