A WHITE HOPE.

Mobs are seeking novelties. Old-fashioned hanging bees are growing monotonous. Even the fiery stake is losing its charm through too frequent exhibition. It is not long since it was reported that a Georgia mob had tied a negro to a railway track to be run over by a train. A Florida mob on Thursday, took Preech Nelis, a negro into an open space. He was told to run, and when he ran, more than a hundred men opened fire on him. The Ocala dispatch naively says: "He was shot to pieces."

This, however, was not new, any more than burning at the stake is new. Burning was done by the Indians when in the savage state, but in the burning of the negro at Preech, Ok., the Chickasaw Indians, who are numerous thereabouts, refused to participate. A finer proof of the Indians' advancing civilization could not be offered than this evidence that he is now so far advanced that he refuses to revert, under strong temptation, to the barbarism of his forefathers. This leads not only to the hope, but to the confident belief, that the Indian would be equally strong to resist temptation to revert to that form of barbarism, popular with his ancestors, of releasing a prisoner, with a command to run, and then filling his body with arrows. It is many years since Indians were guilty of such barbarities.

They would still be barbarous, as to methods of execution, even after conviction of the most heinous crime. In the case of Preech Nelis, he had not been given so much as a preliminary examination. Charged with a double murder in the perpetration of an unspeakable crime, there can be no doubt that, even on nothing more than prima facie evidence, he would have been convicted and made to suffer the penalty of the Florida law.

In that impressive way to inspire both respect and terror in the criminally minded. But for the purpose of making a savage holiday, he was denied a trial, and made a victim of such inhumanity as always arouses hate, resentment and new crimes, instead of respect and dread. We trust that, in time, all of the whites of this country will be as well civilized as all of the Indians are now. No white man need despair of attaining civilization while he has the high example of the Indian before him.

RAILWAY TO DRIVE "GOLDEN SPIKE"

(Continued from page 1) Every effort will be made to bring a large crowd to Oregon City. Advertising and soliciting committees have been appointed, and a definite programme will be prepared and announced within a few days. The driving of the first spike in the Clackamas Southern marks an era in the progress of Clackamas County, as the road is strictly a "made in Clackamas" product and will tap a rich country that is now without adequate transportation facilities to bring its timber, lime and farm products to the markets.

COLLEGE BOY'S DAD WON'T PAY COAT BILL

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Sixty-five dollars is too much for a college boy to pay for an overcoat when his father is wearing a $20 one, and the New York Supreme Court has just declined to enforce payment by the father of a tailor's bill of this character. The suit was brought by a tailor in Middletown, Conn., against M. A. Bailey, of New York, whose son is a student at Wesleyan University. When the tailor sent his bill to Bailey, the father replied: "I acknowledge no responsibility for this account. My son needed an overcoat and I expected to purchase it for him at $20. The clothes I expected to purchase were of the grade that I purchase for myself, the grade is in harmony with his station in life."

CAROLINA GOVERNOR DEFENDS LYNCHING

RICHMOND, Va., Dec. 3.—In the name of the State of South Carolina, Governor Bleas served notice to the Governor's conference here today that lynchings of negro assaultants of white women in his state would go unpunished. Governor Bleas warmly defended his use of pardoning power as well as declaring that in 22 months he had pardoned or paroled approximately 400 persons and that he hoped, the number at the end of the second term would be 800. "I have said all over South Carolina and I say it again now," he declared, "that I will never order the militia to shoot down their neighbors and protect a black brute who commits the nameless crime against a white woman."

EASTERN EGG SHIPMENT CAUSES HIGHER PRICES

Portland commission men report as a general rule that the egg market is slow and that 40c is about all fresh Oregon stock will bring at this time. Some regard 42 1-2c the top, but others say that it is hard to move stock in any material quantity at better than 40c. Eastern eggs in the market are having considerable effect on the market, and the charge is made that some interests are boosting the price on Oregon eggs to create a market for the eastern product.

The cheese and butter markets remain steady with no indication of an immediate change. The poultry market continues steady. Receipts were light Tuesday and the market was pretty well cleaned up. Prices remain unchanged, however. It is said that ducks move quite freely, Indian runners bringing 11c to 12c and Pekins 13c to 14c. Quite a number of live turkeys were in the market and it is expected they will continue coming in till the holidays. A few dressed turkeys are still to be had, holdover stock from Thanksgiving and in good condition.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

- HIDES—(Buying), Green hides 7c to 8c; salters 9c to 10c; dry hides 15c to 16c; sheep pelts 4c to 5c each. EGGS—Oregon ranch eggs 40c case count. BUTTER—(Buying), Ordinary country butter 25c and 30c; fancy creamery 75c to 85c roll. Sweetheart of "Robin Adair."

"Robin Adair" was written by Lady Caroline Keppel, the daughter of the Earl of Albemarle. Robin was a real character, a young Irish doctor who had been forced by a scandalous adventure to leave Ireland and seek his fortune in England. Chance threw a rich patient in his way, a lady of quality, and at her house he met Lady Caroline, and the result was a case of love at first sight on both sides. Her parents objected and sent her away, and during her absence she produced the song.

Hoch der Kaiser, With and Without His Chin Whiskers!

