EASY AND SURE WAY TO CURE COLDS

DON'T NEGLECT A COLD, ELY'S CREAM BALM WILL STOP IT IN THE SNEEZING STAGE

A cold generally attacks the weakest part, affecting the eyes and ears in some and producing nasal catarrh and throat trouble in others. A cold is due to an inflammation of the membrane lining the air passages, and may be promptly cured with a little Ely's Cream Balm, which immediately relieves the inflammation and all the distressing symptoms, such as sneezing, coughing, running at the nose and eyes, hoarseness, sore throat, fever, and headache. One reason why the pure, antiseptic Balm acts so quickly is because it is applied directly to the tender, sore surfaces.

Even in severe, chronic cases of catarrh, Ely's Cream Balm never fails to quickly and effectually check the poisonous discharge which clogs the head and throat, causing the disgusting hawking, spitting and blowing of the nose. This remedy not only drives out the disease, but heals and strengthens the weakened membranes, thus ending catarrh.

Catarrh is a filthy, disgusting disease. Don't put up with it another day. Get a 50 cent bottle of Ely's Cream Balm from your druggist and see how quickly you will be relieved. It is perfectly harmless.

UREN NO LONGER FELS' PAID AGENT

BOSTON, Dec. 2.—The Fels Fund Commission was in executive session here all day. At the conclusion, Mr. Fels said that the campaign in Oregon and Missouri would be continued with redoubled efforts, but Mr. U'ren would no longer be a paid agent of the commission. Dr. W. G. Eggleston continues with the commission as before.

The reason for the withdrawal of W. S. U'ren, Mr. Fels said, was his candidacy for Governor of Oregon. The founder of the Fels fund said that all Mr. U'ren and Dr. Eggleston had done in the late campaign was endorsed by the commission.

In one of the sessions of the meetings of the commission, a communication was read from Portland single taxers who were not pleased with the manner in which the campaign was managed there. Among those signing the letter were Henry Black, Horace Gregg and C. L. Goldberg, all of Portland. They said the campaign, instead of helping, had injured the cause and that single tax principles had been discredited.

After replying to the criticisms, Mr. U'ren told the conference that he would make his campaign for Governor of Oregon on a straight single tax platform.

The women voted by wards as follows: First ward 122, second ward 182; third ward 102.

M. D. Latourette, reelected Treasurer of Oregon City.

Mrs. Dora Blanchard, the first woman to vote in Oregon City, cast her ballot at the polls in the second ward promptly at 8 o'clock. She marked her ballot in less than two minutes and neatly folding it, presented it to the election officers. The women voted in far greater numbers than was expected and all but a few entered the booths without having asked for instructions. They began arriving at the polls early and the majority of them cast their ballots before noon. They were far more prompt in arriving at the voting places and were much more enthusiastic than the men. The "X's" made by them also were neater and made with greater care than those made by the members of the other sex.

Many amusing incidents are reported by the election officers. In the second ward eight parasols and seven umbrellas were left by members of the fair sex. A powder puff and a hand mirror also were found by the election officers in the booths. Parasols, umbrellas, hankkerchiefs and gloves were some of the articles left at the other voting places. In few instances did the women go to the polls alone. They were accompanied by their husbands, brothers or male friends. One man is reported to have escorted eight women at one time to

One bright little chap who escorted five fair voters to the polls said at the close of the election that he had enjoyed the work a great deal and was about fifty cents better off as a result.

"Gee but it was fun," said the lad. "But it was tough on me to see the women vote and be denied doing it myself. When the country becomes real civilized they will let us vote, and the little girls, too. Papa could show me how to vote just like he did mama and he could show Sis the same way."

Many of women voted contrary to the wishes of their husbands, brothers and sons.

"I started to tell my wife how I was going to vote," said a prominent lawyer, "but she cut me off."

 "I don't want to know how you are going to vote," she said. "You can't influence me. As I understand it, the ballot is a secret one and I shall vote as I please. The idea of you trying to tell me how to vote."
 "But my dear," I pleaded, "I did not want to influence you. I just wanted to tell what I was going to do, that was all."
 "You couldn't influence me if you wanted to in a matter of such importance as this," she answered, "and besides, I don't want to know anything about your election affairs. If you had your way we would never have been allowed to vote. I know you men."
 "There was nothing more for me to say," declared the lawyer.
