

WILL M'FARLAND REALLY QUIT?

Lightweight's Reasons For Retirement Not Convincing. SAYS HE HAS MADE HIS PILE.

But Even a Plutocrat May Yearn For More Money—The Call of the Ring May Bring Him Back—Mike Murphy About Through—Russ Ford.

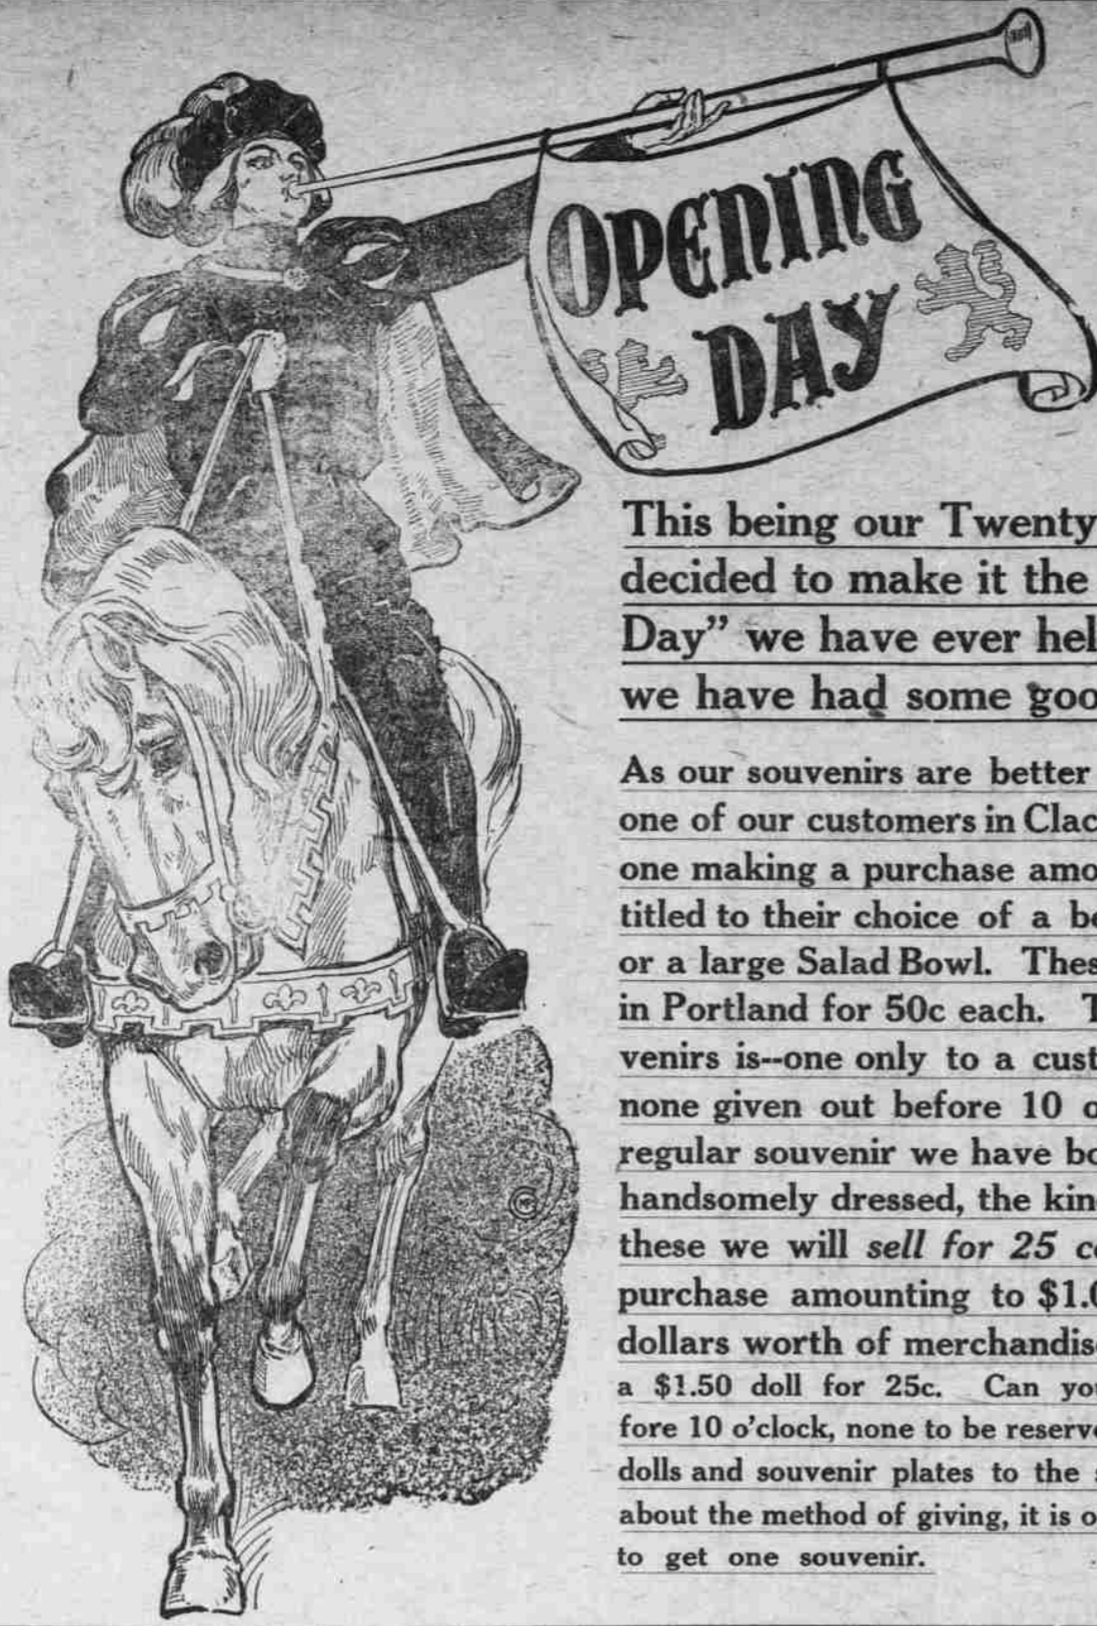

By TOMMY CLARK.

The reasons given by Packer McFarland, the Chicago lightweight, for his proposed retirement are not entirely convincing when judged by ordinary standards. McFarland states that he has all the money he wants—some $200,000—and finds training too much of a hardship. Few persons, be they pugilists or otherwise, are satisfied with the state of their bank accounts. As for training being a hardship, most healthy athletes find pleasure in keeping themselves in good condition. McFarland never has to work very hard to get in shape for a bout. He does not take on fat as some do and have to torture himself in order to remove it. A few days of light work in the gymnasium and a little road work render him fit for the hardest contest.

In a story written under his own signature McFarland states that a boxer must often go without water when drying out in order to reach a low notch. However, he can hardly apply this to his own case, as he seldom makes weight and never boxes at the lightweight limit. He can obtain all the matches he cares to take on without ever being compelled to reduce a pound, as he has no championship to defend.

It may be that McFarland is feeling a little discouraged by the prospect of at least one hard match that is inevitable if he wishes to retain his standing. He has always been a most careful matchmaker, not given to taking chances of any kind. But even if he does retire for a time there is small chance of its being permanent. He has just turned twenty-four years old and is still in his prime. It is always the case that a boxer once having occupied a prominent position in the public eye finds it next to impossible to drop out of sight with his own consent. The call of the ring is strong, and McFarland, like the others who tried to retire gracefully while still successful, will answer it as they have done unless he is made of entirely different clay.

Friends of Mike Murphy, the veteran trainer of the University of Pennsylvania, are much worried about his condition. It is said that a trip to some western resort, probably Denver, is the best thing for the man who has developed more athletes than any other individual. At first it was thought

Friday, Nov. 29th

