CHANGE IN HIDE MARKET EXPECTED BY DEALERS

That the hide market is on the verge of a break is the bellef of some members of the trade, and this, they say, is liable to come within the next week or two. For some time no changes in quotations were announced, but dealers say that the prices being paid now are actually above the basis of the Eastern markets, and that trade with the tannery interests of the East as a consequence is far from satisfactory. The leather manufacturers have of course advanced quotations on their product, and they are doing their ut-most to keep the leather market in a satisfactory position, but the fact re-mains, hide dealers declare, that in the upward swing of the past few months leather has not kept pace with the hides. For that reason it is believed that hide values will have to give way to some extent.

As yet, however, the future of the hide market is a matter of uncertainty, and there seems to be a more or less unsettled feeling all along the line. As a consequence of this air of uncertainty dealers are not taking hold with the freedom of a month or two ago, and with certainty that offgrade products will figure largely in the trade for several months to come they incline to the belief that a reaction is due within the near future.

RAILROAD OFFERS HANDSOME TROPHY

Perhaps nothing has occurred in re cent years to show the changed attitude toward the public than the interest railroads are now showing in the Northwest Land Products Show. It is to be held at Portland, November 18 to 23, and the railroads are not only offering expensive cups as prizes, aiding the show people carrying exhibits, placing booths of their own in charge of experts, but now comes the Harriman Lines in Oregon with a half holiday for all clerks in the general offices and free tickets for the employees and their families to attend the show on the afternoon of the 20. Everybody admits that the millennium may be close at

And those 1200 clerks are going to celebrate properly. One of them owns a cow and another has made affidavit that he got three potatoes out of one hill in his garden this fall. But they are going to have a parade from the Wells-Fargo biulding in Portland the land show on the East They will have a band a double quartette, floats, character impersonations, 50 wheelbar rows loaded with take vegetables and a few other stunts that will be of in-

It all goes to show that the Harriman people, consisting of the S. P. and the O. W. R. & N. and the P. E. & E., are alive to the fact that the farmer must be encouraged and that the people generally must be taught something about the land. The educational value of the Land Products Show will be of great importance and a study of it will be of benefit to even 1200 railroad clerks.

BITHULITHIC AREA STILL GROW-ING

Another Progressive City Falls in Line and Secures High-Grade

An increased area of Bithulic paving, or a new award where it has not been used has come to be recognized throughout the north-west as a sign of progress and prosperity. It indicates that the citizens and taxpayers are wide-awake and alive to their interests and to the welfare of their home city, and want a high-grade, ec onomical paving that will stand the strain of hard traffic, and require the minimum expenditure for repairs. The recent award at Wilkinson, Wash., has placed that City in the long line of Bithulitic boosters, and general satisfaction is expressed be cause of the selection made by the city authorities; the award was made only after a close investigation of the merits or various kinds of paving proposed, and at the earnest solici-

CANADA HAS ICE HOCKEY WAR

Magnates Wage Fight to Gorral Noted Rink Stars.

Easterners Angry Because of Western ship 2 So., Range 2 east; $10.00. Invaders' Raids-Pacific Coast Men Have Plenty of Money With Which to Pay Big Salaries.

In Canada they are having quite a little war in the fight to secure the talented puck chasers. In opposition to the National Hockey association another league has been formed on the stars. The Patrick-brothers, who are Add.; $10.00. at the hend of the Pacific Const Hock. ey league, are now said to be raiding the eastern part of Canada, offering the stars big inducements to go west Clackamas Title Co., lots 18 and 19 and display their skill in that organiza-

ent, but now that another big profes. Township 3 So., Range 3 East; $1.00. sional league is in the field some doings are likely to culminate before the season opens. Many players already signed up with clubs affiliated with the old league, it is said, may jump to the coast if the inducements are large enough. The Patrick brothers have the field to themselves on the coast and it is reported that they have a lot of money to spend to get the more prominent players in their league. The magnates who own and operate rinks where National Hockey association games are played are said to be in a panic over the Patrick brothers' raiding. The Wanderers already have lost four of their best men, these having been won over by the Pacific coast promoters.

On account of this fuss, it is said. there is very little chance of a national governing body being formed this year to control all bockey in Canada. President T. Emmet Quinn of the National Hockey association was working to this end, but is said to have given up the job since President Lichtenhein and the Patricks have severed relations. Lichtenhein, who controls the Wanderers, declares that he will get back all the players the Patricks have taken away from him. He declared recently that he has offered the players big sums and feels sure that they will not turn him down.

The Pacific coast magnates have one great point in their favor, that of owning their own rinks. It is necessary to have hockey to keep these rinks in operation, and when there is a million dollars in assets at stake it will be shredded fodder to the stock-if you readily seen that Sammy Lichtenhein have never done so you will be pleased | cannot make a great impression upon with results, especially with the fine | the coast league with all his threats.

> RUGBY STRONG IN AUSTRALIA. Over 3,865 Players Are Under Supervision of Sydney Officials.

T. J. Richards, vice captain of the Australian team now playing against college and club teams on the Pacitic coast, says regarding Rugby union football in his country: "The season opens in May and closes in September, and 2,325 schoolboys take part in the various grades of competition, one grade of boys having their weight limited to ninety-eight pounds. There also are 1,540 men playing in competition. The winners of each grade receive at the end of the season a permanent pennant. Ten teams comprise the first grade section. Of the above players 3,865 in all are under the direct supervision of the metropolitan union of Sydney, a city with a population of 600,000,"

National Indoor A. A. U. Championship The national indoor championships of the Amateur Athletic union will be held in Madison Square Garden, New York, March 6. One night will be consumed to decide the titles. Heretofore two nights were necessary. The junior Luck is a good enough thing to trust championships have been eliminated

SIXTY-SEVEN YEARS YOUNG. Sarah Bernhardt, the changeless, tireless "eternal child," will make another tour of the country

And she past sixty-seven! Bernhardt was born in 1845 and was already distinguished during our civil war. Her son. Maurice, now a grandfather, was born in 1865. Half a decade ago Bernhardt was a great grandmother

Nevertheless They say her marvelous golden voice is strong as ever and her tremendons energy knows no abatement.

A recent writer says that in her sea girt home in France she appears to be a bright, active, beaming laughing woman of thirty, with the grace and health of a colt.

No grandmotherly raiment for her. When Bernhardt goes hunting she wears short flannel skirts and jaunty jacket She runs wild with a troop of dogs at her bee's, a gun over her shoulder. She whistles and sings and dances in sheer high spirits and is the youngest of the crowd.

Her endurance is marvelous. Last year she traveled 25,000 miles in this country, played 285 dates and received $802,000.

It was almost worth the price as an object lesson in courage, energy and concentration. Bernhardt herself is greater than any drama she plays. How does she do it?

No mere man may know how she has nastered the details of the toilet and bodily bygiene, so well known to Frenchwoman, by which she retains her youthful appearance. However-

It easily may be said that first of all s this woman's dominant will power. She is a living example of the power of mind over matter Having willed to remain young she executes her will. Thoughts, if you know how to use hem, are things! Moreover She keeps young by constant touch dways has young people about her She understands them, forbears them, loves them And so she stands A living epistle of youth And this is her doctrine: Will to be coming Think the thoughts of youth and sympathy with young persons She Associate with youth. Refuse to be old. Will to be young in body and in
