VOL. V.—No. 19

OREGON CITY, OREGON, FRIDAY, JAN. 24, 1913.

PER WEEK, 10 CENTS

GOVERNOR TARGET OF BOTH HOUSES

LEGISLATORS ARE DETERMINED TO PUT VETO THREAT TO TEST

SIX SENATORS ARE NOW "BOLTERS"

Bill Giving Board Power to Handle
Submerged and Swamp Lands to be Passed Over Veto

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 23.—The defection against patent activities of the Governor in declaring that he will exercise his veto ax and ride like the car of Juggernaut over all the bills of house members who do not line up behind him and his vetoed bills, has crept into the Senate and apparently both houses of the Legislature are now squarely against him.

Six senators, four of whom voted with the Governor on every proposition that came before the body two years ago, bolted from the ranks today. The Thompson bill, giving the State Land Board the power to handle submerged and swamp lands in connection with Oregon lakes, will be passed over the Governor's veto in the State Senate.

This will be the result whatever the judiciary committee may decide on. This much was learned definitely from a sufficient number of Senators to show that it is the inevitable result of West's policy pursued yesterday, unless a gigantic change of heart takes place.

Up to today the question seemed to be somewhat in doubt. A number of Senators were laboring under the belief that the bill should pass, but were inclined to the opinion that this session of the Legislature should do everything within its power to keep unharmonious factional feeling at a distance.

Now, however, the factional feeling and the unharmonious conditions have arisen from the executive offices. Senators who have been counted in the column of the executive on all occasions have heard members of the House recount their harrowing experiences under the lashing tongue of the Governor's venom and declare that they will tolerate no dictation. One Senator told the Governor point blank today that the state government consists of three branches.

REGISTRATION BILL WOULD AID VOTERS

REPRESENTATIVE GILL'S MEAS-URE IS FAVORED BY ELECTORATE

PLAN IS TO ABROGATE NUISANCE

Voter Who Continued Residence in Precinct Would not be Required to Register
Again

SALEM, Or., Jan. 23. (Special).—Representative Gill of Clackamas County, has introduced the following bill simplifying registration for voting:

A bill for an act to provide for the registration of voters, providing the manner of such registration, the time of such registration, the duties of the county clerk to such registration, for the appointment of official registers defining their duties, providing penalty for their malfeasance in office providing that cities may secure the precinct registers for use in city elections, and repealing Sec. 3447, 3448, 3449, 3450, 3451, 3452, 3453, 3455, 3456, 3457, 3458, 3459, 3460, 3461, 3462, 3463, and 3466 of Lord's Oregon Laws.

Be it enacted by the People of the State of Oregon:

Section 1. The county clerk in each county of this state shall procure such books, cards or other material as may be needed in registering the voters of the county in accordance with the provisions of this act. The board of commissioners in each county shall order to be paid out of the county treasury the reasonable and necessary expenses so incurred by the county clerk.

Section 2. In registering votes, the county clerk in each county, in the general county register, shall use the card index system. The official registration card shall be made from stock of quality that will admit of their lasting indefinitely, said registration cards, shall be three by five inches in size, printed and ruled in substantially the following form: Surname Given name I, having been first duly sworn, say upon oath, that I am a qualified elector, and the statements herein entered, as to my qualifications as an elector are true.

OREGON CITY AND THE DALLES TO DEBATE

The Dalles and the Oregon City High school debating teams will debate the following subject at the High school in this city and The Dalles Saturday evening:

"Resolved, that the electoral college shall be abolished and the President and Vice-President of the United States elected by direct vote of the people."

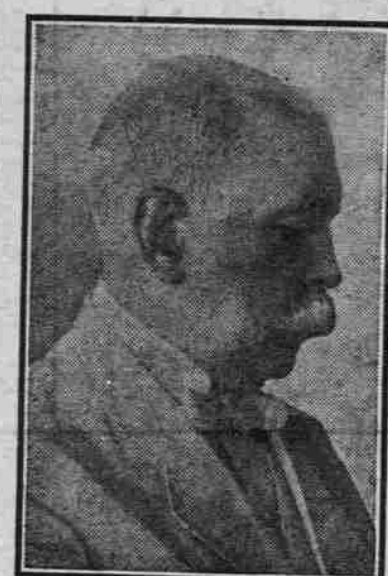

This will be the first of a series of subjects to be debated by High school teams which are members of the State Debating League.

The Oregon City High and The Dalles teams have made thorough preparation for the debate and the contest is expected to be interesting and lively. Each school will have teams representing the negative and the affirmative sides. The Oregon City affirmative team is composed of Elsie Telford, Joseph Hedges, Jr. and Evangeline Dye and the negative team is composed of Joseph Sheehan, Alice Downer and Edward Busch. The negative team will debate at The Dalles.

