RYAN MUST PUT UP $70,000 BOND

Evidence Upon Which Convictions Were Obtained Called "Vague" by Lawyers—Appeal to be Pressed

CHICAGO, Jan. 3.—A writ of superseas staying execution of the sentences imposed upon the dynamite conspirators recently convicted at Indianapolis, was issued by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals here today. Bail was based upon the number of years which the prisoners have been sentenced to serve, $10,000 for each year.

The Ryan's bail was fixed at $70,000, or $10,000 for each of the seven years of his sentence. Those who received sentences of six years must furnish $60,000; four years $40,000, and so on down to $10,000 for the one year sentences.

Defense lawyers stated that money enough to admit all to bail would be forthcoming.

Herbert S. Hockin alone did not appeal.

Attorney Zoline presented the petition and argued in support of it, as did Attorney Krum. Zoline declared that in cases such as the present ones the prisoners have the right of bail, particularly as the defendants were sentenced to Leavenworth before a hearing on a writ of error had been held.

"Do you mean to tell me that a writ of superseas should issue as a matter of right?" inquired Judge Baker.

"That is my understanding," replied Zoline, who then began quoting Supreme Court decisions which he said bore upon the point.

Judge Baker stated that the point of the writ of error was not well taken. He added that there was no occasion for the Court of Appeals to supervene in any case unless it be shown that the procedure of the lower court was questionable at law.

Replying to this, Zoline declared that the evidence on which convictions were secured at Indianapolis was "vague and inadequate," and that the judge of the lower court should not have allowed the cases of many of the defendants to go to the jury at all.

"WIFE MADE ME POOR" HUSBAND'S CHARGE

Declaring that his wife was so extravagant he could not pay his debts George A. McClurg Friday filed suit for a divorce against Lillian V. McClurg. They were married in Portland June 7, 1908. The plaintiff avers that December 25, 1911, after his month of typhoid fever. She had been ill seven weeks. For the past week her condition had rapidly improved and she was able to get out of bed Thursday morning. However, about 9 o'clock at night she had a relapse and before a physician who was summoned arrived, she died. Mrs. Heckman was one of the most popular young women of the city and before her marriage was a society belle of Eugene. She was an accomplished musician and obtained her education at the Oregon Agricultural College. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Elliott, of Eugene, will arrive in this city today when the funeral arrangements will be made. Besides her parents Mrs. Heckman is survived by two brothers and a daughter one year of age. Mrs. Heckman was 22 years of age.

FRUIT EXPERTS TO LECTURE TO GROWERS

Meetings to encourage the fruit-growers of the county to get the best results will be held next week by Professor Wilson, of the Oregon Agricultural College; W. K. Newell, A. C. Goodrich, H. M. Williamson, T. W. Sullivan, O. D. Eby and M. J. Lazelle. The following schedule has been arranged: Oregon City, January 8, meeting in Commercial Club room. Specimens of tree diseases will be shown. January 9, Barlow 10 o'clock in the morning and Canby at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. January 10, Wilsonville and January 11, Eagle Creek and Estacada or Garfield. The public is invited to attend the meetings and at all of them specimens of diseased trees will be shown.

LEVYING OF ROAD TAX IS OPPOSED

Robert Clark Friday filed suit against County Clerk Mulvey to restrain him from allowing a levy of 10 mills for road work in District No. 44. The plaintiff alleges that he attended a meeting of the taxpayers of the district December 21 and says he intended to vote against a motion to levy a 10 mill tax. He avers that he was not allowed to vote and that the vote being a tie the motion was declared carried. Mr. Clark, who is represented by Brownell & Stone, says if he had been allowed to vote the motion would have been defeated. He says the minutes have been forwarded to the county clerk. Mr. Mulvey, of course, had nothing to do with the levying of the tax.

R. R. COMMISSION PROBES CROSSING

State Railway Commissioners Campbell and Miller conducted a hearing here Friday in regard to the crossing of the Clackamas Southern Railway and Southern Pacific Railway Company. Evidence was heard regarding the proposed safety devices and which company should install them. B. C. Day represented the Southern Pacific and Grant B. Dimick and O. D. Eby the Clackamas Southern. Testimony was given by at least a score of persons. The commissioners indicated that they would make a decision in the near future.

YOUNG MOTHER DIES OF TYPHOID FEVER

Mrs. Louis J. Heckman, wife of the secretary of the Northwestern Association, died at her home on Washington Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, at 10 o'clock Friday night of typhoid fever. She had been ill seven weeks. For the past week her condition had rapidly improved and she was able to get out of bed Thursday morning. However, about 9 o'clock at night she had a relapse and before a physician who was summoned arrived, she died. Mrs. Heckman was one of the most popular young women of the city and before her marriage was a society belle of Eugene. She was an accomplished musician and obtained her education at the Oregon Agricultural College. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Elliott, of Eugene, will arrive in this city today when the funeral arrangements will be made. Besides her parents Mrs. Heckman is survived by two brothers and a daughter one year of age. Mrs. Heckman was 22 years of age.

DECISION OF SCHOOL HEADS IS SUSTAINED

Circuit Judge Campbell has sustained a ruling of T. J. Garry, county school superintendent, and L. J. Alderman, state school superintendent, which is of far reaching importance. T. B. Lovelace, dismissed as teacher by the trustees of school district No. 4, March 27 last, filed suit for salary for the remainder of the term. Superintendent Garry, before whom the case was appealed, decided that the teacher was entitled to his salary. Mr. Alderman approved the decision of Mr. Garry. In making the decision, however, Mr. Alderman said his decision would not be worth anything in the civil courts. Judge Campbell decided that it was. The teacher, who is represented by Attorney William Hammond, will now ask for a decree for $152 the amount he would have received for teaching the entire term.