This being our Twenty First Anniversary, we have decided to make it the biggest and best "Opening Day" we have ever held and we know you will say we have had some good ones.

As our souvenirs are better than ever before we want every one of our customers in Clackamas County to have one. Everyone making a purchase amounting to 50c or more will be entitled to their choice of a beautiful Plate, a Japanese Pitcher or a large Salad Bowl. These articles sell in the Japanese stores in Portland for 50c each. The only string we have to the souvenirs is—one only to a customer, none given to children and none given out before 10 o'clock A. M. In addition to our regular souvenir we have bought 150 "Big Beautiful Dolls" all handsomely dressed, the kind that sells for $1.50 each. And these we will sell for 25 cents to every customer making a purchase amounting to $1.00 or more. Just think of it! buy a dollars worth of merchandise, anything in our big store, and get a $1.50 doll for 25c. Can you beat it! No dolls to be given away before 10 o'clock, none to be reserved by telephone. Nor can we give both dolls and souvenir plates to the same customers. If we seem particular about the method of giving, it is only to make it possible for all our friends to get one souvenir.

Saving 25 to 35 per cent

BUYING for four stores as we do, we are able to get our Christmas goods of a big manufacturing concern selling exclusively to jobbers.

You would hardly believe how much we are able to save our customers by cutting out that big middleman's profit, 25 per cent. at least, and in many cases much more. Look over our big stock and see what it means to our many Holiday customers.

WE believe in taking our customers into our confidence and have been doing this for the past twenty years. We think the personal side of a business is of interest to the customers of a store and is worth telling about. One important event in our business affairs is the opening of a new drug store in Portland at Fourth and Washington Streets. This we expect to do very soon after our "opening day" in Oregon City. When you are in Portland and want to use the telephone, leave a package or in fact, if we can help you in any way don't hesitate to use us.

YOU do not need to buy a thing at our "opening" to be welcome. No one is expected to buy, unless they wish, but we do want you to come and hear the music. We have planned a specially good program from 2 to 5 o'clock and we promise you it will be worth while.

