For the Children

A Merry Christmas Morn After Santa Claus' Visit.

© by American Press Association.

Santa Claus has been very liberal with the little girl in the picture. When she went to bed on Christmas eve she prepared for the good old fellow by hanging several stockings on the foot of the bed. Santa was equal to the occasion, however, and filled them all from toe to top. Perhaps he had to forget some other little girl; but, sad though it be, that sometimes happens. This fortunate baby is yet too young to think of anything more than that dolls and other toys and candy galore are her gifts from Santa Claus. Maybe when she grows older thoughts of others less happy will temper her joy and the pleasure of giving be made known to her.

The Old Home of the Doll.
The old home of the doll is Thüringen, especially the town of Sonneberg, twelve miles from Coburg. Most of the poorer families in and around Sonneberg are engaged in this industry, which is the chief source of revenue of the population, giving employment for the whole year. The work demands a great deal of practice and skill, as well as time and trouble. The inhabitants start making dolls while very young and by constant practice are finally able to work with astonishing accuracy and speed. In the doll industry only some special part of the dolls is made by each person. Some make the bodies, others the heads and still others the arms, hands, etc. By this division the work is done much quicker and better.

The assembling of the different parts of the dolls is often very complicated. The best jointed dolls have stout elastic cord on the inside, to which the movable parts are attached. A special branch of the industry is devoted to the making of dresses and hats. The latest Parisian styles are copied in dressing the larger sized dolls, and the creations turned out compare very favorably, in miniature, with the original.

Christmas Decorations.
Have the children gather evergreen and make long strings of it to reach from the gaslights over table to each window and door frame. Put a large red bow of ribbon on one corner of tablecloth, set a tiny spray of holly at each plate and one in the center of plum pudding. One can get a tiny pine tree, set in center of table and run red and green baby ribbon to each side and corner of table, ending with spray of holly. Green and red paper can be used in place of evergreen, where it cannot be obtained. Hang a large bell on the light over the table and little ones at each window.

Make Father a Spectacle Wiper.
Cut two rounded pieces of cambric two or three inches across. Bind them with bright colored ribbon and fasten the two pieces together with a bow of the same ribbon. The edges may be scalloped, if preferred. Print across the top with pen and ink, "I make all things clear."

Penny Toys.
Two hundred new designs in penny toys are brought out each week in Whitechapel, London.

A Small Order.
This is all that I expect Santa Claus to bring to me: One large boat (my old one's wrecked); Then I need a larger drum. That says "boom!" Instead of "tum!" And I want a nice long whip. That will make our tomat skip! Then I hope to get a ball. That will dent the hardest wall. And a bat that will not split. Every time that it is hit. Next I'd choose a pair of skates. Just as nice as Sister Kate's. And a bright large monoplane. That will carry rag doll Jane; Then I'd like a lot of things. That are run by hidden springs--Rats and spiders and the like--And I need a brand new "bike" With a coaster brake that will make work easy down a hill.

There! That's all I asked him for. Still (I'm hoping, since he's Dutch) That he'll bring a few things more. As I have not asked for much. —St. Nicholas.

His Personal Appearance.
Mamma—I'm afraid that young Wilder will not make you a good husband, Clara. Clara—Why not, mamma? Mamma—Because it seems to me that he rather neglects his personal appearance. Clara—Yes, that's true, mamma, and I'm glad you mentioned it. I'll see that he makes his personal appearance here every evening after this instead of only twice a week.

"How far is it to Neustadt, captain?" "Fourteen kilometers in an air line, colonel."

"H'm! There must be a shorter way across the fields, don't you think?"—Lustige Blätter.

LOCAL BRIEFS

There was a small fire, which, had it not been discovered might have been serious, at the residence of E. Partlow, Mt. Pleasant. Fortunately it was discovered before it had gained much headway, and the prompt action of the family, and a few neighbors, soon had it extinguished. The damage was small. No insurance was carried.

