MISTAKES BY WILSON.

In two instances Mr. Wilson has changed his points of view and practically confesses that he erred. As a writer on abstract political philosophy he condemned immigrants from South eastern Europe, ranking them below the Chinese as material for American adoption. As a candidate for the presidency he retracted this unfavorable opinion and substituted for it a eulogy that, under the circumstances, was unpleasantly fulsome. The people of Southeastern Europe are proving their manhood at this time with a clearness that no one can dispute. Those of their number who have come to this country are making remarkable sacrifices to aid in what they hold to be a patriotic cause. A native of Bulgaria, Servia, Montenegro, or Greece who returns from the United States to serve in the armies grappling with Turkey gives up his savings to share in the struggle. Mr. Wilson regrets that he once referred to them as a "coarse crew."

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE

SAYS WATER IS IMPURE.

OREGON CITY, Dec. 6.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—Once again Oregon City is having its annual epidemic of typhoid fever. Once again the same old cry "The water is absolutely pure." Did you ever watch a chip when thrown into a stream, how idly it floats, slowly down the bank, sometimes for miles, until all at once the current catches it and off it goes. The water of Oregon City's water supply is close to the shore. All the sewage from Canemah, (not half a mile distant) comes down along the shore. The only current is the constant suction of the intake pipe. This intake pipe should be run out to the current. On the hill is an open reservoir. When it rains very hard one can see dirty little streams of surface water running down the sides into the water.

Housekeeping Neglected Because Women Ape Men

By Mrs. ANNIE NATHAN MEYER, Founder of Barnard College

THE INFLUENCE OF THE RESTLESS, IMPATIENT WOMEN, WHO ARE TRYING TO APE THE MEN, IS RESPONSIBLE FOR THE LACK OF APPRECIATION OF THE ART OF HOUSEKEEPING TODAY.

The average American woman is ASHAMED of admitting a keen interest in the duties of housekeeping. She is supposed to have a soul. A lot of rubbish is constantly being said in certain circles concerning the narrowness of women's sphere instead of doing and saying what is possible to heighten the respect for her real sphere—the making of the home.

The modern woman of today has belittled the home. Her influence has ruined many a good housewife because she is ASHAMED TO EXPRESS HER OPINION IN PUBLIC AND RECEIVE THE OPINION OF OTHER WOMEN.

and during my 26 odd years residence in Oregon City I can not remember of it ever being cleared. If the superintendent would give this great public utility one half the consideration he does a certain private institution, he would no doubt earn his salary, and there would be far less sickness in Oregon City. S. SMITH.

THE WATER WE DRINK.

OREGON CITY, OR., Dec. 6.—(Editor of the Enterprise)—After reading in yesterday's Enterprise the articles tracing our typhoid epidemic to its lair, I poured out a glass of boiled Willamette water and, as I gazed into its crystal depths, I had a waking vision. I saw an easterner coming to visit an Oregon City friend. The local man showed him our cloud-capped mountains and our sun-kissed valleys. He revealed to the marveling stranger the wealth of flowers and grain, the balmy winds, and the fertile fields. Then, bringing him to the Seventh Street fountain, he drew therefrom a sparkling bumper, and said: "Now I bring you to the crowning glory of the Willamette valley. Drink deeply! That pleasantly nasty flavor is the essence of university culture from Eugene. You detect a haunting suggestion of gin-cocktails? That comes from Springfield. That buttery tang is from the goat ranches up near Independence. Occasionally you find an agreeably acid flavor that lingers under the tongue. It is due on wash-days from the state institutions at Salem. In that glass, my friend, you will find the concentrated essence of the entire Willamette region, and many old-timers can tell, from the bouquet, just what their neighbors are doing in any particular county up the valley. Boil it before drinking and you will not need to go the expense of buying soup-bones. Come and settle in Oregon City and save boarding expenses."

He tastes, rolls the draught lovingly under his tongue, lingers fondly upon each individual flavor, then asks: "But what of typhoid?" "Typhoid!" the other cries, "Don't you know that we have a city filter?" "Yes," he responds, "but will that filter strain out typhoid germs? Don't you know that a needle's point would make quite a respectable gymnasium floor for a whole athletic club of bacilli? Will they not go anywhere that a molecule of water will go?" "You are not acquainted with our Bacillus Typhosus I see," said the Oregonian, "or you would know that, for such a gay and festive creature, it is most easily domesticated. A filter affects it as a 'No Hunting Allowed' sign does a bird-killing enthusiast. When it finds that it is at the entrance to one it whisks its tail, and, turning aside, it sweeps down stream to flapping the Clackamas instead of that turbid, re-infested sewer known as the Willamette."

SANDY TO CELEBRATE RAILWAY BUILDING

Sandy expects to welcome the arrival of the Multnomah Central Railroad May 1. The right of way from Cottrell, six and one half miles, to Sandy has been cleared and grading will begin in a short time. Two by Two Bros. have the contract for grading and construction and, with their equipment, could do the work in 90 days but expect to be delayed somewhat by inclement weather. E. D. Ernsberger, president of the company, said a few days ago that the first work to be undertaken would be the building of the bridge across the gulch just west of Sandy. The length of the structure, including the approaches, will be 1700 feet, requiring 21,000 feet of piling. Sandy will have a depot building, which will be a duplicate of the one at Gresham. Other depots along the line will be uniform with those on the Mount Hood road. Beyond Sandy as far as Cherryville all the right of way has been obtained except that running across six farms. Many of the settlers have donated the right to cross their property. Cherryville is seven miles beyond Sandy and there is good assurance that the road will reach there next year.