Principal H. F. Pfingsten will have charge of the Oregon City High school interests at The Dalles and Miss Miller, The Dalles High school coach, will accompany her team to this city.

Mrs. Carlidge, Oregon City High school coach and head of the department of English, has charge of the team here.

The judges at Oregon City will be Judge Robert G. Morrow, Portland, H. W. Stone, secretary Y. M. C. A., Portland, and Fred C. Wheelock. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged.

Enrique Jose Vaona, Vice-President Elect of Cuba.

J. J. EDGREN TO BE BURIED SUNDAY

The funeral of J. J. Edgren, who probably brought more foreigners into Clackamas County than any other man for years, will be held at his home in St. Johns Sunday. Mr. Edgren died of pneumonia which developed from a severe cold. He is survived by his widow and three children. Mr. Edgren developed the "Outlook Tract", near Parkplace and the "Eldra" tract near Viola. Most of the persons to whom he sold land came from Sweden and Norway.

PAID FIRE DEPARTMENT WOULD CUT PREMIUMS

G. G. Faulkner, who is trying to get the Oregon City council to establish a paid fire department, received a letter Thursday from the manager of the board of fire underwriters in Portland, announcing that insurance premiums would be reduced 10 percent if the system were installed. The plan is to have four paid firemen, the chief to receive $100 a month and the others $75 a month. It also is planned to have a combination chemical and hose automobile truck. The adoption of the system would save to the property owners in the business section $6,000 annually, which would more than pay for the improved service according to the promoter.

WEST ACCUSED OF PRISON LAND DEAL

SALEM, Or., Jan. 23.—Representing that Governor West paid $500 down on a tract of land which he bought for the penitentiary, and that he agreed to ask the legislature to make an appropriation for the balance, that he now refuses to do so, attorneys for Archie Jerman, who owned the land, have signified their intention of taking the matter before the legislature. With that end in view, they have been in consultation with members of both houses the last few days.

The tract was acquired about a year ago, when the Governor was making free use of the revolving fund to erect buildings and make other improvements about the penitentiary, and consists of five acres and a fraction. Negotiations to acquire it were first opened by C. W. James, then superintendent of the penitentiary, and who, according to Jerman's attorneys, advised Jerman that the state wanted the land and that it did not sell at a reasonable price condemnation proceedings would be instituted. Desiring to avoid litigation, Jerman conferred with the Governor, with the result that an agreement was reached whereby the state should buy the land for $3,000.

The Governor paid $500 and gave his note for the balance, say Jerman's attorneys. Finding that he was unable to negotiate the note, Jerman took up the phase of the situation with the Governor, say his attorneys, with the result that West promised him that he would ask the legislature to make an appropriation to cover the balance. Shortly before the session convened, Jerman, according to his attorneys, again conferred with the Governor and was then advised that the Governor would not recommend to the legislature the making of the appropriation.

The $500 check bore the name of State Treasurer Kay, and, proceeding on the theory that state funds had been drawn and that the state treasurer was also interested in the transaction, Jerman went to Kay for assistance, when, they say, the discovery was made that Governor West had borrowed $500 from the state treasurer and that Kay did not know to what use the money had been put until months afterwards, when the Governor informed him of the matter, and asked him to wait for it until the legislature could make an appropriation. He is still waiting for the money, they say, but will not ask the legislature to make an appropriation in order that he may be reimbursed, and looks to the Governor personally for repayment.

Jerman's attorneys contend that the Governor in buying the land acted as agent for the state and pledged its credit, and that the legislature ought now to make an appropriation to pay the balance due on the land.

SUFFRAGETTES WIN BRITISH STATESMAN

LONDON, Jan. 23.—One lone man pitted against 20 determined women was the situation faced today by David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer here, when he was visited by a deputation of suffragettes from all parts of England, in the interest of "votes for women." The deputation included actresses, fish women, domestic servants, laundry workers and boot makers, and Lloyd-George was forced to yield to their arguments.

Lloyd-George backed away when he was addressed by Mrs. Norton, a Yorkshire weaver. "I am here with a warning," she began. "If votes are not granted to women at this session of parliament I warn you here and now that the past performance of militant suffragettes will look like pin pricks compared with what we will do in the future."

Right here the chancellor declared himself in favor of giving the vote to women. "Personally," he said, "I favor the Dickinson amendment enfranchising householders and the wives of householders, but I hereby pledge the support of the government to any amendment acceptable to the house of commons."

Mrs. Flora Drummond, the first speaker, urged support of Sir Edward Grey's amendment to the franchise reform bill. Other speakers were Mrs. Mary Wood, an employee of an east end sweat shop, and Mrs. Ann Bigwood, a factory worker. Lloyd-George listened attentively to all the arguments, answering several of the speakers. While he favored giving the ballot to women, he denied that any member of the cabinet would resign if the suffrage amendment were lost.

