WE NEED The Good Roads Movement

BETTER ROADS meant opens the new year with a great many more friends than it had last year at this time, but even then it is a long way from winning out. Strange to say it seems to be the old settler, or early pioneer who most greatly stands in the way of progress. The foreigner born in France, Switzerland or Germany, appreciates the value of good roads and as a rule is willing to be taxed, for, in the words of Chris Naegli, of Hog Hollow, a good road is as necessary to the farmer as a good roof on his house. Mr. Naegli is a native of Switzerland, and one of the most substantial dairy men in Clackamas County. He knows the roads of his former country as well as those of France and Germany and knows their economic value.

And yet there is something to be said for the reluctance of the average farmer to tax himself every year for good roads. Year by year the tax is increased, and still the roads are bad. The truth of the whole matter is the entire road system is wrong. The average road supervisor is a good honest citizen honestly trying to give the district he serves one hundred cents on the dollar, both in service and supplies, but the trouble is that he knows nothing of scientific road building, and the farmers of his district know still less. The time is ripe for the road districts of the county and state to get together, and see if by intelligent cooperation under the direction of a trained road engineer, we cannot get better roads at a fraction of our present wasteful methods. It cannot be too often reiterated, that good roads spell good times.

OUR NEW Mayor Jones has been ADMINISTRATION sworn into his office as mayor of Oregon City.

It is the highest of office his fellowtownsmen can confer upon him and probably few executives have entered office with a greater degree of popular approval and support back of them. Yet there are grave responsibilities connected with the office. Its holder is the father of the city in a very real sense of the word, and the most unsparring criticism will

BLAND ACRE TRACTS

Buy a home in Bland Acres 10 per cent down and 2 per cent per month, price $125.00 to $180.00 per acre. After Jan. 15 these prices will be $140.00 to $200.00 per acre.

We have absolute assurance that the Southern Pacific will be built past this tract. They are now doing their preliminary work and at present are clearing the right of way for this line. DILLMAN & HOWLAND WEINHARD BUILDING.

be his lot should he fail to live up to the standard his townsmen have set for him. But the Enterprise believes that Mayor Jones will be more than equal to the anticipations of his friends; that Oregon City and its many interests will be more than cared for by him, and that friction between council and mayor now will be a thing of the past.

Not the least important of the problems that confront him at this time is that of the water. Probably no other man is as well acquainted with the typhoid conditions of this winter throughout the city as is the mayor, and for that reason anxious citizens are justified in believing that the mayor will do all he can to remedy the matter.

A VICTIM We are so accustomed to CIVILIZATION think of ourselves as slaves driven by the spirit of industrial progress, we forget that we are not the only species that suffers from the doings of efficiency experts. Consider the hen. Garrett P. Serviss has not only considered the hen, but becomes its heartiest champion. He sympathizes with the hen. He has discovered that the jungle fowl from which the domestic hen is descended, does not lay over ten or a dozen eggs a year in its wild state, and that modern speed methods are to blame for the industry of the modern hen. Yet there are many otherwise long-suffering citizens of this town, who are very much out of patience with the poor work our local hens are turning in this year.

Scientists tell us that every newly hatched chicken at the very moment it first pecks its way through the shell, brings with it in embryo form every egg that it will ever lay, no matter how long it may live. Consequently good feeding cannot increase the egg supply; it can only hurry the output. Like the human, who is also an egg born animal, the hen is paying the penalty for the times it lives in. It must do in the first two years of its life, all that was meant for ten or twelve years.

MISS Helen M. Gould, Whose Engagement Surprised Nation

The entire country was surprised and interested in the engagement announcement of Miss Helen M. Gould and Finley J. Shepard. For so many years Miss Gould has been doing good in practical and patriotic ways, giving her wealth and her personal service, that she has become endeared to the entire nation. The idea of her marrying seemed to be the last thing entertained in the popular estimation of her. But she will have the good wishes of all Mr. Shepard, a self-made man, lives in St. Louis and is a railroad official. Their acquaintance ripened into love when she was accompanied by him on a tour of railroad Y. M. C. A.'s, an organization to which she is greatly interested.

Things We Should Not Do

By Mrs. HETTY GREEN, Richest Woman in the World

- DON'T envy your neighbors. Don't overdress—that is, don't dress flashily—whether you have the means or not, for that will cause envy and jealousy to be aroused in others. Don't fail to dress warmly. In cold weather low cut gowns and the vanity of some women cause many deaths. Don't fail to go to church. The church needs you, and you need the church. Don't eat anything but good, wholesome food. Home cooking is the best. Don't cheat in your business dealings, for sooner or later your conscience will begin to trouble you, and later you will worry yourself into your grave. Don't fail to be fair in all things, business and otherwise, and never kick a man when he is down. Don't forget to be charitable and don't falsify. Don't forget to take a lot of exercise, of which walking is the best.

RESTORE GRAY HAIR TO NATURAL COLOR

BY COMMON GARDEN SAGE A SIMPLE REMEDY FOR DANDRUFF, FALLING, FADED, GRAY HAIR

The old idea of using Sage for darkening the hair is again coming in vogue. Our grandmothers had dark, glossy hair at seventy-five, while our mothers are gray before they are fifty. Our grandmothers kept their hair soft and glossy with a "Sage Tea" which also restored the natural color. One objection to using such a preparation was the trouble of making it. This objection has been overcome by the Wyeth Chemical Company of New