Hoch der kaiser and his whiskers! Here you have the popular German emperor as he is and as he was. How do you like him, with or without? The kaiser himself leans toward a bare chin, though he is known to admire the uplift of the adornment on his upper lip. He tried the beard arrangement some time ago and was so little pleased with the result that he not only had the court barber apply his trusty blade, but ordered the photograph of his disfigure suppressed. This one leaked out, however, and so you have a chance, despite Kaiser Bill, to see how he looked with his despised and rejected but famous whiskers.

Light Restored. "There are many more women living than I used to think." "Is that so?" "Yes. Before I married I used to think my wife was the only woman in the world." If it happened it is in the Enterprise.

WAR THREATENING WHOLE OF EUROPE

LONDON, Dec. 3.—While Turkey and the Balkan allies hesitate on the brink of an armistice today with a growing probability that no agreement will be reached, London is far more gravely concerned over the increasing danger that Europe is to be involved in war over a division of the spoils to be taken from the sultan.

Sharp upon Chancellor von Bethmann-Hollweg's jingo speech in the German Reichstag, Austria, the kaiser's ally, is quoted as threatening that a division of her forces mobilized at Semlin, Hungary, will move at once into Serbia if, as is expected, Consul Edl reports that Serbian troops maltreated or insulted Austrians after the fall of Prizrend. This would mean war, and it is believed certain that Russia, which is reported to have 500,000 men ready in Poland, would attack Austria the moment an Austrian soldier crossed the Serbian border.

The injection of Roumania into the situation is also causing the gravest anxiety. The visit today of the crown prince of Roumania to Berlin and his expected interview tomorrow with the German foreign minister, are considered as a certain indication that the kaiser and his allies—Italy and Austria—have made plans to cover all eventualities. It is suspected that Roumania, if a European war seems unavoidable, will be cast in the role of aggressor against Bulgaria. Then, if Russia comes to the aid of her ally, Austria and Germany might take a hand in the struggle without openly incurring the onus of starting hostilities.

Greece's refusal to sign the peace protocol, which came today on definite instructions from Athens to the Greek envoy, is believed to have made the situation more serious. The refusal of the other Balkan states to act without Greece and the evident determination that they stand together, is admitted to have greatly strengthened Serbia's hand. It practically disposes of reports that friction existed between the little kingdoms which have broken Turkey's power in Europe, and makes it more probable that in a general convulsion Russia and Serbia could depend on their active support as against Germany, Austria, Italy and Roumania.

Adding to the serious aspect of the situation are reports of the gravely hostile attitude toward Serbia which prevails in Austria. The Budu Pest Diriar, a newspaper, demands that the king of Serbia be compelled to appear in full regalia before the Austrian legation at Belgrade and there publicly express regret for the alleged insults to Consul Prochaska at Prizrend, and make promises to punish the guilty.

Bits About the Baby. Nervousness may not be catalogued as a disease, but if it is not it certainly should be. The mother who is nervous will always have a nervous baby, and unless that baby is treated in the proper manner the nerves will develop most troublesome habits, to say the least.

Take, for instance, the case of a young mother who cannot sleep well. Her child will not sleep well either. He will not grow as much as he should nor in the way he should. His food will not agree with him, in the first place, and unless this trouble is corrected early in his life chronic indigestion will certainly be his inheritance.

The lack of sleep and poor assimilation of the food he takes will produce all sorts of ailments, undermine the health and arrest the natural development. If the mother does not nurse the baby—and it is better for the nervous, anemic mother not to attempt it—then the selection of a proper food is a great problem. Cow's milk modified with barley water is the best substitute for healthy breast milk, but sometimes the little stranger cannot take the cow's milk. Then the best thing to do is to consult the doctor and let him suggest whatever he may think is wise to use instead.

Seems So. "He's a brute." "How so?" "When she promised to be his wife he said he would do everything in his power to make her happy." "Well?" "He spends all of his time at the club!" "Well, if he is really a brute that ought to help some."—Houston Post.

The Golden Calf Is Again Worshipped

Money Now Our Creed All Judged by the Dollar Suffragist of New York By Mrs. O. H. P. BELMONT. © by American Press Association.

LET us not mince matters, but lay a firm hand on the evil of the day. Is it to be wondered at that there is discontent at one end of the seesaw of human society and ignorant light heartedness at the other? The church of God is no longer a lighthouse in the world. Its pulpit is no longer filled with men who find their inspiration in the Master's teachings. It has become a SEVENTH DAY HOUSE, WITH A SOCIAL ENTERTAINMENT provided by an eloquent man with eloquence satisfactory to the entertainment committee—i. e., the vestry. WE HAVE GONE BACK TO THE WORSHIP OF THE GOLDEN CALF. WE HAVE SET UP FALSE GODS. WE HAVE MADE THE STANDARD OF OUR LIVES THE GOLDEN DOLLAR OF THE MINT. Our morality is the morality of the dollar, our excellence as citizens is measured by the dollar, and our standard of cleverness is our ABILITY TO GET THE DOLLAR. Our people's place in the community is measured by the dollars they have, and our public schools educate our children to MEASURE SUCCESS BY THE DOLLARS THEY SHALL ACQUIRE. And when we die our importance is noted by the press by the dollars we leave behind us.
