MEADOWBROOK.

The snow did quite a bit of damage to the fruit trees and the telephone wires, which was about nine inches deep.

Will Bohlender worked in the shingle mill at Mullino for a few days. Mrs. P. O. Chindgren and daughter Mabel, visited at Mrs. Milton Chindgren's Thursday.

Will Bohlender made a business trip to Oregon City Monday.

The young folks enjoyed the snow by snow balling and sleigh riding. Glenn Larkins visited his uncle J. M. Larkins, of Maple Lane Tuesday and Wednesday.

BARLOW.

The heavy snowfall broke many of the electric wires and the city was in darkness Friday and Saturday nights, but Sunday Mr. Hurst and his men repaired the wires and turned on the current Sunday evening. Some alarm was felt about the city water supply running out but there was plenty of water in the tank to run the city until the wires were repaired.

Wayne Baurer, who had diphtheria is improving and there are no other cases reported. Little Donald Bauer, who has had typhoid fever suffered a relapse and his temperature is running again. Dr. Mount, of Oregon City was called Friday.

School opened Monday after being closed for a week from the diphtheria scare.

Laverne Burdick took the eighth grade examination Thursday and Friday. Mr. Melvin gave the examination.

Mr. Wurfel went to Portland Sunday to see his daughter, Irene, who was operated upon for appendicitis. Irene has had a light run of typhoid fever since she was in the hospital but is much improved and will be able to leave the hospital this week. Mrs. Wurfel is still in Portland.

Mrs. Churchill and Ratrine Johnson went to Portland last week.

The big boys, little boys, school ma'ams and girls all enjoyed the snow from the screaming and laughter heard we should judge.

Mr. and Mrs. Mannel King's little daughter was badly burned about the neck and shoulders by hot coffee one day last week. Drs. Dedman and Mason were called to dress the burn.

Lyman VanCleve, who has inflammatory rheumatism is still bedfast and suffering a great deal.

STAFFORD.

We, of Stafford, with the rest of the state, are experiencing some weather. After raining every day but two in this year it blew almost a hurricane Friday afternoon, and Saturday morning. The world was covered to the depth of fifteen inches with snow and Saturday night an additional two inches fell and every tree and bush and fence was laden. Some tree limbs broke down with the weight. A great limb broke from the fir tree in front of Mr. Gage's house. The tree was planted by his son 36 years ago, when the boy was but seven years old and now the giant tree is but a whisp.

The woodshed on the old Hayes place fell in the night and about a dozen hens roosting under it were killed, and one of Fred Baker's seven dogs was also caught in the downfall but Fred, who lives on the place, and is a lover of dogs managed to get the poor animal out, not badly hurt.

The old barn on Mr. Gebhardt's place caved in also. Paths had to be shoveled to get about to do the necessary chores.

A party of eight or twenty young people gave Mrs. Nemea a surprise party Friday evening, and the snow fell so heavy before they went home that their horses could hardly plow their way through and some had hard work to get gates open so as to enter their homes.

On Saturday the mail carrier came as far as Claus Peters, and returned to Sherwood, his wheels a solid mass of snow and his horses about tired out.

On Tuesday Fred Gross, who died of pneumonia at the Oregon City hospital, was buried beside his sister in the Stafford cemetery. He was a strong, healthy looking young man, and had only been sick about seven days. This again bringing to mind the time honored warning: The old must die, and the young may die. His aged father and mother have our deepest sympathy.

Mrs. P. A. Baker is not very much better. Her eldest daughter, Mrs. Hamilton is with her.

Dr. Mount was summoned to Mrs. Nemea's on Tuesday to see her son, Louis, and pronounced the disease typhoid, and they will decide in a day or two whether it is best to take him to the hospital.

Miss Rose Ellegsen, Fred Ellegsen's daughter, was operated upon on Monday at the Oregon City Hospital for appendicitis, and it is reported she is doing well. All will be glad to see her restored to her health and her home. Her mother stayed in the city to be near her and her father or brother have been going down every day. It is an anxious time for all.

