CHURCHES URGED TO WORK TOGETHER

he ran too fast to get there. The present race may prove an exception". Dr. Ford said that from one point of view there were too many churches in Oregon City, as had been charged by the speaker in the Open Forum of the Methodist Church. There is no way to get rid of any of them, however, he asserted. The Baptists wouldn't suit, and the people did not want them to. The Methodists wouldn't quit and the people did not want them to. The Episcopalians wouldn't quit and the people did not want them to, and it was so with all denominations.

"It is not what we think of the number", said Dr. Ford, "but it is the time element that will work out results that we should consider. I am a firm believer in denominationalism. I believe in churchmanship as I do in christianity. But I believe that all churches put together are larger than one church. I believe there are thousands of men and women who are not identified with any church who are good christians. What we need is the adoption of the principle of cooperation. With a united program, backed by the men and women of the churches, we can do what we please. The trouble is we do not work together. The federation started in this city will enable us to have a common program."

Dr. Ford said there were enough laws and if the officers elected by the people knew they had the churches united behind them they would accomplish more.

"The trouble is", continued Dr. Ford, "we let the lawless, whose business is lawlessness, control. If we don't hang together as christian citizens in this city, we'll hang together without doubt."

Gilbert L. Hedges, who was elected a member of the brotherhood, made a strong address, his theme being "International Patriotism". He said the time would come when not only churches would preach international patriotism, but it would be urged in all literature. He pleaded for the brotherhood of men, and said it would come, and then wars would be abolished. The Hague Tribunal, he thought, might accomplish better results if it could appeal to the individual more instead of entirely to the nations. Mr. Hedges welcomed a union of the churches for a betterment of civic, state and national conditions, and said the churches would do the larger part in bringing about international patriotism.

Interesting talks were made by L. Adams, C. S. Noble, James Roake and other members of the brotherhood.

Dictionary of Terms.
Rockefeller can write a few words on a piece of paper and make it worth $50,000. That's capital.

The United States can take an ounce and a quarter of gold, stamp an "eagle" on it and make it worth $20. That's money.

A mechanic can take material worth $5 and make watch springs worth $1,000. That's skill.

A woman can purchase a hat for $3, but prefers one which costs $30. That's foolishness.

A ditch digger works ten hours a day and handles several tons of dirt for $1.25. That's labor.—Power and Efficiency.

Modish, yet Very Simple. The cutaway coat is really not a style suitable for the very young girl, but the natty little costume pictured is an exception to this sartorial rule. English worsted in brown and green mixture is the fabric used, and the cutaway effect is very chic on a slender young girl who carries herself gracefully.

The skirt is, of course, short enough to show the natty buttoned walking boots of black patent leather with dull kid uppers.

The Grits Ball.
No, you don't dance it. Neither do you throw it. Rather it is designed to eat. The shell is made of aluminum. The round perforations admit the steam.

One cup of grits or rice is held in it. The grits ball opens on a hinge just as does a tea ball.

Swatted. Proprietor—Here we are waiting for the first feature of the program. Where's the human fly? Stage Manager—He's sent word he can't come, sir. His wife's been swatting him.—Baltimore American.

Wanted to Keep Them.
"You seem to like his attentions. Why don't you marry him?"
"Because I like his attentions."

LIBRARY OFFICERS MAKE REPORT

The report of the librarian is as follows:

To the directors of the Library Association of Oregon City: Accompanying this is the statistical report for the year 1911-1912, also the report which Miss Steinebaugh left, which will complete the records for the year.

Since taking up the duties of librarian on October 18, 1912, there have been registered 60 new members and a slight increase in attendance has been noted. An inventory was taken of the books which circulate and postal cards sent to all borrowers who were delinquent. We feel that these missing books will be returned or replaced in a short time so will defer a report on this matter until a later date.

The lists of periodicals for 1913 and of books for purchase will soon be ready to submit to the book committee for approval.

Respectfully submitted,
FRANCES LOUISE HOLMES,
Librarian.

UNION SERVICES TO BE HELD THIS EVENING

In connection with the Home Mission Week in Oregon City, a union meeting will be held this evening at the Baptist church. City problems will be discussed. Rev. J. R. Landsborough will speak on "The Church and the Workingman". Hon. B. Lee Pagett, recent candidate for United States Senator on the Prohibition ticket, will speak on "The City and the Saloon". Rev. George Nelson Edwards has chosen as his topic "What the United Moral Forces of the City Can Accomplish". The meetings held heretofore this week have been largely attended and a large crowd is expected this evening.

HELPFULNESS.
There is contagion in a sweet and beautiful character, for health is contagious as well as disease. We are all the time giving to others either wholesome or unwholesome moods—poisoning their atmosphere with doubt and suspicion or clearing it with helpfulness and good cheer.

Different Opinions.
"There's a sad case," said Mrs. Jones as she laid the paper on her knees and wiped her spectacles. "A bride struck dumb after leaving the altar, and by last accounts she hadn't recovered her speech."
"It's the way of the world, my dear," said old Mr. Jones, with a sigh. "It's the way of the world. Some men have all the luck."—London Opinion.

SIMPLICITY.
Only small souls assume exclusive airs. The more truly a man the more simple do we find him. Rarely do we come in contact with a person from whom we may not receive something if we meet him on the plane of a kindly human sympathy and with simplicity.

A Familiar Legend.
"I ought to have some legend connected with the place," said the landlord. "They bring trade, legends do. There needn't necessarily be any truth in them, you know."
"Stick to the legend that you are running a first class hotel," advised the guest. "That legend will catch a few greenbacks every year."—Louisville Courier-Journal.
