SCOTT GAINS POLE ONLY TO PERISH

DARING EXPLORER AND FOUR COMRADES VICTIMS OF BLIZZARD

AMUNDSEN'S ACHIEVEMENT PROVED

Men Returning from Goal When They Die in Storm—One Killed by Fall

LONDON, Feb. 10.—At a meeting of the Royal Geographical Society tonight announcement was made of a disaster which has overtaken Captain Robert F. Scott's Antarctic expedition, resulting in the death of Captain Scott, Dr. E. A. Wilson, Lieutenant H. R. Bowers, Captain I. F. G. Gates and Petty Officer E. Evans.

Captain Scott's party, said Douglas W. Freshfield, vice-president of the Geographical Society, in making the announcement, found Captain Roald Amundsen's tent and records at the South Pole. On the return trip about March 29, 1912, 11 miles from One Ten Depot, a blizzard overwhelmed them. They had suffered greatly from hunger and exposure and the death of Scott, Bowers and Wilson virtually was due to that. They died soon after the blizzard swept down on the party.

Gates died from exposure a few days later. The death of Evans resulted from a fall. The other members of the expedition are reported to be in good health. A searching party discovered the bodies of those who perished some time later.

The news of the appalling disaster which befell Captain Scott and his comrades was received by a signal message from the Terra Nova, the vessel which had carried the explorer and his expedition to the Antarctic, and which late last year went once again to the South to bring him and his companions back.

Captain Scott's main traveling party was to consist of 16 men besides himself, while groups of four men each were to return at different stages of the journey, leaving Scott and four others to complete the final dash to the Pole.

Captain Scott's party reached the exact point where Roald Amundsen planted the Norwegian flag at the South Pole. They found there the hut constructed and left behind by Amundsen's party.

These facts were reported in the documents found on the bodies of the explorers when they were recovered.

2 BOYS THOUGHT THIEVES ARE SHOT

DEPUTY SHERIFF WHEELER FIRES ON LADS HE FINDS IN BARN

ONE SERIOUSLY WOUNDED IN BREAST

Portland Young Men, on Way to Eastern Oregon, Stop in Stable to Get Feed

Mistaking them for horse thieves, M. J. Wheeler, deputy sheriff, living near Poring, shot and seriously wounded Donald Cooper and Kenneth Specht, both of Portland, early Monday morning. Mr. Wheeler was awakened by a noise in his barn about 1 o'clock, and made an investigation. He found Specht, who is 17 years of age, and Cooper, who is 20 years of age, in the barn.

Wheeler says he shouted to the young men to throw up their arms, and that Specht held up one but that Cooper refused to comply with the command and drew a pistol. Wheeler, who had a rifle, fired, the ball entering Cooper's breast. Specht was shot twice in the left hand. Wheeler at once telephoned for a physician at Gresham and the wounds of the young men were dressed. Cooper was so seriously wounded that the physician advised that he be kept at the Wheeler home. Specht accompanied his mother, who was summoned soon after the shooting, to Oregon City. Both young men denied they had any intention of stealing horses, but entered the barn to obtain feed for a horse they were driving.

Specht, who had been working at a meat market on East Burnside Street, and Cooper had been chums for several months. They obtained a horse and buggy at the meat market Sunday afternoon with the intention of going to Eastern Oregon to obtain work. Specht said that he had no reason for leaving home, but was influenced to do so by his companion. Mrs. Specht soon missed her son and began a search for him soon after the young men departed in the buggy. The Specht home is at 467 East Couch Street and Cooper lived at 11 1/2 Twelfth Street.

Announcement was made that the men probably will be prosecuted in Multnomah County for taking the horse and buggy without obtaining permission of the proprietor. Wheeler has not been arrested.

The addresses at the Presbyterian Brotherhood tonight will be devoted to Abraham Lincoln. Rev. H. H. Pratt, of Portland, will deliver the principal oration. Miss Clarence Grace will render several selections on the piano. Each member has been requested to bring one boy with him.

If you saw it in the Enterprise it's so.

