BEAUTIFUL HAIR AT SMALL COST

A SIMPLE REMEDY BEAUTIFIES THE HAIR, CURES DANDRUFF, STOPS FALLING HAIR.

What a pity it is to see so many people with thin, wispy hair, faded or streaked with gray, and realize that most of these people might have soft glossy, abundant hair of beautiful color and lustre if they would but use the proper treatment. There is no necessity for gray hair under sixty-five year of age, and there is no excuse for anyone, young or old, having thin, straggling hair, either full of dandruff or heavy and rank smelling with excessive oil.

You can bring the natural color of your hair in a few days and forever rid yourself of any dandruff and loose hairs, and make your hair grow strong and beautiful by using Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy. For generations common garden Sage has been used for restoring and preserving the color of the hair; and Sulphur is recognized by Scalp Specialists as being excellent for treatment of hair and scalp troubles.

If you are troubled with dandruff or itching scalp, or if your hair is losing its color or coming out, get a fifty cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur from your druggist, and notice the improvement of your hair in a few days' treatment.

FOUR TO DIE ON SCAFFOLD TODAY

 the scaffold cool and with steady nerve to die game, is the belief of Prison Chaplain Bauer, who frequently sees the condemned men.
 Today Roberts was calm and seems to take his impending fate placidly. It is probable that Faulder and Morgan also will go to the gallows unmoved. Morgan probably will continue to assume the reticence which he has displayed throughout and it is doubtful if he will make a statement on the scaffold. Faulder seems to be prepared to die if it falls to his lot and tonight there seems to be not the slightest ray of hope for any of the four men.

As to what Garrison will do on the scaffold there seems to be some doubt. He has been garrulous in his conversation, untiring in inditing letters, poetry and dissertations on numerous subjects. He has expressed a desire that the Governor West be present at the executions, but this is highly improbable.

Some who have seen and talked to Garrison express the belief that at the last moment he may break down and make a complete confession of the murder of Roy Perkins in Coos County. Some interest is expressed as to whether Morgan may desire to make a statement privately as to his past life, although probably he will not talk on the scaffold.

Morgan, who murdered John York near Grants Pass is reported to have killed his grandfather in Indiana and also is suspected of having murdered a man near Willows, Cal. He is reported to have boasted that the killing of York was not his first murder.

MRS. REED DELIGHTS WITH RECITATIONS

Mrs. Robert Reed, of Portland, entertained the members of the Woman's Club with Shakespearean recitations at a meeting at the Commercial Club Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Reed is an accomplished recitationist, and she held her audience throughout the entertainment, graciously responding to several encores. Mrs. Reed also gave several humorous recitations in her inimitable way. Mrs. J. W. Norris reported that she had seen the reservoir drained and that there was little sediment in the tank. She said that Superintendent Howell had asked her to urge the club to appoint a committee to see the filters cleaned. Mrs. David Caulfield, president of the club, said the attendance was larger than it had been for several months. She was enthusiastic in her praise of Mrs. Reed's recitations.

Fictitious.
 Angel Child - Aunt Daisy, what is meant by "a fictitious character?"
 Aunt Daisy - That means one that is made up, dear. Angel Child - Oh, yes; Then you're a fictitious character, aren't you, nuntie?

SUGGESTIONS MADE TO PREVENT XMAS FIRES

The Portland Association of Credit Men has written the Commercial Club of this city an important letter regarding precautions against fire. The letter says in part:

"The Christmas season is here again, with all its beauty and merry-making; a season when we decorate our stores, homes, churches and meeting places so attractively with vari-colored papers, festoons, evergreens and many other light but very inflammable materials, that so easily take fire and spread it. We are going to ask you to again give this subject serious consideration and in your community bring before your people the necessity of being careful, lest this season of joy and merriment be turned into one of sadness and mourning. Many have not forgotten the Christmas fire at Silver Lake in which so many children lost their lives."

STREETS CLEANED BY CITY PRISONERS

Oregon City is again being made a "City Beautiful." Chief of Police Shaw Thursday put J. Boyer and Frederick S. Ford, city prisoners, to work cleaning the thoroughfares. Boyer is serving a jail sentence of five days and Ford a sentence of fifteen days. The men cleaned lower Seventh Street and several alleys Thursday and will be kept at the work until all the downtown streets are cleaned. Because of recent rains the streets are in a much worse condition than usual.

Burghardt Estate $6,000.

The estate of E. H. Burghardt, valued at $6,000, was filed for probate Thursday. Mr. Burghardt died several months ago.