The Ladies Circle met with Mrs. Gage last Thursday and although owing to the inclement weather there were but a few present they claim to have had a good time, a profitable day, and every meeting seems to draw the neighborhood nearer together. They re-elected Mrs. Gage as President and Mrs. Ellegsen as Secretary and Treasurer. All are welcome to join. The dues are only 10 cents per month and this will be used for worth purposes, for the benefit of all.

The parent-teachers' meeting is to be held at the school house on the last Friday in January, the 31st, and it is hoped there will be a full attendance as Prof. Gary, Mr. Tooze, of Oregon City and the supervisor of this district are expected to be present and the whole afternoon will be taken up for the good of the school.

"Old Prince," 29 years old in the Spring died of old age on Sunday. He was raised and always lived on the Gage farm and was a very intelligent horse and worth a good sum when a young horse.

ALSPAUGH.

A heavy snow storm fell last Friday night destroying many valuable fruit trees. The farmers are still looking for more damage as the snow is still falling.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Sparks were Estacada visitors Friday evening. Mr. and Mrs. John Githens were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Heiple Saturday night.

Dave Hoffmeister purchased twenty-five head of goats from Mr. J. W. Dewey one day last week.

A quite a number of young people gathered at the home of John Githens Saturday night and played "500". Deasel O'Leary and Hazel Githens carried away the prizes. After partaking of refreshments they departed at a late hour.

Miss Hazel Githens and George Preston were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dick Githens Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dallas were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gordon Sunday.

William Githens of Albany was in the neighborhood visiting relatives last week.

A big dance will be given at Eagle Creek the 25th of January.

JENNINGS LODGE

A. C. McFarlane, who left Saturday for a business trip in Washington, writes they are having lots of snow there.

Lorraine Ostrom made a business trip to Portland on Friday in interest of the Hesperian. He is business manager of the Oregon City High School paper.

Mrs. G. D. Boardman was a business visitor at the Lodge last week. Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Soesbe and son Harold came up from Newport on Tuesday last for a fortnights stay at their cottage here.

Mrs. Margaret Curran, the supervisor of this school district was a luncheon guest at the A. F. Russell home on Monday last.

Of interest at Jennings Lodge will be the general meeting of all Christian people of this place, on Sunday, January 26 at 3 o'clock P. M. for the purpose of organizing a Union Sunday School. The present Evangelical Sunday School, with the consent of the presiding elder and the pastor, will join this Union.

"The Creation of the World" and "The Fall of Man," with illustrated slides will be given at the Chapel on Thursday evening, Jan. 23, at 8 P. M. Admission will be free and a silver offering will be taken.

Heleen has been the name given to the little daughter which came to gladden the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Sanders on Jan. 13th.

Mrs. LeClaire, mother of Mrs. Geo. Ostrom, is recovering from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Royal Stover were week end visitors at the home of Mr. Stover's parents at Latorrelle.

Mr. and Mrs. Orr are receiving congratulations over the arrival of a little daughter at their home.

Mrs. Ralph D. Near was a Portland visitor Thursday.

Miss Esther Campbell has returned from the St. Vincent hospital where she underwent a surgical operation.

After the severe storm which played havoc with the telephone lines, the Oak Grove Telephone Company have repaired its lines in this neighborhood.

On Friday evening of this week the patrons of this school district will organize a Parent-Teacher Association.

Mrs. Chas. Tate, President of the Mothers' Congress, will speak at the school house on that evening. Mrs. Tate has had a great deal of experience in this line of work. An invitation is extended to all parents and patrons of the school to be present.

Mrs. J. Bernard is recovering from her recent illness.

Many were not permitted to attend the dancing party given at the Batdorf hall on Friday night last, on account of the deep snow. The attendance was not as large as on previous evenings. Another dance will be given on the night of Jan. 31st.