Justice Samson's marrying business is rapidly coming to the mail order stage. He has been engaged by several out of town parties to go out and marry them. He expects to be on the job Christmas day even. The judge explains this by saying that Dan Cupid is a heathen personage anyway, and cannot be expected to pay much respect to christian holidays.

Keeper of the Jail, and Peace Officer Shaw is pounding the sidewalk as usual, much to the satisfaction of his friends. Even those who oppose him, concede that it wouldn't look natural not to be able to see him every little while, doing his tour of the downtown district.

The management of the Star Moving Picture Theatre, which was recently purchased outright by L. Rucovich, has determined to use the Independent Company's films. Manager Murphy claims that he will in this way have greater liberty of action, have more pictures to choose from and secure a better service.

William Nelson, blacksmith of Oswego, formerly associated with William Weismandel in this city, was in town Sunday. Mr. Nelson has but recently recovered from a severe attack of Grippe, which affected his hearing. He is being treated for it by Dr. Meisner.

Monday was a busy day for the merchants of the town, largely owing to the Saturday payday at the mills. It was remarked that people from the out of town districts who formerly did their Christmas buying in Portland, were this year doing business in Oregon City.

Gustav Schnoor has a good sized crew of men at work cutting wood on his place at Willamette. Mr. Schnoor is pretty busy these days catching up with the time lost on his election campaign, and legal affairs.

Air frosty. Cold outside. But everyone is happy this Yuletide. The reasons—very plain to see. All take Hollister's Rocky Mountain Tea. Jones Drug Co.

FANCY BEEF IS ON MARKET FOR XMAS

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows:
Receipts for the week were—Cattle 1300; calves 2; hogs 5835; horses 40.
Christmas buying is beginning to be in evidence and some very fancy stuff is being shown in the yards. Very heavy receipts of cattle for the week but strong demand and higher prices, especially for top grade of steers. Cows and heifers, ordinary grades steady with a week ago. One car of Hereford steers from Haines, Oregon, sold at $7.90 and one at $7.65. These sales were the biggest ever made on the open market here for full ear load of steers.
Unusually heavy receipts of hogs had a tendency to lower the price 50 to 75c less than last week. The extreme top on hogs at present is $7.35 with many sales reported at $7.15 to $7.25.
Heavy receipts of sheep and lambs but good demand and prices a shade higher for choice grades. Prime lambs sold on Monday's market at 7c, this season's top so far.

THE NEW PANNIER EFFECT forms are being developed. This illustration shows a waist with a long, loose pannier attached and the effect in very fetching. JUDIC CHOLLET.

Acted on the Advice.

A well to do business man of Arkansas City tells a unique story of how he got started in life. When a young man, without much money, he struck New York City. While walking down the street he saw a sign which read, "We will tell you how to get rich for $1." says the Kansas City Journal. He went in and plunked down a dollar and received instructions in a sealed envelope. Going out on the street, he opened the envelope and found a slip of paper reading, "Work like the devil and save your money." Did he have the outfit arrested for swindling? No, indeed! He took their advice, and today he is worth more than $100,000.

The Parting.

"Jack and I have parted forever."
"Good gracious! What does that mean?"
"Means that I'll eat a five pound box of candy in about an hour."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

FOUNTAIN HOSE CO. TO GIVE BIG DANCE

Fountain Hose Company will have its tenth annual Christmas celebration at Busch's Hall this evening. The celebration will be the most elaborate in the history of the organization, and it is confidently believed the attendance will break all records. Dancing will be the feature of the entertainment, Fox's Orchestra to furnish the music, until midnight and probably later.

If it happened it is in the Enterprise.

Woman's Way.

"What's the latest among the snuffragists?"
"Mrs. Wallaby called Mrs. Wombat a deliberate and unqualified fibber."
"Dear me! Have women come to that? What happened next?"
"Then they both cried, kissed and made up, and we all went to a bargain matinee."—Pittsburgh Post.