OREGON CITY HIGH WINS AT BASKET BALL

The Oregon City High School's basket ball team defeated Company "L" team Friday evening, 22 to 4. Several members of the High School team were not able to play and other men were substituted. Beattie and Farr were the star players on the High School team, their basket throwing being the feature of the game, while Cook played an excellent game for the losers. The lineup was as follows: Oregon City High School—Farr, F.; Beattie, F.; Green, C.; Morris, G.; C. Griffin, G. Company "L"—Quinn, F.; Cook, F.; Blanchard, C.; Cannon, G.; Meade, G.

ELOPING COUPLE TO WED IN VICTORIA

Gladys Curtis and Frederick Lewis, who mysteriously disappeared several days ago are to be married at Victoria, B. C., according to a report of Mrs. Reta Walling, who is said to have accompanied Miss Curtis to South Tacoma. Mrs. Walling, who before her marriage to Carl Walling, was Reta Jarratt, told her story to County Matron Mrs. Parker and Chief of Police Shaw Friday. She said that Lewis met them in Portland on the day of their departure and purchased tickets for both of the girls to South Tacoma. He traveled alone to Tacoma, while the girls traveled together. Mrs. Walling said that while on the train Miss Curtis showed her marriage certificate. Mrs. Walling said that the couple boarded the first boat to Victoria, B. C., where they intended to be married and live with the parents of Lewis. Mrs. Walling arrived in Oregon City Friday. Lewis it is said, had corresponded with Miss Curtis for several years, but had never met her until two days before their departure. He is said to live in Victoria.

HOW RED CROSS SEAL ORIGINATED

"How did the Red Cross Christmas Seal originate?" is a question that is being asked by many during this holiday season when millions of these stickers are being sold all over the United States. To Jacob Riis, the well known social worker of New York and to Miss Emily P. Bissell, the energetic secretary of the Delaware Red Cross, jointly belong the honor of originating our American Red Cross Christmas Seal. In 1909 Mr. Riis' interest was aroused by the receipt of a Christmas tuberculosis stamp on a letter from Norway. He published an article about this queer looking stamp in the Outlook, and suggested some possible uses for it in this country. Miss Bissell at once saw the opportunity here and prepared a stamp, from the sale of which her society realized $2,000 for tuberculosis work. So impressed was she with this success that she induced the American Red Cross to take up the sale in 1908 on a national basis. With very little organization and hardly any attempt at careful advertising, the sale, that year brought in, nevertheless, over $135,000 for anti-tuberculosis work in various parts of the United States. In 1909, with more thorough organization the sale was increased to $230,000, and in 1910 to nearly $310,000. Last year the sale increased to over $330,000, or 33,000,000 seals. The seals are on sale at virtually all the stores in the city.

INSURANCE HEADS TO FIGHT TYPHOID

death will quicken his instinct of self-preservation and arouse him to activity; not so typhoid fever. It has been all about him always, and he knows it, and is viewed indifferently as an inevitable visitation which comes once every year and takes its toll from the community. He never asks himself in this visitation inevitable? Or, may not typhoid fever be prevented or reduced? Twenty deaths per 100,000 probably represents 200 cases of typhoid fever. Suppose 200 cases of Asiatic cholera occurred in any American city of 100,000 population, would not strenuous activity be displayed, and very properly so, for the eradication of the scourge? Although the case mortality of typhoid fever is lower than that of cholera, yet typhoid fever is transmissible in more ways, is more expensive in its lingering course and more disastrous in its sequelae than Asiatic cholera. The mental attitude toward typhoid fever, displayed by physicians, and more especially health officers, is scarcely more commendable. Their complacency in the face of typhoid fever rates above twenty deaths annually per 100,000 population in difficult to explain. If the rate is below 20, many municipal authorities are inclined to be satisfied with this rate, as it is low compared with less fortunate cities."

Chinese Suffragette Casting Her Vote In San Francisco

CHINESE women born in California were allowed to vote at the recent presidential election, and hundreds of them took advantage of the right of suffrage. In San Francisco, where the Chinese population runs into the thousands, many of these Chinese suffragettes flocked to the polls and cast their ballots in the manner shown in the illustration. This was taken in a Chinatown polling place where the election officers were Chinese. This particular suffragette voted for Roosevelt.

WATER TO BLAME, WHITE'S OPINION

never accomplished. I did not say that the water was filthy, but did say that the sample from the reservoir, while it was low in bacteria count, contained colon bacilli, meaning that it contained contamination. "One specimen taken from the tap down in the business section was extremely low, but it showed positive contamination. This is the exact condition as the records of the laboratory show, and the samples of the tubes and plates will be kept for your inspection. "Several other samples from downtown show very low bacterial count and no evidence of colon bacilli. How the contamination in the reservoir could have occurred, of course is problematical, and is something that this office can know nothing about." The report of Dr. White caused Dr. J. W. Norris, city health officer, to have the water in the drinking fountains shut off. The board of water commissioners will have the reservoir cleaned at the earliest opportunity.