PLUMBING DEFENDED.
 OREGON CITY, Dec. 12.—(Editor of the Enterprise.)—The article in this morning's issue on "Plumbing, etc." and its connection with the present epidemic of typhoid fever is speculation, pure and simple "without a leg of a fact" to stand upon. It was, evidently written by some one densely ignorant of the subject. The facts are these: Typhoid fever is not produced by sewer gas nor by defective vents, traps or plumbing in a house unless the sewerage pipes are connected with the water supply pipes which is out of the question. The disease gains entrance to the human body through the alimentary canal by the indigestion of water, or food, infected with Eberth's Bacillus typhosus, due to contamination of the water supply with sewage. That is the whole thing in a nut shell, based on solid facts. All speculation and theories to the contrary notwithstanding.

The writer would like to meet "the prominent business man who now offers to stake his entire business that the real cause was to be found elsewhere than in the water supply." He sees an excellent chance to place a very safe bet!

WATER SOURCE DISCUSSED

OREGON CITY, Dec. 12.—(Editor of the Enterprise.)—In two communications I have discussed the water situation facetiously. Let me add a concluding word in earnest. I am vitally interested in the matter inasmuch as both my boys have been suffering from the fever for the past two weeks, and are still on the wrong side of the danger line. The day is far past when superstition ascribed such pestilence to the wrath of God. It is due rather to the mistakes of man. Hence it can be prevented.

Since writing my last letter I have learned something which made me sorry that I picked fun at Mr. Howell's invitation to citizens to be present at the cleaning of the city reservoir. A foolish and unfounded report, apparently, has gone forth that dead dogs, and babies, and all sorts of things were to be found in the reservoir. I believe Mr. Howell to be a capable and conscientious officer, none better, and such silly statements regarding his watchfulness are to be deplored. But all Mr. Howell's efficiency cannot filter cleanse a typhoid-laden stream to the point of safety, and he is making a mistake in thinking that it is up to him to apologize for the present condition of things. The people of Oregon City just now are scarcely in the mood to tolerate any attempt to gloss facts where dozens of lives are at stake. One of the most recent cases of typhoid that has come to my notice is in a family where the plumbing is above reproach and external conditions have been the best. There is no more conscientious and capable body of men to be found anywhere than those that constitute our corps of physicians. Their integrity is above reproach. Any one who has the slightest knowledge of typhoid knows that our epidemic is nothing else. Where then lies the source of the trouble?

A preacher is not supposed to know anything about bacteriology, or medicine, or business, or much of anything else in fact. Hence, I shall use the statement of our state biologist, as given in his annual reports, as my authority. You may verify these statements by reference to the reports in our public library. There you will find the following remarks:

"The old notion that running water will purify itself is not correct, except for long distances." (Rep. for 1905, page 15.) He goes on to show that in 1906, Cohoes, New York, was infected with typhoid from Skenebec, 17, seventeen miles up the Mohawk. After quoting other instances he goes on, to say of water in which laboratory examination shows no typhoid bacilli.
 "The human body is more sensitive than any laboratory method, and may receive inoculation from germs whose presence man cannot detect."
 "Passing on he speaks of filters, saying: "Sand or charcoal filters remove sediment and leave the water clear, but will not remove the larger part of the bacteria, and unless frequently cleaned with hot water, they become breeding places for them, and the latter condition is worse than the first."

But ours is not an ordinary filter, but one of the best mechanical filters made. True! In his report he goes on to describe the Oregon City filter carefully, and speaks of it in words of high and deserved praise. But not this! In his report he gives two cuts, each containing an unfiltered and a filtered specimen of Willamette water magnified and photographed.

What do they reveal? The first unfiltered shows 1270 colonies of bacteria, the second, taken at another season, 1184. But what about the water after it has passed through our filtering system? Surely it is then pure? The first filtered specimen shows eleven and the second eighteen colonies of bacteria. Not very many, it is true—for a waterdrop. But how many would that make for the contents of a drinking cup? Now hark back to our authority's statement that so minute a quantity that no laboratory can detect them may inoculate one with typhoid, and to the fact that Eberth's bacilli are often present in such small numbers that they cannot be detected, even in a typhoid patient (yet they do their malignant work), and you will apprehend the danger.

Our filter is one of the best known. Our officers are careful and capable. Yet they cannot eliminate the danger from a disease infected stream. Should not this fact be the strongest possible plea for a change in the source of our water supply?
