

Stories from Out of Town

STAFFORD.

It froze a little every night for the past week, but days are bright, with some wind. If the frost would leave with a rain, our kale and cauliflower might come out pretty good, otherwise they will freeze in a few days more, but we are enjoying the bright days and good roads, free from mud.

Louis Nemeo, it is reported has passed the crises of typhoid fever, and can soon dispense with the special nurse, but he is still very weak and nearly helpless. He has been subject to nose bleed occasionally, and he had one last week one night, which was almost impossible to control, which must have farther weakened him.

A baby girl arrived at the home of August Deikar last Saturday.

Mrs. Mient Peters, who is with her daughter, Mrs. Shipley, at Willamette and seemed to be getting a little better since being removed there a few weeks ago, is reported this week as not being as well. She is under the care of Dr. Strickland. Her's is a peculiar case, as she has not been able to taste anything for a number of years, and she is but a shadow of her former self, although she is able to be up a part of the time.

Mrs. Boekman returned to her daughter's house, Mrs. Claus Peters, last week after a short time spent with her son and family.

Joe Nemeo did not take a contract to rent a hop field, and returned to his mother's house last week, and was seen busily engaged clearing the vines from her hops and getting ready for the plow, and doing her chores, which is a great help to her.

A so-called mass meeting was called at the school house last Saturday evening to decide a "tempest in a tea pot." It appears that the teacher had brought up the idea which has been worked out in Polk county, of trying to stimulate boys and girls in home industry, by giving a half holiday at the end of every month to all who had lived up to the requirements, which were that all living within a mile of the school should work willingly 45 minutes, two miles 35 minutes, and three miles 25 minutes, they should keep their own time, thus putting them upon their honor, and the last day of every week the parents or guardians should examine the report, and if correct, sign it and send to him, and those who had thus earned it should have a half holiday at the end of the month, under his supervision, that is, they should observe and treasure in incidents of those hours to be used in writing their essays, thus teaching them habits of observation and the art of expressing themselves on paper. Some one had started the mistaken idea that Mr. Larkins wanted to give money prizes at the close of school, and take said money from the public school fund, hence the mass meeting, and the sitting down hard on all things excepts the three R's: read-in, ritin' and ritmatic, but we feel assured if the people had understood the proposition they would have tried to work hand in hand with teachers for all things which would be of interest to the pupils.

We are glad to report that Rosa Ellegesen, who underwent a critical operation for appendicitis, returned home last Saturday and seems to be gradually regaining her strength.

The Ladies' Aid of the German Baptist church, held their monthly meeting at the church on Wednesday afternoon of this week.

The Ladies' Circle will meet with Mrs. Nussbaum next week, Thursday, at 10:30 A. M. All are invited to come and join, and get acquainted with their neighbors.

Mr. Weddle and Dick Oldenstadt baled hay for Jack Ellegesen on the old Papenburg place on Wednesday.

WILSONVILLE.
Roy Baker went to Portland on Saturday to have dental work done. The Parent-Teachers' Association held its regular meeting in the school house on Thursday.

Mrs. Mallory has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Jake Peters.
Mrs. Howard and Rose Graham visited the Young family on Wednesday.

Jud Seely went to Portland on Tuesday on business for the Onion Growers' Association.

Our train schedule has been somewhat changed, leaving out the 10 o'clock car, but we still have fine service.

Anything regarding the parcel post law will be clearly explained by our obliging postmaster.

Aden's store has taken the agency for the McColl patterns, which is a great convenience to home dress-makers.

Mrs. John Murray, who died suddenly on Sunday morning was well known in Wilsonville, and had a host of friends, who were severely shocked to learn of her death. The remains were interred in the Butteville cemetery on Wednesday. The relatives have the sincere sympathy of the community.

Mrs. McConnell, who died of pneumonia a few weeks ago, leaving an infant child, has been followed to the grave by the little babe of three weeks. The baby was well cared for by Mrs. Aaron McConnell, and Dr. Brown did all in his power to save the little one's life, but he succumbed to acute indigestion and died on Saturday evening. He had been named Harvey Nelson, and was laid to rest on Monday at Pleasant Hill cemetery. Mr. McConnell and relatives have the sympathy of all in their sad bereavement.

The school house yard was all cleaned up and a splendid walk laid by the boys, while the girls enjoyed their sewing class on Friday afternoon.

The joke was on Justice of the Peace Say on Saturday evening, when a man with foreign accent called to him on Wilsonville's main street to "take care of his keg of beer for him," while he went to catch his runaway team. Mr. Say cannot be blamed for being more interested in looking out for his own life, as well as that of his son, John, when the team went spinning by, within an inch or two of their toes, and they had barely time to jump on the steps of the hardware store, and escape with their lives. We have not heard what became of the keg of beer or the horses.

Mr. and Mrs. Marion Young entertained a large number of friends in a delightful manner on Wednesday evening, February 5th, at their commodious and beautiful home near our village. "Five Hundred" and "Pit" were the games of the evening and afforded a great deal of pleasure to the guests. At the close of the games, Mr. Jake Peters was found to have the highest score and was awarded the prize after a unique hunt gotten up by the bosses. The guests followed Mr. Peters from one place to another in eager anticipation until the prize was finally discovered in a book upon the secretary's desk, and Mr. Peters received congratulations. An elegant collection of good things was prepared in the dining room and the guests were allowed to help themselves in splendid cafeteria style. The following friends enjoyed the hospitality for which Mr. and Mrs. Young and family are famous: Mrs. Howard, Rose Graham, Mrs. Mallory, Mr. and Mrs. Aden, Mr. and Mrs. J. Peters, Mr. and Mrs. Myers, Mr. and Mrs. J. Thornton, Kate Wolbert, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Say, Helen Murray, Sherman Seely and Mr. and Mrs. Norris Young.

Mr. Marion Young, Mrs. Norris Young and Mr. Murray went to Oregon City on Saturday evening to take in the basket ball game.

Mrs. Pettinger, of Oswego, will lecture at Wilsonville on Friday evening, in the school house.

A great many people in this vicinity attended the funeral of Wm. Scott on Tuesday.

MACKSBURG.
The Spring energy of the ranchers has been awakened by a week of bright sunshine. These are tokens of an abundant year. Even in the frosty nights that succeed these days of sunshine. The nightly cold retards the growth of the fruit buds, which, without the check, would be opening too early for safety in the spring frosts. The sunshine is rapidly drying up the flooded roads and preparing the fields for the plow. Those unerring prophets, the song birds, are filling the air with their tuneful promise of an early spring. Constantly the reports of blasting meet the ear, each telling that some huge encumber of the soil 's scattered in
