WEST SIDE A CITY SAYS WOODRUFF

of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company. It was of no benefit to the latter concern, all of the interests of the P. R. L. & P. Co. being

LOCAL BRIEFS
Among the Gypsies who went to Portland Saturday evening to meet at the home of Mrs. Bergman, former Miss Vida Williams, at 1928 E. Stark Street, were Mrs. M. D. Latour, Mrs. Charles Griffith, Mrs. Louis Morris, Misses Marjory Caulfield, Bessie and Helen Daulton, Emily O'Malley, Zeda Goldsmith, Marie Pratt and Mrs. Thomas Keeth and Miss Amy Bollack of Portland. After a delicious dinner which was served by the hostess, the evening was spent at 500.
The Rose Club gave the first of its dances Friday evening in Busch's Hall. The dance, which was attended by about 75 couples, was a great success. Prast's orchestra furnished the music.
The dance given Saturday evening in Willamette hall was voted a great success by all who attended it. The music was furnished by Patterson's orchestra.
While chopping wood at his home, Charles Weismandle nearly severed his first finger on his left hand. The injury, which was a painful one, severed all of the tendons.

on the east side of the river. In November, 1912, the Willamette Falls Railway Company and its nine miles of track, including the engineer who has handled the "standard" railroad joke of Oregon City" for 20 years, passed to the control of the Portland, Eugene & Eastern Railway Company and after reconstruction the track will become a portion of the main line which will reach from Portland to Eugene, with feeding and connecting lines reaching into every nook and corner of the big valley.
That this change of ownership will mean much to Oregon City is assured. Its first material benefit will be seen in a rival of river transportation to a considerable extent. The paper and pulp mills at Oregon City use 60,000,000 feet of logs annually. Heretofore these have been carried to St. John, below Portland, by water. There they were loaded on the cars of the Southern Pacific Company and hauled to a point a few miles south of Oregon City, reconsigned to the water and then floated down to the mills.
Under the arrangement now agreed upon the logs will be towed up the Willamette river to a point below the Oregon City rapids, where they will be loaded on the water and delivered to the mills by the P. E. & E.
And it would not be improbable that the dream of a large city on the west bank of the Willamette will soon come true, that great steel bridges will span the Willamette within the coming five years and that street car connections will serve the interests of the two halves of Oregon City. It is certain that 100 passenger trains will pass through or find a terminal at West Oregon City every day after the Portland, Eugene & Eastern shall be in operation by January 1, 1914. Many of these will carry the people and products from the Molalla Valley, that splendidly rich portion of the Willamette which breaks away to the east just nine miles south of Oregon City. The Molalla country has been treated well by nature and poorly by capital and industrial capitalists. No section of the Willamette Valley harbors better lands or acreage more suitable to diversified agriculture. In the nature of things thousands of farmers will find locations in there, towns will come as needed, but Oregon City occupies a commanding position for sweeping the entire district with her mercantile guns. The same might be said of the Tualatin Valley. A portion of the old Willamette Falls railway tracks already extend up that valley. It is more probable that they will be extended to accommodate other farming communities than it is that they will be abandoned. Then directly west of the big bridge at Oregon City lies one of the finest fruit and garden districts in the state. It has an ideal drainage, the best of soil and its farmers will be only "30 minutes from the markets" in 1914.

LAURELS ARE WON BY CLAIRMONT THESPIANS

The three-act drama, "Borderland," which was given Saturday evening at the Clairmont school house was a big success. The attendance was large. Frequent applause was the reward of the splendid endeavors of the cast which performed in a way that would do credit to many a professional company. Many times the audience was almost convulsed with laughter at humorous characters and situations.
The cast was as follows:
Jacob Ralston, guide and scout
Harry Shelly
Joe Dempsey, alias Baron Hereford, alias "Old Ben," Wm. Edgcomb.
Hon. Patrick McFadden, a New York policeman, Rosco Clark
Mr. Lester, a banker, Abe Kuppenbender.
Cyrus, his servant... Ernest Brandt
Charles, a young "terror," Otto Brandt
Mary Lester, a New York belle
Mrs. Wourms
Polly, her sister... Miss Jackson
Miss Spriggins... Ton Kuppenbender
Winona, an Indian girl, Emma Saunders

