INTERIOR MILLERS OFFERING PREMIUM

Interior millers are still paying a premium for wheat over prevailing prices at tidewater. There is also all sorts of talk regarding the purchases of tidewater interests, much of it being conflicting to such a degree that it is almost impossible to state definitely what the exact market is.

It is known positively that sales of club have been made in the Big Bend section within the last 25 hours at a price that means at least 88 1/2c a bushel tidewater, track basis, but nothing over 86 cents is being offered here. On the other hand, country holders are asking a 90 cent basis for club.

Activity in the wheat market is not nearly so pronounced as for some time recently. Formerly the call was confined almost entirely to the bluestem, but now club and forty-fold are taking the lead, the latter as a rule being quoted 2c a bushel above the former.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows:

Frank Chance's $25,000 Salary Fine Piece of Advertising.

HAS BIG TASK ON HAND.

New Manager of New York Americans Will Experience Hard Time Trying to Build Up Weak Club With Material on Hand.

By TOMMY CLARK. The announcement that Frank Chance will receive $25,000 and 5 per cent of the earnings of the New York American league club is about as clever a piece of baseball advertising as has ever been pulled off on the fans. This gossamer about paying a $25,000 salary for piloting a team should be taken with a grain of salt by the fans. It is hard to figure why logical reason why Chance as manager of the New York Americans should be paid a salary three times as large as he received when leader of the Cubs. While at the head of the Chicago team Chance drew for club.

down $7,500 a year and 10 per cent of the earnings of the club. If Chance gets half of the amount mentioned above he will be doing well. Baseball is a hard business proposition, and the managers see to it that players don't get any overwhelming share of the profits. How he will fare as manager of the Yankees remains to be seen. When he assumed charge in Chicago he had the good fortune to inherit a ball team built up by Frank Selee, and while it was badly shattered it still had a number of stars in its ranks, such as Evers, Sheppard, Tinker, Schulte and Brown.

But he got wonderful results out of this team. It began to crumble in 1910, but Chance pulled it home a winner and in 1911 and 1912 gave the Giants a hard struggle.

The collection of players he falls heir to are not anything to speak of, with the exception of one or two men. They were a sadly disorganized lot at the conclusion of the season.

Chance will be placed in entire charge of the team, given a free rein and be judged by results. As a disciplinarian he is in a class by himself, and there is no doubt that he will be able to handle the players under him to better advantage than if they were left partly to others.

Chance's main danger is that the fans are apt to expect superhuman things of him. The fact that he himself does not believe that he can build up a winner in a single season is shown by the fact that he signed a three years' contract. He will have little trading material and will therefore be obliged to develop a team of youngsters.

President Robert C. Watson has received a letter from P. Deschamps, president of the Golf de Paris, from La Bouille, France, inviting the United States Golf association to choose a team of four professional golfers to play a Franco-American professional team match against four of the leading French professionals at the La Bouille links at the end of June, 1913. As some of the leading American professionals will undoubtedly be abroad to play in the British open championship it will be easy for them to go to France to take part in the event. The French association will guarantee to each player on the American team $100 for traveling and maintenance expenses and an extra $200 to the winning team, with a medal for each of its players.

The proposed dates for the Franco-American match are on either June 27 and 28 or else June 30 and July 1, which is left to the option of the American team.

Captain C. N. Snowden, Jr., of the Yale varsity crew announced recently that James O. Rodgers, '98, has resigned as head coach of the university crew and that W. A. Harriman, '13, will succeed him in the spring. Mr. Rodgers will continue to give as much time as he can spare from business to the development of the university boat.

Jumping a Thousand Hurdles. The craze for strange records began a great many years ago. There was an elderly London omnibus driver named Priestly who at Hull, in 1803, jumped a thousand hurdles, each three feet six inches high, in sixty-one and a half minutes. It is said that this record has never since been equaled. Priestly began omnibus driving in the same year, 1803, and during his forty-six years in the service of the London General Omnibus company he drove buses a distance of about 50,000 miles.—London Star.

MRS. WILSON'S SECRETARY.

Wife of President Elect Selects Miss Hagner, Who Served Mrs. Roosevelt.

The announcement that Miss Isabella L. Hagner has been selected as social secretary by Mrs. Woodrow Wilson is of interest in Washington, where Miss Hagner had considerable prominence during the Roosevelt administration. She served in a similar capacity to Mrs. Roosevelt, whose personal friend she has been before the Roosevelts entered the White House.

Miss Hagner was prominently identified with the social life of the entire Roosevelt administration. She is the daughter of Dr. Charles E. Hagner and a niece of Justice Alexander B. Hagner of the supreme court of the District of Columbia. She has been identified with smart residential circles from the time she entered society. Since the close of the Roosevelt administration Miss Hagner has been a clerk in the state department.

What to Do With Apples.

Belmont baked apples are made in the following way: Wipe selected red apples and make two circular parallel cuts through the skin of each, leaving a three-fourths of an inch band around the apple midway between stem and blossom ends. Put in baking dish, sprinkle tops generously with sugar and add boiling water to cover bottom of pan. Bake in a hot oven until the apples are soft, basting with sirup in pan.

To make Dutch apple cakes, says the Woman's Home Companion, mix one cupful of scalded milk, one-third cupful of butter, one-third cupful of sugar and one-third teaspoonful of salt. When lukewarm add one yeast cake broken in small pieces, two unbeaten eggs and bread flour (once sifted) to make a soft dough. Cover and let rise until mixture has nearly doubled its bulk. Cut down, beat thoroughly, cover and again let rise. But down, spread evenly in a buttered dripping pan and brush over with melted butter. Wipe, pare, cut in eighths and remove cores from five sour apples. Press sharp edges of apple sections into the dough in parallel rows, lengthwise of pan. Mix one-fourth cupful of sugar and one-half teaspoonful of cinnamon and sprinkle over dough. Then sprinkle with two tablespoonfuls of currants. Cover, again let rise until light and bake thirty minutes.

Hideous Hats.

Why should the Irish cabman, one of the most hideous of headresses, be adopted by beauty as one of fashion's favorites? It has a strange, unfinished, rough-jolly kind of expression that asserts very badly with a poetic face. There is no gainsaying that sometimes it is a very becoming headgear, but nothing can make up for its want of dignity. Many girls seem to study the best way to look utterly unkempt. It is a mistake.

Time to Go.

"How much like you your little girl is, Mrs. Brown," remarked an acquaintance who met them on the street one afternoon.

"How odd that you should think so," replied Mrs. Brown. "She's my first husband's child by his first wife!"

"Indeed! A-a-at all events I don't think I'm wrong in saying your little boy is the image of Mr. Brown!"

"He's my son by my first husband, Mr. Green!"

"Ah, yes. Good afternoon, Mrs. Brown."—Newark Star.

The Ideal Beauty in Japan. In the Japanese ideal of beauty these are the desired "points." Her face and figure, hands and feet and her nose must be long and narrow, her arms and limbs slender and her hips small. Broad hips are the one unpardonable sin. Few Japanese women measure five feet, so the length of the figure is relative.