PRESENT FIRE LAW FAVORED BY WOMEN

The Woman's Club, at a meeting Thursday, adopted a resolution providing that the Oregon legislature be requested not to amend the law relating to forest fires. The present law was passed at the instance of the federation of Women's clubs of the state. Mrs. Frederick Egbert, chairman of the trustees Scholarship Loan Fund, and the first woman in the United States to be admitted to membership of a state medical society, was the principal speaker. She said that although she was born in England, she believed Oregon was the best place in the world to live. Mrs. Egbert declared she had been interested in politics since 1856. The speaker urged that the state do everything possible for the university and declared that lack of interest had caused many young men and women of this state to attend the Washington university.

Announcement was made that three Oregon City girls had been aided by the Scholarship Loan Fund which totaled $3,600. Mrs. Price, of Portland, rendered a solo and responded to an encore.

AUTO CLUB URGES RISLEY FOR JUDGE

BEATIE ALMOST CERTAIN TO BE APPOINTED MARSHAL
OF STATE

STATE ASSOCIATION BEING PLANNED

Committee Named to Get Subscriptions for Repairing Road
From Here to New Era

The Clackamas County Automobile Club, at a meeting in the Commercial Club Thursday evening, unanimously endorsed C. W. Risley, of Risley Station, for county judge in the event County Judge Beatie is appointed United States marshal by the incoming Democratic administration. There is every reason to believe that Judge Beatie will be given the promotion, and the automobile club will urge Governor West to appoint Mr. Risley to the vacancy here.

The secretary of the club was appointed a committee of one to organize a state automobile association, under the direction of the American Automobile Association. C. W. Risley was appointed a delegate to represent the club at the Federal Aid Good Roads Convention to be held in Washington, D. C., March 6 and 7. Mr. Risley announced that he would attend the convention. The club started a subscription for the improvement of the road between Oregon City and New Era. C. W. Risley, M. D. Latourette and John C. Busch were appointed a committee to obtain subscriptions.

The election of officers was postponed until the next meeting.

SALOON MAN SEEN MONDAY IN PORTLAND

Carl Hodes, the saloonkeeper, who mysteriously disappeared last Saturday afternoon after drawing at least $200 from a local bank is believed to be in Portland. An employee of the Mason & Ehrman Company, of Portland, has informed Chief of Police Shaw that he saw Hodes in Portland last Monday afternoon. The saloonkeeper being a temperate man and being devoted to his family the authorities are unable to account for his disappearance. A theory that he wandered away while suffering from mental aberration is the only one that has been advanced. Hodes had an interest in two saloons in this city.

HUSBAND TRIED TO CHOKER, SHE SAYS

Alleging that her husband spent many evenings from home Minnie Patterson Thursday filed suit for a divorce from William B. Patterson. They were married in Chicago November 1, 1897. Cruelty also is alleged. Lillian A. Hamilton asks a decree from Edmund E. Hamilton. They were married June 27, 1900 in Grand Rapids, Mich. The plaintiff avers that her husband deserted her December 1, 1911. Mattie Gordon wants marital release from Charles H. Gordon. They were married October 22, 1909. The plaintiff alleges that although her husband made $150 a month as a cook in Portland he compelled her to work as a waitress. She alleges that April 6, 1912 he tried to choke her.

LABOR FEDERATION SCORES WORKMEN ACT

SALEM, Or., Jan. 23.—Split wide open over the resolution censuring Representative A. W. Lawrence for his introduction of the workmen's compensation bill, the State Federation of Labor spent the entire morning in one of the stormiest sessions it has ever known. At the latest report obtainable the fight was still on and no vote had been taken.

Last night the federation condemned the compensation act by a vote of 54 to 23, after debating the measure all day long.

Today, bitter feeling is said to be running high among the delegates, and many of those who voted to condemn the bill are demanding that Lawrence be censured in strong terms. They declare that he, as a union man, had no right to introduce the bill until he found out the attitude the federation would take in regard to it.

On the other hand, the supporters of the bill and friends of Lawrence are fighting bitterly against the resolution. Lawrence has told the federation that he did not concede them the right to criticize him for his action, as is not in the legislature to represent labor any more than any other class of citizens of Multnomah County.

Mrs. Jaggar was born April 14, 1831, near Manchester, England, at which place she lived until her fourteenth year, when she came to America with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wrigley, settling in Pennsylvania. While living in that state she and Benjamin Jaggar were married, and after living in several eastern states for a number of years, they moved to Clackamas County in 1872. Mr. Jaggar, who was for many years a prominent farmer, died in 1905 and Mrs. Jaggar has since lived with her daughter, Mrs. Vonderahe.