BOWERY KING'S MIND A BLANK

NEW YORK, Jan. 11.—All nationalities and creeds in the Bowery mourned today when it became known that "Big Tim" Sullivan's mind is gone and that he is suffering from a fatal malady. It is feared it will not be long before the disease completes its course.
On application of Sullivan's step-brother and step-sister, Superintendent Armand signed an order committing him to Bond's sanitarium in Yonkers. Arrangements for his physical restraint were necessary as a result of marked hallucinations.
After a commission had been appointed to take charge of his affairs, it is expected Sullivan will be removed to Amityville, where John McCullough and Maurice Barrymore, famous actors, died several years ago.
Although Sullivan did not once appear during the campaign he was elected to congress from the Thirtieth district last fall. For many years he represented the Bowery in the state legislature at Albany.

ELBERT HUBBARD ADMITS HIS GUILT

BUFFALO, N. Y., Jan. 11.—Elbert Hubbard of East Aurora, known as the "Frustrated," pleaded guilty today in the United States court to an indictment charging him with sending obscene matter through the mails. Judge Hazel suspended sentence on five of the counts in the indictment and fined Hubbard $100 on the sixth count which charged that he had mailed "certain prints of an obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy and indecent character."
The indictment was based on articles published in a magazine issued at East Aurora. The extreme penalty for the crime is five years in jail and a fine of $5000.

MOUNTAIN SNOWS HALT ALL TRAFFIC

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 11.—A heavy snow storm that began at noon in the Cascade mountains has almost put a stop to traffic on the mountain divisions of the Northern Pacific, Great Northern and Milwaukee railways.
A Northern Pacific passenger train is being dug out of the snow near tunnel No. 4, west of Stampede Pass. The Milwaukee has no telegraph wires and does not know where its trains are and Great Northern trains are marked 12 hours late.
Up to 9 o'clock tonight nearly three feet of snow had fallen today on the Northern Pacific mountain division, but the precipitation was becoming lighter.
If it happened it is in the Enterprise.

JACK JOHNSON IS BADLY "BROKE"

CHICAGO, Jan. 11.—Jack Johnson, negro prize fighter, admitted today that he has not a cent. Johnson's "Café de Champion" was recently closed by the police and a judgment of $5621 secured against him by a brewing company. His automobile, a safe and the saloon fixtures were seized by the sheriff to satisfy this claim. When the deputies took charge of the big touring car, Johnson pleaded with them to spare the machine.
"That car belongs to Lucille," he said, referring to his white wife. "She bought it two weeks before we were married. Please don't take it away."
Johnson intimated that he might soon get back into the ring to earn money. He has been training at a local club but the manager of the place requested him to leave because of the vigorous protests from other boxers.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 11.—The senate agreed today to begin at 1 o'clock Monday the voting upon the articles of impeachment against Robert W. Archbald, judge of the United States commerce court, charged with misdemeanors and the misuse of his judicial influence.
No debate by members of the senate will be permitted during the voting, but under a resolution offered by Senator Root and adopted, a senator will have an opportunity to make a brief explanation of his vote in writing, to be printed as part of the senate proceedings in the case.
Arrangements for the final steps in the case against Judge Archbald were made in a secret session of the senate. The question of whether a judge could be impeached for offenses that did not make him subject to indictment under the law was raised by Senator McCumber, of North Dakota, but was withdrawn without a formal vote.
The legality of impeachment proceedings, based on acts committed by Judge Archbald before he became a member of the commerce court, was also brought into question by Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, but was not threshed out in the senate.

Heart to Heart Talks.

