CHICAGO, Feb. 22.—(Special)—Middle Western states are in the grip of a belated Winter storm that is doing vast damage because of its unseasonableness and the fact that it was almost wholly unexpected. Violent sleet storms yesterday and the day before are being followed by high winds and blizzards which are snapping tele-

That the farmers in the neighborhood of Oregon City are not morally obligated to trade with the merchants of this city, was the consensus of opinion at the meeting of the Maple Lane Grange Saturday afternoon. The meeting was a special one and was called to discuss the question. It was

In a short time the road will be in operation between Oregon City and Beaver Creek and all stock will greatly enhance in value.

The Directors of this Company are all known to the people of Clackamas County and most of them have been residents of this county for more than a quarter of a century, and they will take pride in seeing that the affairs of the Company are faithfully and honestly administered.

Respectfully submitted,

G. B. DIMICK,

Secretary, Room 3 Andresen Bldg., Oregon City, Oregon.

ADVERTISING TALKS NO. 14

(By Ralph Kaye.)

I have before me the advertisements of two different furniture stores. They are both offering parlor chairs at special prices. If I am in the market for such chairs in considering them I naturally have in mind the appearance of my home and what kind of chair will look best with my present home furnishings. One advertisement says that their chairs are "made of quarter-sawn oak, upholstered in real leather and are very comfortable." The illustrations show several styles with the prices in big letters underneath each cut. The other advertisement shows a scene in a parlor with the chairs placed around in an attractive manner. This picture showed the goods advertised in their natural surroundings—they appeal to me and make it easy for me to imagine how they would look in my house.

The reading matter or copy told me how the chairs were made—the kind of wood, upholstery, style, their comfort, easiness of moving, etc. Just the points I want to know before I purchase. Furniture is no different to advertise than any other article. A chair, bed, dresser, etc., can be exploited in terms that are interesting to the customer instead of in dry, stereotyped words that tell nothing. If the furniture retailer would advertise his goods as if they were in his own home and he were using them and knew their wants, he would be surprised how interesting and profitable his advertising would be.

TAXPAYERS NOT AS PROMPT AS USUAL

The payment of taxes this year up to date has been much slower than last year, although the bills were sent out earlier. The largest amount received from one source was $3,000 paid by the Weyerhaeuser Land Company. "We are receiving many requests for statements," said Sheriff Mass, "and I cannot understand why the property owners are not paying more promptly."

A rebate of 3 per cent is allowed on all taxes paid before March 15, except the payers who take advantage of the two payment plan. A penalty of 10 per cent and one per cent interest monthly is attached after the first Monday in April.

FAMOUS PASTOR TO SPEAK.

Dr. Lemuel Call Barnes, field secretary for the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, will speak at the Baptist Church tomorrow evening. Dr. Barnes is the author of "Two Thousand Years of Missions Before Christ" and of other works, and is an orator of international fame. Those who will hear him on Monday evening will enjoy a rare treat. There will be no charge. It is the plan of the pastor of the First Baptist Church to obtain the services of as many men of note who come West as possible, and some rare treats are coming.

TENANT WINS FROM CANBY LAND COMPANY

A jury in Justice of the Peace Samson's Court decided in favor of the defendant in the case of the Canby Land Company, of which Dr. H. Freeze, of Portland, is principal owner, against D. F. Desemo, involving a lease of land. The plaintiff leased the property on shares to the defendant last year, the lease to continue for two years, defendant paying $1,100 for a one half interest in stock and farming implements on the place. It was asserted that the defendant did not divide equally with the plaintiff at the end of the first year of the lease, and the court was asked to eject the defendant. The jury held that Desemo was entitled to remain on the property until the expiration of the lease and ordered that he pay the plaintiff $10.35.

MAN "CRAWFISHES" BUT IS CONVICTED

A plea that he is making crawfish a special study did not save Charles Mohler, who lives at Shipley's Bridge, from a $50 fine Saturday in Justice of the Peace Samson's court on a charge of having caught crawfish out of season. The charge was made by John Sehaber, a neighbor of the defendant, and Constable Frost made the arrest. "I am guilty of catching crawfish," said Mohler, "but I do not think I should be punished for I am working in the interest of science, I am making a special study of crawfish and have to catch them at all seasons of the year to do my work thoroughly." The man was unable to pay his fine and was sentenced to serve 25 days in the county jail. The fish were caught in the Tualatin River near Mohler's home.

MRS. WENTWORTH IS CHARMING HOSTESS

Mrs. Walter Wentworth was the hostess of a number of friends Friday on the occasion of her second wedding anniversary. The guests, who were all Portland people, were former schoolmates of Mrs. Wentworth's and were entertained with various games, music and social chats. At 10 o'clock a delicious dinner was served. The house was prettily decorated with holly and paper of different designs suitable for the occasion. Mrs. Wentworth was the recipient of many useful and beautiful articles. Her guests were, Mrs. Lowry and son, Mrs. Melvin McCord and son, Mrs. William Gould and daughter, Mrs. Charles Blum, Mrs. Ernest McNeeland, Mrs. George Case and sons, and Mrs. John Crawford and daughter.
