TIME TO CLOSE THE DOOR

Turkey has asked the powers will be slow to give. In addition to all she has conceded before resumption of fighting she will now be compelled to yield Adrianople and practically all of her European territory lying outside the Tchataldja lines except a small littoral along the Marmosa Sea and the Gallipoli Peninsula, which are absolutely necessary for her holding the entrance to the Dardanelles. Even this may not be permitted. The powers may decide to have the fortifications of the Dardanelles dismantled and the straits internationalized and left unfortified. In this event Bulgaria may be permitted to take the peninsula and the entire north littoral of Marmor. Turkey would not heed the advice of the powers, and now that she has called to them for help they will probably not insist that Bulgaria and her allies confine themselves to the demands formerly advised to accept.

Should war proceed still further and Constantinople be taken, complete extinction of Turkish power in Europe might result, with Constantinople internationalized as well as the Dardanelles. This is an outcome every civilized nation in the world should desire and promote. If the report of massacre of the inhabitants of Buyuk Chekmadje and the carrying off into slavery of the young girls be true, it should be the final outrage that should unify the Christian nations in a determination to expel the Turk from Europe as a governing power, though not expelling Mohammedans now subjects of Turkey who desire to remain. Buyuk Chekmadje is the seaport where troops were landed to aid in the defense of the Gallipoli Peninsula. They were driven back on board their transports by the Bulgarians. As these troops were not European Turks, but a portion of the new forces brought over from Asia, filled with fanatical hatred of Christians and possessing few of the graces of civilization, the story of the massacre may be true.

It is time the Christian nations decided that it is better to expel Turkey from Europe as a governing power, and thus put a present end to what is bound to go on to the same end eventually, and certainly better than to permit themselves to become embroiled in a titanic war over the matter. It is time now to close the door of Europe in the face of the Turk. The difficulties in the way can not be half so great as the certain consequences of not doing so. If it be not done, the ancient Greek proverb, "Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad" will be again exemplified.

A poor tailor who could not read was taught by his wife after marriage and became president of the United States. The literary test is not conclusive. The United States once had a problem in Mrs. Carrie Nation, but she would have to be multiplied several times to equal England's Pankhurst problem. Mr. Bryan was able to run the Democratic National Convention single-handed. The theory that he would feel comfortable in a cabinet has much to support to it.

COOPER'S DISCOVERY

Best For Your Stomach

Nearly half the people nowadays are simply dragging themselves through life. They feel dull and listless, and are generally "a bunch of nerves." The strain of modern living is the cause of this condition. We do everything in a hurry and nature cannot stand the pace.

Are you one of these half-sicks? Have you an irregular appetite? Do you feel bloated after eating? Do you feel languid and tired all the time? Do you suffer from headaches? Have you a bad taste in your mouth, or coated tongue? Is your breath offensive? Do you suffer from biliousness.

If you have these symptoms your system is in a weakened condition and your stomach, liver and kidneys need attention.

COOPER'S NEW DISCOVERY

is restoring health to thousands who are thus afflicted. If you are one of these unfortunate sufferers you will do well to give this medicine a trial.

Cooper's New Discovery is the one best remedy for stomach trouble because it is simple and direct. It puts into wholesome action the stomach, liver, bowels, blood system and nerves, thereby restoring the vital forces which have been unduly exhausted through lack of proper nutrition. Thus you will be restored from dyspepsia, indigestion, biliousness, loss of vigor, constipation, anaemia, dependency gastric disturbances and most of the diseases which attack a weakened system.

The human body will cure itself of almost anything if nature is given a chance. When every meal digests properly, flushing the veins with good rich blood, clearing away the impurities, feeding the nerves and muscles as nature intended they should be fed you will feel like a new man.

COOPER'S NEW DISCOVERY WILL DO THIS.