THE BANK OF PROGRESS.
"Nothing draws like compound interest," says a banker.
The tables tell us that $1,000 deposited in the bank at 4 per cent compound interest will double itself in about twelve years.
But—
There is a bank that pays at least 10 per cent compound interest and in some cases more.
It is the bank of progress.
No bank in the world is safer or better managed. No deposit was ever lost or failed of credit. Interest and principal are paid promptly.
Deposits may be made at any time either in a lump sum or in small installments.
The deposits?
They are such valuable things as thoughts, resolutions, ideas, effort, self denial, ambition. These constitute capital. They are taken over the counter at the bank of progress at par.
For instance:
You have an idea that is worth while. You deposit that investment in bank. It begins to grow. The interest is added to the principal, and both continue to grow. You may draw out the interest from time to time and still have on deposit a big idea.
Or—
Looking about, you discover that many persons fall from lack of concentration. You invest in the bank efficient singleness of purpose.
Your efficiency increases by compound interest. By painstaking effort you multiply yourself. Your scope and capacity grow until in a few years you have a fortune in yourself.
Or—
You deposit in this bank a resolution. Say it concerns the use of tobacco. If you keep your resolution on deposit you will draw added strength of nerve and cleanliness of habit. In a few years you will have fortified your resolution by compound interest.
It pays big!
There are more valuable things than money; there are better banks than the First National; there is a higher rate of interest than that paid semi-annually.
The bank is open.

MELDRUM SEEKS TO HAVE ENGINEER OUSTED

Henry Meldrum Saturday filed notice with City Recorder Stipp that unless the city council rescinded its action in appointing George Yale city engineer, he would apply to the courts to have Mr. Yale ousted. Mr. Meldrum calls attention to section 9, of the city charter which stipulates that appointees to city offices must have lived here at least one year before appointment. Mr. Yale is a resident of Jennings Lodge and has never lived in Oregon City. He has taken the oath of office but has not filed his bond. One of Mr. Yale's first acts upon taking the oath of office was to appoint Major C. S. Noble, former city engineer, his first assistant.
If you saw it in the Enterprise it's so.

ADVERTISING TALKS NO. 10

(By Ralph Kaye)
Putting more ink on the right side of the ledger—that is what your advertising should do to a certain extent. That is what advertising is for—to sell more goods at a profit by helping every other selling link in your selling chain get more business, sell more goods, obtain more customers.
It is the firm of every business firm in Oregon City to make a reasonable profit on the investment. In order to do this they must sell what they have at a profit. There is one salesman who is at the beck and call of every firm that sells a commodity and that salesman is Advertising—whose power, force, energy, potentiality, omnipotence, authority, strength—is the one means that can cause, originate and create a demand for your goods and produce a steady reliable, profitable year—arouse the trade.
Take the big successes in the mercantile world today—they have a demand for their goods at all times. They advertise. They have built up a prestige for their goods that cannot be shaken. Yet they used the one Salesman that is open to you. There is just as much reason for your goods being used as for any others. Let the public know these reasons in no unmistakable manner.
But as long as you do not use this salesman in the right way—people will not ask for your goods and therefore you will not be putting more ink on the right side of the ledger.

DEMAND FOR BEST APPLES IMPROVES

For the better grade of apples a better movement is showing. Offerings from the country are not nearly so liberal, and while the trade here still has its full requirements for the immediate future, the outlook is much more hopeful.
Leading associations dealing in apples have already decided that the situation warrants a higher price and for that reason they are asking prices fractionally above those previously quoted.
The situation is deriving practically all of its strength at the moment from the great damage to the orange crop and the higher prices that are being asked for the product. Not only has the damage to the crop been considerable, but the reports of frost-kill stock keep the public from buying oranges as freely as otherwise. This will be a direct aid to the apple market situation.
Abroad the situation is expected to show an improvement of even greater extent than at home, therefore for good quality apples the indications are much more hopeful. Small sizes continue weak and are still showing neglect at very low prices.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:
HIDES—(Buying) Green salted, 7c to 8c; sheep pelts 25c to 65c each.
