STAUNTON, VA., GIVES DISTINGUISHED SON NOISY OVA-TION ON RETURN

"FINE TO BE BACK AGAIN," HE SAYS

President-Elect Prevented From Delivering Address by Order of Physicians—Soldiers Escort Him

STAUNTON, Va., Dec. 27.—Virginia welcomed home tonight Governor Wilson, the eighth of her native sons to be chosen president of the United States. From the moment the president-elect crossed the state line at Alexandria in the afternoon, after he had a 10-minute glimpse of the National capital, until 9 o'clock, when he reached the little parsonage where he was born just 56 years ago tomorrow, the reception was one of great enthusiasm, noisy demonstration and spectacular display.

Escorted by cavalry, militia companies and a torchlight procession, the Governor and Mrs. Wilson motored through the streets of Staunton to the home of Rev. A. N. Frazer, pastor of the Presbyterian Church. In this home Rev. Joseph R. Wilson, father of the President-elect, lived in 1856.

"It is fine to be back again," exclaimed the President-elect, as he stepped indoors.

Suffering from the effects of his cold, he returned immediately to the room in which he was born to rest for the morning, when the chief program of the jubilee will be carried out.

From far and wide, native children of Staunton had come to greet their fellow-townsmen. Except for a short visit a year ago, Mr. Wilson has not

ENTERPRISE WORKS FOR GREATER OREGON CITY AND CLACKAMAS COUNTY

RESOURCES MERIT BETTER RETURNS

Public-Spirited Business Firms and Many Professional Men to Cooperate with Newspaper

The Morning Enterprise is working for a bigger and better Oregon City and Clackamas County six days in the week and fifty-two weeks in the year, but on one day in the year this paper puts out an issue unequalled by any plant in the state outside of Portland—the day that our Progress and Anniversary Number is published.

We want Clackamas County to take the position among the counties of this great state which her magnificent resources merit for her. The best way to hasten this development is to let the world know what we have to offer and one of the best ways to disseminate the information wanted by the prospective settler is through such a publication as our annual, which will tell the whole story. The high character of the issue merits for it the heartiest co-operation and support of every business man and every property owner who wants to see Oregon City and Clackamas County go forward.

We print below a list of the public spirited business firms and individuals who have already signified their willingness to co-operate with the Enterprise in this matter. There are many others yet to be seen and their names will probably appear on this

PROMPT WORK SAVES MILLWORKER'S LEG

M. Homdrom, employed by the Willamette Pulp & Paper Company, was seriously injured Friday morning while at work. The man attempted to step over a conveyer which was in motion. One of his feet caught in the chain and in no time at all nearly half of his leg had been dragged into the sprocket. Had it not been for the promptness with which the gearing was handled, the leg would have been torn from his body. Fortunately for him the doctors who were speedily on the scene, think they can save his foot, although it is not definitely known how many of the smaller bones are broken. B. T. McBain, mill manager, was with the man shortly after the accident, and superintended the first aid work which was instantly applied. He is now in a hospital under the care of Drs. Meissner and Hemstead.

Princess Victoria Louise, only daughter of the Emperor of Germany.

BISHOP SCADDING TO ATTEND SERVICES HERE

Bishop Charles Scadding will attend services at St. Paul's Church tomorrow night. The Bishop, who is one of the most eminent men of the Episcopal Church, is not coming to confirm, or even to preach, but he is coming as he said, "to hear his friend Robinson preach." Rev. C. W. Robinson, the rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church has been preaching what some persons might call rather radical sermons on "Social Christianity." Some people may wonder whether the Bishop is pleased or not with what Mr. Robinson has been saying and friends of the rector are anxious to know whether he will preach along the same lines when the Bishop is present. Oscar Woodfin, at the service Sunday night, will sing a solo entitled "Our Task", by Ashley.

PORTLAND AND EUGENE R.R. TO BE RUSHED

Mark Woodruff, an official of the Portland Eugene & Eastern Railroad, is authority for the fact that work on the track forty miles from Portland south, will be commenced in the spring. The contract for the work has not been let but President Strahorn has it. Owing to rumors of difficulties encountered by the right of way department of the company, Mr. Woodruff was questioned. He says that the company is not finding any greater difficulties than is ordinarily the case; that his company is paying a good fair price, and that there will be comparatively few condemnation suits brought. The old Willamette Falls carline will soon be a thing of the past, greatly to the advantage of Bolton, West Oregon City and Willamette. Property along the line has jumped tremendously.

WARNOCKS CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Married in 1862, and living happily and successfully on the same farm for 47 years, in the proud record of Perencia Warnock and Mason Warnock, who celebrated their golden wedding Christmas day at their place in Springwater. Both of them crossed the plains with their parents in '63, and have known each other nearly the whole of their lives. Mrs. Warnock is a daughter of Samuel Hughes, who came from Salina County, Mo., to settle in Clackamas County. Mr. Warnock is the son of Mason Warnock who came from Indiana, also to settle in Clackamas County. They have four children, all living: Ira D. Warnock, of Evanston, Ill.; Samuel Warnock of Oregon City; Fred Warnock, of Elk River, Idaho, and Mrs. D. C. Howell of West Oregon City. Many friends from all over the state journeyed to Springwater for the celebration. Mr. and Mrs. Warnock were the recipients of many valuable presents. The Oregon City delegation included R. D. Wilson, Charles Howell, and Wm. Samuel Warnock.
