GOVERNOR'S VETO ENDED BY SOLONS

QUIET AGREEMENT IS REACHED BY MEMBERS OF BOTH HOUSES

ADJOURNMENT FOR ONE WEEK SCHEME

West Declares That Plan Will Not be Successful—Threats Made by Executive Cause Action

STATE CAPITOL, Salem, Or., Jan. 24.—(Special.)—Governor West is to be shorn of his executive veto power by the present Legislative Assembly. His threats are to react and result in leaving him an almost negligible factor.

A quiet agreement has been reached among members of both houses by which the Legislature will have the opportunity of passing on every veto which the Governor applies to the bills of this session. There is a sufficient backing in each house to make this move a success.

The plan is simply to take an adjournment for a week at the end of the 40 days of the session. The Governor has five days in which to sign a bill, veto it, or automatically allow it to become a law.

The Legislature is given power to adjourn from time to time as it sees fit unless it adjourns sine die. Under the constitution it cannot adjourn for a longer period than three days at any one time without adjourning sine die, but by a concurrent resolution of both Houses this rule can be changed and the Legislature may adjourn for a week, 10 days or any time it sees fit and can remain in session as long as it desires.

The only drawback is the fact that the legislators will receive their per diem only for the 40 days of the session.

WIDOWS' PENSION BILL BECOMES LAW

COMMITTEE TO PROBE OREGON NAVAL MILITIA TO MEET ON CRUISER

DIMICK AND JOSEPH HAVE COLLOQUY

Both Houses Take Recess to Hear Troop of Colored Men Sing—Fight on West Continues

SALEM, Jan. 24., (Special.)—Fights on veto bills of the Governor consumed the major portion of the legislative session today, four bills in the House and the Thompson bill in the Senate being carried over his veto, the four bills in the House being Senate bills, and all five bills being laws. In the house Gill introduced a bill regulating fishing in the Necanicum River and also regulating the boarding of prisoners at county jails by sheriffs.

Senator Dimick caused the uproar of the day when in the Senate he announced that the special committee which has been named to investigate the Oregon Naval Militia will meet for the first of the investigation on board the Cruiser Boston in Portland Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

His talk on that subject was injected with humor and witty sallies on Senator Joseph, of Multnomah, chairman of the committee as well as at George Shepard, who was largely responsible for the present investigation being brought about.

The House today passed the widows' pension bill. Otherwise the day's proceedings were quiet, although four House bills passed the Senate including one which abolishes the office of state land agents.

HODES BELIEVED FOUL PLAY VICTIM

AUTHORITIES SEARCH IN VAIN FOR MISSING OREGON CITY SALOON MAN

INVESTIGATION AIDED BY BROTHER

Report That Hodes Was Seen in Portland Monday Afternoon Proves to be Untrue

The mystery surrounding the disappearance of Carl Hodes, the saloonkeeper, depends daily and it is now confidently believed by Sheriff Mass and Chief of Police Shaw, who have made a search for the man, that he was the victim of foul play. Not the slightest clue has been obtained of the man's whereabouts, although a systematic search has been made since last Saturday night. Hodes disappeared early that afternoon, and, according to one report, he had $1,500. The sheriff and police, however, are of the opinion that he had less than $100.

A report that Hodes was seen Monday in Portland by an employee of the Mason & Ehrman Company has been found to be groundless. T. G. Miller, the electrician, saw the saloon man at 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and George Simmons, formerly in the theatrical business, saw him between 6 and 7 o'clock the same evening. So far as is known Simmons was the last man who was acquainted with Hodes to see him.

The missing man was devoted to his family, which consists of a wife and five children, and was in good circumstances financially. The authorities so far have been unable to learn any reason that might cause him to desert his family, unless he left while suffering from mental aberration. He fell on the sidewalk about two weeks ago and sustained an injury to his head, which, it is possible, unbalanced his mind, although the physician who dressed the injury said it was not serious. Hodes had lived in Oregon City eight years, having come here from Corvallis. A brother, who lives in Corvallis, and a brother-in-law, who lives in San Francisco, were in this city Friday aiding in the search for the missing man. Mrs. Hodes and her children are almost prostrated as a result of the disappearance of Mr. Hodes. He is about 42 years of age, almost six feet tall, weighs about 200 pounds and is a decided blond.

CRUSHED BY TRAIN, HE CALLS FOR AID

YOUNG RAILROAD MAN FATALLY INJURED NEAR SOUTHERN PACIFIC STATION

NIGHT AGENT GOES TO HIS RELIEF

Clifford Miller, of Willamette, With Both Legs Cut Off, Able to Tell Name and that of Mother

Clifford Miller, 25 years of age, who has been living in Willamette for several months, was horribly mangled by a freight train within 100 yards of the Southern Pacific Station, in this city at 11 o'clock Friday night. Drs. C. H. Meisner and W. E. Hempstead, who are attending him, say it is improbable that he will recover. The man's right leg was severed at the hip and his left leg at the knee.

Miller, who had been employed as a trainman, tried to board a freight train in the station. He missed his footing and fell under the wheels. Several minutes later when Edward Maddox, station agent, started down the track on his way home, he was attracted by groans. As he drew nearer the injured man he heard him say, "For God's sake help me; I'm dying." Maddox went to the aid of Miller, and calling several men who were in the station, Miller was removed to the waiting room. Drs. Meisner and Hempstead were summoned, and after a hasty examination had the man removed to the Oregon City Hospital. At the hospital Miller was able to give his name and said that he and his mother had come to Oregon several months ago from Des Moines, Ia. His mother is Mrs. F. C. Miller, and she is visiting a friend in Willamette. The injured man said they had lived at 2119 Ninth Street, Des Moines.

All efforts to notify Mrs. Miller of her son's injury were unavailing this morning, the telephone service to Willamette being closed. He lost much blood before he was found and given medical attention.

FIFTY CENTS GET TWO MEN IN SERIOUS TROUBLE

Quarrelling over 50 cents was the cause of the arrest of John Laurich and Joe Gazefsky Friday afternoon. About 2 o'clock Laurich, who was partly intoxicated, asked Chief of Police Shaw to swear out a complaint against Gazefsky. The Chief investigated and found that Laurich was the real cause of the disturbance. When taken before Recorder Stipp Laurich was fined $10 and sentenced to five days in the city jail, while Gazefsky was fined $2.50 which he paid.

Rev. Smith Preaches. In the absence of Dr. T. B. Ford, Rev. Erastus Smith, Baptist county missionary, preached at the Willamette Church Friday night, his subject being "The Parting of the Way." Mr. Smith will conduct services in the Willamette Church Sunday and evenings during the week.
