Doctors, Professors and Politics.

Genuine aristocracy is without false pretense and so is genuine democracy. And there are people, neither aristocrats nor democrats, living plain, simple, wholesome and unaffected lives. But in this country we have been producing, in later years, a sort of persons now numerous enough to be called a class, the type of which, unaffiliated with aristocracy by blood, or with democracy by sympathy which would be natural and becoming, makes vain pretense of ideals it insists should inspire the polemics of politics. In the late campaign the type of this class found opportunity of expression in horrified protest of calling Prof. Wilson a professor or Dr. Wilson a doctor. They insisted that he should be called governor, as if the title of governor were a higher title, conveying more of honor and rank, than either doctor or professor, or both doctor and professor. They have shown all of the servility of a worship of mere officialism, in their foolish attempts at posing. They have been all of them, as that one of our class who, in a Paris art emporium, on being told that the picture offered him was old, answered with contempt: "I want the newest thing you've got." Their antics offered no little amusement while the campaign progressed, but the post-election period brings us something more delicious than clash and clangor could yield. The Chicago Record-Herald, saying once more that "doctor" and "professor" were names applied to the now president-elect only by "cheaper and meaner partisans" hoping to raise distrust and suspicion among the hard-headed millions, rejoices that these nefarious attempts to make the people forget that he was governor, a blazonry to wipe out the old stains of doctor and professor at one stroke. And it rejoices with an even more exceeding great joy, that, in the great triumph of Gov. Wilson in practical politics, his earlier titles of "doctor" and "professor" shine now with reflected glory. "The election has effectually disposed of the fallacy that to call a candidate 'professor' or 'doctor' is to damn him with faint praise," it says.

Cooking Accounts.

The word cook, used in the sense of "cook up accounts," is generally put in quotation marks, but the phrase has been almost long enough in use to give it indisputable standing. Smollett wrote of "cooking accounts" in 1751, and proofs were "cooked" a century earlier, but somehow "cook" remains what the dictionaries sniff at as "colloquial" in this sense, while "concoct," which means to cook or boil together, has the status of a fully accepted word. The Romans used "concoquo" and the simple "coquo" alike in the metaphorical sense of pondering and devising, but the obvious metaphor of "cooking" accounts never occurred to them.

How Trees Are Balanced.

A tree grows in perfect balance on every side. When a large branch shoots out on one side one of equal size or two smaller appear on the other. The roots are balanced in the same way, a large branch on one side being matched by a large root. The center of gravity is thus always perfectly maintained.

World's Largest Pharmacy.

The largest pharmacy in the world is not to be found in this country, but in Moscow. It goes by the name of the "Old Nkoliska Pharmacy." for it was established more than two centuries ago. The present immense quarters were especially constructed for the business when it was acquired in 1833 by the father of the present manager.

NAVY TEAM LOOKS STRONG.

Coaches Now Pointing the Middies For Big Army Battle.

The Navy eleven is now being pointed for the Army game in Philadelphia, Nov. 30. Many changes have been made in the team. The back field has been rearranged, Leonard, the lightest man on the squad, but the cleverest end runner, being placed at halfback. Leonard weighs only 142 pounds, but he has much ability as a halfback and is the best punter on the squad. This fact is a strong argument in favor of placing him on the team, as the squad possesses no other punter who is better than mediocre.

Captain Rodes, who was out of the game with injuries, is again at quarterback, and he has been handling the team with excellent judgment, his presence appearing to steady the other players.

PENN STATE'S TWO STARS.

Miller and Very Helping Make Football History This Year.

Two players who do much toward making the Penn State football team the strong aggregation it is are Miller, the quarterback, and Very, the end. They are veterans, play beautifully together, and among other strong points of their playing is manual skill of a high degree in handling the pigskin.

The use of the forward pass is with them less of a hit or miss play than with most teams. Miller makes the pass accurately, and it is doubtful if there is another receiver of it as skillful as Very. The latter is versatile. He is fast at getting down the field, a strong player in scrimmage, and he also is efficient at carrying the ball from scrimmage.

Bedient Is Some Pitcher.

Hugh Bedient of Boston, who held the Giants to three hits in one game and stood in the breach for the Red Sox in that final struggle, struck out twenty-four men in a twenty-two inning game when a boy only eighteen years of age. The story comes from Pittsburgh that just before that he refused a dollar to pitch for a team, thinking his services worth $2 at least, but finally compromised for $1.50.

A Man's Career Is Not the Whole of Life

By President JOHN GRIER HIBBEN of Princeton University

A MAN'S career is NOT THE WHOLE OF LIFE. If this poor fraction is regarded as possessing an integral value there is a pitiful poverty even in the midst of abundant possessions. The fullness of any single life is dependent upon the LARGER LIFE ABOUT IT, which is capable of touching, absorbing and transmitting into its own vital power and energy. THE PROGRESS OF THE WORLD IS DUE NOT SO MUCH TO THE GREAT CAREERS OF GREAT MEN, BUT IN A VERY LARGE MEASURE TO THE EXCESS OF TIME AND THOUGHT AND ENERGY WHICH MANY MEN HAVE NOBLY GIVEN TO THE WORLD'S NEED AND THE WORLD'S DISTRESS. The untired efforts of tired men, the generous giving of the time on the part of those who have no time to spare, the devotion of the hours of rest to additional service, the UNREQUITED LABOR, THE INVESTMENT WHICH PAYS NO DIVIDEND—these are the factors which enter constructively into the world's progress and are the NOTE OF ITS SALVATION.
