LINCOLN AS A In his address at WORLD-INFLUENCE Springfield, Ill., on Lincoln Day the German ambassador to the United States, Count von Bernstorff, touched ably on one of the live issues of the times when he pointed out that the work performed by Lincoln in his own country has been a shaping force to an important degree in other civilized races and nations. The count traced this feeling in the desire of Germany for unification, a wish realized since Lincoln's death and encouraged by his work and example. If the American Union had been torn asunder the value of federated states would have been in doubt, and the arguments of history would have been against racial and political affiliations. In all probability such alliances as that now active in Southeastern Europe would not exist, for if this country had failed its history would be a warning, not an inspiration.

What the ambassador said about the 187,000 men of German birth who enlisted in the Union armies is deserved, and it will never be undervalued. This great army of Germans in America had been born under a manarchical government and spoke another language. But there were entire regiments of Germans in the Union forces East and West, and they performed their work with full courage and devotion. They offered their lives in an adopted country because the ideals, best conceived and expressed by Lincoln, appealed to their sense of right and justice for all men. If Germany has gained good for itself from the works and deeds of Lincoln, from what was achieved under his leadership, it is but part payment of the debt to the liberty loving Germans who have found a home in this country, and aided in its upbuilding. A unified Germany, ever advancing in the scale of nations, is a gratifying fact to Americans.

OREGON CITY SHOULD Sections 3 BE THOROUGHLY CLEANED and 4 of Oregon City ordinance No. 206 relates to buildings which have moss on the roofs. That ordinance makes it a finable offense for property owners to allow such conditions to prevail. It certainly is an untidy and slovenly condition and adds more than anything else to the unsightly appearance of the city, except possibly the presence of tumbled down buildings. They are nuisances and in a great many instances only harbors for rats and other vermin, fire-traps, house hobos, trash and rubbish.

On both sides of Main Street from Fifth Street south there are a number of these places, and some steps ought to be taken to have them removed, cleaned up and the ground put in decent shape.

It is the purpose of the Live Wires to call the attention of the public to these things in a friendly way, so the property owners may see the merits of having their property cleaned and put in presentable shape. We think it is not because the property owners are naturally slovenly, or have little regard for their city, but because of the fact that they are very busy and some of them do not get into that section of the city, and for that reason are unacquainted with the present conditions so it is likely when their attention is called to the matter they will be more glad to have the conditions remedied.

MAIN STREET SHOULD BE THE CITY GIVEN CLEANING AT ONCE council before accepting the improvement of Main Street, between Moss Street and the Abernethy, should insist that the contractors clean the street. The thoroughfare is in a deplorable condition. How can the council say that the hard surface is satisfactory when it is so covered with mud and slime that it cannot be seen? Perhaps there are cracks and crevices in the pavement. Perhaps there are no cracks and crevices in the pavement. The chances are there are no cracks and crevices, but the city council must be sure that the street is all right. A pavement covered with mud and slime cannot be investigated as to its merits. While the Enterprise believes the Montague-O'Reilly Company, which built the street has done good work, the paper insists that the council make an examination, and it is incumbent upon the contractors to clean the street so that the work can be inspected.

WOMAN'S CLUB HAS The city council HELPED CITY PARKS in advocating a renaming of the city parks, has inaugurated a genuine public work. The parks should have appropriate names and the council will see that such names are given. However, the work that the Woman's Club has given in this line should not be forgotten. The patriotic women of this club saved the home of Dr. McLoughlin and raised sufficient money to buy a site upon which to place it, to remain for generations. The home is surrounded by a beautiful park, which the women provided. In all sincerity the Enterprise thinks the club should be consulted regarding the naming of the parks, and, not only that, one of the prominent members of the club should be appointed a member of the board of park commissioners. The women of Oregon City have demonstrated that they know more about providing parks than the men.

MRS. PETERS GIVEN BIRTHDAY SURPRISE

Mrs. Meint Peters was pleasantly surprised on her sixty-sixth birthday by a number of her neighbors at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Shipley, of Willamette, with whom she is living. The guests were loaded with good things to eat and spent the entire day with Mrs. Peters, who assured them it was the most delightful birthday she ever spent. Those present were: Mrs. Corman, Mrs. Ritter, Mrs. Ulrich, Mrs. G. Hoellermier, Mrs. Pamperin, Mrs. G. Elligsen, Mrs. Christensen, Mrs. Leisman, Miss Minnie Bockman, Mrs. Meint Peters and Mrs. Frank Shipley.

FREYTAG GETS BOOKS TO SEND TO FARMERS

O. E. Freytag, secretary of the Publicity Department of the Commercial Club, has made arrangements with the State Library Commission to furnish a set of agricultural books to farmers. The books will be sent here in a few days and Mr. Freytag will arrange for their distribution. They will be left in this county for six months. Mr. Freytag urges the farmers to call for the books, and his only request is that they shall be kept in good condition and returned at the stated time.

LIBRARY BUILDING IS TO BE ALTERED

The board of directors of the Oregon City Library Association Thursday night instructed the secretary to write to the architect of the new building in Seventh Street Park to the effect that the board is not satisfied with the basement walls and the glass. It is urged that the basement walls be made waterproof. The architect is expected to remedy conditions at once. The building cost $10,350 and the fixtures more than $1,250. It is expected that the library will be opened to the public in a few days. The money for the library and fixtures was furnished by Andrew Carnegie.