Meet your friends at Huntley's, Friday, November 29th—they will all be there.

AS USUAL, we mean to fix up a bit—make the store as attractive as possible—get out our Christmas stuff where you can see it if you wish, and have open house generally on this day. Will you come?

MIKE MURPHY, PENN'S VETERAN TRAINER, that California would be the best place for him, but Dr. White and other members of the university faculty suggested the higher and drier climate of Colorado. It is feared that Murphy will not be on hand to coach the Pennsylvania university track team next spring.

Probably no member of the pitching profession ever achieved such a dizzy career of ups and downs as that now exclusively possessed by Russ Ford, the New York American's star pitcher. In 1910 Ford led his league in victories with twenty-six wins against six defeats.

In 1911, with his club in sixth place, he was still around the top, with twenty-two wins against eleven defeats, tying Joe Wood's mark.

In 1912 Boston finished first and New York last. And while Wood led his league in wins with thirty-three victories Ford led in defeats with twenty-one upsets.

A Princely Gift.
Perhaps the most magnificent gift ever made by any individual to any nation was the presentation by Lady Wallace to the English nation of her husband's remarkable art collection in 1897. It contains over 600 pictures of every school, including thirteen by Sir Joshua Reynolds, furniture, china and objects of art innumerable, of a value between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. It was left absolutely to the nation, the only stipulation being that it should be kept distinct from other national collections.

A RIOT AT THE GRAND TWO DAYS

CHAS. E. COLBY & CO. AT THE GRAND THIS WEEK

One of the most laudable sketches that has ever appeared on the local stage is billed this week at The Grand Theater. It is the ventriloquial work of Chas. Colby, with a side issue of dancing b his colored assistant, "Willie" thrown in.

FIRE COMPANIES TO HAVE SAME MEETING ROOM.

Columbia Hook and Ladder Company and Fountain Hose Company will at a meeting this evening arrange for one meeting room in the future. The room will be nicely furnished and the companies will arrange several entertainments for this winter.

A small classified ad will rent that vacant room.

Colby is probably the finest ventriloquist in the business today. His control of the facial muscles is little short of marvelous. When he was in Australia in 1901-2 he was the most talked of man on the vaudeville stage. He is working the same now as the writer saw him there, with a lot of new business introduced. Colby is also known as the "actor surgeon," having qualified in that line and has lately operated in this vicinity.

Dance Will be Given Thanksgiving.

A large crowd is expected to attend the Thanksgiving dance which is to be given Thursday evening by D. E. "Jack" Frost and Henry Edwards. There is no counter attraction billed for the evening, it is reported that tickets are selling rapidly. Excellent music will be furnished for the occasion.

If you saw it in the Enterprise it's so.

MAN BREAKS LEG.

Edward Kiser, a young man, who was formerly employed in a localivery stable, fell Monday evening near Fifth and Main Streets and his leg was broken above the ankle. He was carried to a nearby store, after which Dr. Stewart was summoned and dressed the man's leg.

LOCAL BOXER WILL FIGHT ON THURSDAY

WEED, Cal., Nov. 25. (Special).—

Thanksgiving day will see the fight fans of Weed and vicinity entertained with what promises to be the best go of the season when Curly Forehan the Weed boy who claims to be the middleweight champion of the Pacific coast and Jack Lewis of Oregon City will meet in the opera house. The bout will be staged in the afternoon.

These two fighters represent the cream of the talent which matchmaker R. R. Cook of the Weed Athletic Club had at his command and as both boys have had a number of fast bouts to their credit, the fans expect to see a clever bout with plenty of fighting. The boys will fight at catch weights, but the boys will probably weight in the neighborhood of 140 pounds.

The training quarters are the center of attraction these days and after the initial work-out last night Lewis's admirers became evident everywhere. Forehan is well liked here and while but few of his backers have deserted him, fight day will find Lewis with a good many backers.

The battle is scheduled to go 20 rounds, and will begin after two preliminary bouts have been fought. Some bets are being made on even money.

MACCABEES PLAN BIG TIME.

The Knights of the Maccabees will have a "big time" Tuesday evening, their regular meeting night. Several new members will be initiated, the Portland Degree Team, No. 1 will be present and will use the Oregon City Lodge team's paraphernalia, which arrived from the East Monday. After the lodge business is disposed of, a banquet will be served and several prominent men of the lodge will speak.

but if not, the teacher should adopt the standards of the community. "Teachers should have a generous sympathy," continued Miss Curran, "for the interests of the community. A teacher's influence is greater in a community if she is well known."

Departmental instruction was given in the afternoon, County Superintendent Gary presiding over an educational conference of high school principals and teachers, "How to coordinate with the same instruction in the city schools" was discussed. The country schools have shorter terms and the teacher have more work making it more difficult for the one year high school pupil in the city. Alabama Brenton presided over the intermediate department, lecturing on "Figure Illustration."