SHORT STORIES PICTURED AT THE GRAND TODAY

Fooling Their Wives

Brown, Jones and Smith go camping and leave their wives very lonely. When the men return, the wives get square take a turn at camping. The husbands disguise themselves as tramps and attempt to break up the camp, but the women chase them into the lake and the men argue to return home.

Quarantined

Lieutenant Mason is engaged to Ruth Wilson, the Colonel's daughter. His father, a grumpy old banker, objects and when he hears that the couple are going to get married and go to the Philippines he goes to the Colonel to protest. There is a small pox scare and the doctor of the regiment to help young Mason seizes the father and confines him in the hospital until after the wedding is over.

"Off The Road"

Just think of it. A young man discovers he is in love with the daughter of a man who killed his father. When the guilty man learns who his expected son-in-law is, he dies of remorse. He leaves a confession of his guilt, which the young man finds in time to keep a knowledge of it from his wife-to-be. He comforts her in her bereavement and marries her. A greater test of love can scarcely be imagined, but he endures and he is blessed. The conveyance by this picture of the thoughts involved can be better seen in its showing at THE GRAND today.

Her Faithful Yuma Servant

Senorita Garcia, the daughter of wealthy parents, refuses to marry a man her family has selected. She accepted the only alternative, leaving with her Indian servant to join the Indian tribe. The beautiful girl, lonely and sick at heart, earns her livelihood by selling Indian wicker baskets and earthenware. After several years of this unsatisfactory existence she meets with a gentleman whose curiosity is aroused by the presence of a white woman among the Indians. He asks her why and she unfolds the story of the sacrifice she has made to true love. In reply he paints a picture of a lonely father and mother waiting and anxious to welcome their lost daughter back home. The Senorita nods her head, a tear starts and the story ends.

MRS. WARNER, 83, DIES SUDDENLY

OREGON CITY PIONEER PASSES AT HOME IN MOUNT PLEASANT

DECEASED CROSSED PLAINS IN 1852

Funeral to be Tomorrow Afternoon at Congregational Church, Rev. Edwards Officiating

Mrs. Elizabeth Keiser Warner, widow of the late Arthur Warner, died at 7 o'clock Monday morning in Mount Pleasant, after a brief illness. She had been a sufferer of facial neuralgia for a long while, but was confined to her bed only one day.

Mrs. Warner was born in Troy, N. Y., April 16, 1830, and came across the plains with her parents in 1852, settling at Eola, near Salem, Marion County. There she met Mr. Warner and in 1854 they were married and came to Oregon City, where he engaged in business. Several years later Mr. Warner's health began to fail and in 1865 he bought a farm at Mount Pleasant and they moved there. Mr. Warner died August 13, 1889.

Deceased is survived by one son, Arthur C. Warner, and two daughters, Mrs. A. E. King and Mrs. Ward B. Lawton, all of whom live on the old homestead at Mount Pleasant. The funeral will be held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon at the Congregational Church, Rev. George Nelson Edwards officiating. The pall bearers will be J. T. Apperson, George A. Harding, J. E. Hedges, James Partlow, D. C. Latourette and T. L. Charman.

"DIMICKED" MEANS SOLON DISSENTS

SALEM, Or., Feb. 10.—(Special).—Senate debates at this Legislative session have led to members acquiring rare sobriquets by having the same phraseology used in reference to them day after day. Some of these titles probably will stick long after the 27th session has gone on the historical page. For instance, Dimick is known as "My friend from Eel Island." Moser is given the appellation of "My fat Teutonic friend." Joseph is constantly referred to as "My Irish friend from Jerusalem." Kellaher is named as "Common User Dan" and "Kangaroo Dan." Thompson is known as "My Swamp Angel Friend." Smith of Coos and Curry goes on the josh page as "Unconstitutional Ira," while Butler responds to the title "Constitutional Defender."

A new word also has been coined—"dimicked"—conjugated regularly, the past tense being "dimicked." To say in the Senate today that a man "dimicked" from a proposition, means that he resents.