George F. Baker, famous Among The Money Kings, and His Son

Copyright, 1913, by American Press Association

AMONG the famous financiers who appeared before the Puyo money trust investigating committee was George F. Baker of the First National bank, New York. This photograph of Mr. Baker and his son George F. Baker, Jr., was snapped as they were coming down the steps of the federal building at Washington after Mr. Baker had testified. While Mr. Baker is over seventy, he is strong and vigorous both mentally and physically. This is one of the best snapshots of him, for he has shunned the public limelight, although often called the "real power behind Wall street." He is closely associated with J. Pierpont Morgan.

MOOSE URGE THAT HOT LAKE BE BOUGHT

The Moose Lodge of Oregon City, at an enthusiastic meeting Thursday night, by a unanimous vote advocated the purchase of Hot Lake by the organization as a home for indigent members. Walter A. Pierce, manager of the company which owns the property, is said to have offered it to the Moose order for $350,000. Major C. S. Noble, past dictator and secretary, attended a meeting of representatives of the order at Hot Lake Sunday, and it was the unanimous opinion that the property should be purchased. Ten applicants were initiated at the meeting Thursday night. A committee was appointed to arrange for the first annual ball to be held at Busch's Hall the first week in April. A big Portland team will be present to help celebrate.

LADIES' AID HAS FINE ENTERTAINMENT

A very pleasant meeting was held at the Presbyterian Church Wednesday afternoon when Mrs. N. W. Bowland, Mrs. George C. Brownell, Mrs. A. C. Beaulieu and Mrs. Frank Allred entertained the members of the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. After a business session the afternoon was spent in a social way, with sewing and talking. The hostesses served dainty refreshments which were much enjoyed. About thirty women were present. The next meeting of the society will be held in two weeks in the Presbyterian Church.

MISSIONARY SOCIETY TO MEET TOMORROW

The Women's Mission Society will meet in the Presbyterian Church Friday afternoon when addresses on missionary subjects will be given by several members. The meeting will be called to order at 1 o'clock. Mrs. F. J. Tooze will speak on "Thanksgiving Praise Service." From 1:30 to 2, Mrs. D. C. Latourette will talk on "Confession." Miss Bertha Davis will give a prayer for foreign missions. From 2 until 4 Mrs. A. F. Jack will talk on "Home Missions."

If it happened it is in the Enterprise.

Ordinance No. 489. An Ordinance declaring the assessment for the construction of Sewer District No. 7, Oregon City, Oregon. Oregon City does ordain as follows: Section 1. The assessment for the construction of Sewer District No. 7, Oregon City, Oregon, has been declared and levied according to Assessment Roll No. 17, new series and the whole cost thereof is $5043.69.

Ordinance No. 490. An Ordinance regulating the erection and maintenance of signs and banners extending over sidewalks and streets, and repealing a part of Ordinance No. 489 of the Ordinances of Oregon City. Oregon City does ordain as follows: Section 1. No sign of any kind extending over a sidewalk shall be permitted unless the same is at least ten feet above the sidewalk grade. All signs suspended from a building and extending more than eighteen (18) inches over the sidewalk shall be securely suspended by an iron bracket or hinges and shall be pivoted so that they may be swung flat against the building quickly, if required by the fire department or any other department of the city government. No part of a sign shall be so placed as to interfere with the ingress or egress to and from the windows in case of fire. All signs extending over the sidewalk on Main Street in said city, from the southern limits of said Main Street north to Twelfth Street, shall be constructed of metal or other fire proof material, and on at least one side, each letter shall be outlined with incandescent globes or gas jets, and lighted at least from dusk to 12 o'clock midnight. All electric signs will be provided with a switch on the outside of the building within convenient reach of the sidewalk. No sign shall be extended from the building beyond the curb line except as hereinafter provided. Signs above provided for shall be erected only upon permit from the City Engineer, which shall be granted the applicant therefor upon furnishing the City Engineer with a drawing and description of the sign, which said drawing and drawing shall be dated and filed by the City Engineer and kept by him in a convenient form for reference. Section 2. Any person, firm or corporation desiring to erect a sign to extend a greater distance over the sidewalk than the curb line, or to extend over a street or temporary cloth banner to be hung across the street, shall make application therefor to the Council, submitting the time, the location where the sign is desired and a drawing and description of the same. No such sign shall be erected until a permit therefor has been granted by the Council.

Doctors, Not Lawyers, Will Soon Run the Government

By Dr. CHARLES L. DANA, Professor of Nervous Diseases at Cornell University

IT is in the direction of hygiene, the science of the PRESERVATION OF HEALTH, as opposed to therapeutics, the science of curing disease, that we must look for the greatest development in medicine.

There are, however, some incidents connected with the hygienic crusade which may very well have a favorable influence on the economic position of the medical man. Hygiene PROLONGS THE DURATION OF HUMAN LIFE and prolongs it most notably in the cases of people who are feeble in health, who are chronic invalids. In other words, it gives a LONGER LEASE OF LIFE to those who are most likely to require the services of a physician.

BUT THERE IS ANOTHER ASPECT OF HYGIENE, UNDER WHICH THE DOCTOR WILL GRADUALLY BECOME A MORE IMPORTANT MAN IN THE COMMUNITY. THERE IS A GROWING TENDENCY ON THE PART OF MUNICIPALITIES, STATES AND NATIONS TO CALL IN THE DOCTOR TO REMEDY CONDITIONS WHICH AFFECT THE HEALTH OF LARGE BODIES OF CITIZENS, AND THE TIME IS APPROACHING WHEN MEDICINE WILL BECOME A PART OF STATE-CRAFT AND WHEN DOCTORS WILL DIRECT AFFAIRS MORE AND LAWYERS LESS.