MISS CAUFIELD IS GYPSY CLUB HOSTESS

Miss Marjorie Caufield entertained the Gypsy Club and a number of her friends at her home Saturday evening. The evening was enjoyably spent at 500 and the prize was awarded to Mrs. Linn E. Jones. Four tables were used. Delicious refreshments were served. The next meeting of the club will be held at the home of Miss Bessie Daulton.

BILL TO REGULATE LOBBYING PASSES

SCHUEBEL MEASURE PROVIDES THAT OUTSIDE WORKERS MUST REGISTER

MEN ALSO ARE TO STATE SALARY

County Road Bonding Act Practically Same as Grange Measure, Wins in the House

SALEM, Feb. 10.—(Special).—Representative Schuebel's bill which provides that every person who is at the Legislature for the purpose of lobbying for or against any bill won an easy victory Monday morning. The lobbyists shall place their name on a public record together with the amount of compensation received by them and from whom it is received. The name of the person or firm by whom the lobbyist is employed must also appear on the public record. The bill also provides that lobbyists may only appear before committees and shall state their arguments before them as such. They shall not lobby any other place than committees except upon the invitation of either house, and then the lobbyist shall talk before the whole house. For the violation of the bill a penalty of from $200 to $5,000 is provided for the employer and a fine of from $100 to $1,000 for the employee.

This bill passed the House by almost a unanimous vote, their being but one dissenting vote, that of J. N. Nolte, of Multnomah County. The bill is considered a victory for Representative Schuebel and a lively fight is promised in the Senate.

Schuebel made no effort to fight for the recall of judicial decisions resolution he introduced in the House several days ago at the request of some Progressives. The committee recommended that it be postponed and the Oregon City man raised no strong protest. Beyond those two measures, the Clackamas County delegation in both houses was out of the public gaze all day.

The passage in the house of the county road bonding act was the most important feature of today's session. The bill as passed is a compromise between the Senate bill by Barrett and the House bill by Hurd. Its provisions are practically the same as those in the Grange bill which was defeated at the general election ex-

ANNUAL BALL TO BE HELD MARCH 25

Proposition to Move Club Headquarters to Weinhart Building Given Consideration

B. T. McBain, recently re-elected president of the Commercial Club, at a meeting of the Board of Governors Monday evening announced the standing committees for the fiscal year. T. W. Sullivan was named chairman of the Publicity Committee, probably the most important one. M. D. Latourette heads the Entertainment Committee and R. L. Holman the House Committee. It was decided to hold the annual ball on the evening of Tuesday, March 25, at Busch's Hall. It is probable that it will be a masquerade ball. The following were named a committee to make arrangements for the dance: M. D. Latourette, B. T. McBain, Dr. Clyde Mount, C. W. Evans and F. A. Olmsted. Invitations will be issued.

The board considered a proposition to move the headquarters to the Weinhart Building, the proprietors having agreed to give a five year lease and add another floor for the exclusive use of the club. It was announced that the Masonic Lodge had been made a handsome offer for the quarters now occupied by the Commercial Club.

The leading standing committees are as follows:

Publicity—T. W. Sullivan, M. D. Latourette, L. Adams, T. L. Charman and B. T. McBain.

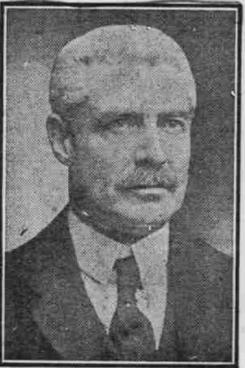

House—R. L. Holman, Dr. L. A. Morris and T. B. Fairclough.

SCHNOERR CHEERED WHEN BILL PASSES

SALEM, Or., Feb. 10.—(Special).—Representative Schnoerr of Clackamas got his bill for a restriction on the number of voters to be registered in a precinct through the House after making his maiden speech as a member of the Legislature. Besides being the only man here in the House who wears whiskers, Schnoerr has the further distinction of being the first member to be cheered when his bill passed. The members saw how proud Schnoerr was to get his bill through and they clapped their hands loudly over it. Three hundred voters is the number permitted in his bill. In Multnomah County, it was said, some precincts contain as high as 600.
