WILSON BECOMES PRESIDENT TODAY

GARRISON TO BE WAR SECRETARY AND HOUSTON HEAD OF AGRICULTURE

REPORT REGARDING LANE CONFIRMED

Washington Thronged and in Gala Attire on Eve of Inauguration of Democrat

WASHINGTON, March 3.—Though President-elect Wilson will not send the names of his Cabinet to the Senate until tomorrow afternoon, authoritative information as to its personnel came from members of his official family when he arrived today. Washington accepts the following as constituting the selections of the President-elect:

Secretary of State—William Jennings Bryan, of Nebraska.
Secretary of Treasury—William C. McAdoo, of New York.
Secretary of War—Lindley M. Garrison, of New Jersey.
Attorney-General—James McReynolds, of Tennessee.
Postmaster-General—Representative Albert Burleson, of Texas.
Secretary of the Navy—Josephus Daniels, of North Carolina.
Secretary of the Interior—Franklin K. Lane, of California.
Secretary of Agriculture—David F. Houston, of Missouri.
Secretary of Commerce—Representative William C. Redfield, of New York.
Secretary of Labor—William B. Wilson, of Pennsylvania.

Many of these names have been known for several days, and chief interest centered in the revelation of those who would receive the portfolios of war, agriculture and interior.

The selection of Vice-Chancellor Garrison, of New Jersey, to be Secretary of War is in line with the idea the President-elect has always had, that the Secretary of War should be a man of unusual administrative ability. The supervision of the island possessions of the United States, including the Philippines, and the Panama Canal Zone, will be important factors under the new administration, and this burden will fall on the head of the War Department. Vice-Chancellor Garrison is a close friend of Mr. Wilson and is regarded as one of the best men New Jersey has ever elevated to the bench.

Woodrow Wilson, of New Jersey, has come to Washington to be inaugurated tomorrow the 20th President of the United States. His was a triumphant entry, the pent-up Democratic enthusiasm of 16 years concentrating seemingly at the gateway of the nation's capital and bursting in a joyful acclaim.

Through a lane of Princeton University students and surrounded by cheering thousands, the President-elect and members of his family were hastened from the station, escorted by an official reception committee to their hotel.

The dome of the Capitol glistened under a brilliant sun as they passed and the city presented a panorama (Continued on Page 2.)

VACCINATION URGED BY SCHOOL BOARD

HEALTH OFFICER NORRIS SAYS THERE ARE FOUR CASES OF SMALLPOX

CITY JAIL IS FUMIGATED BY CHIEF

Library Management Announces that Books will not be Allowed in Families that Have Disease

Whereas, it has come to the knowledge of the Board of Directors that many cases of smallpox exist in Oregon City and vicinity, and

Whereas, the Board has come further to know that there have been many exposures to the disease, the exact persons exposed being unknown to the Board, and

Whereas, there is now a possibility of an epidemic resulting from these exposures, now therefore be it

Resolved, that it is the sense of the Board of Directors that all children and teachers in the schools, as well as other persons in the city, should be and they are hereby earnestly urged at once to be vaccinated.

After a consultation with Dr. J. W. Norris, city health officer, the Board of Directors of the city schools Monday night, went on record as favoring the vaccination of every teacher and pupil in the public schools of Oregon City.

Dr. Norris said there are four cases of smallpox in the city, two of them very severe, though there is no probability of any fatalities. He told the school directors there had been exposures and that he had notified those who had, to his knowledge been exposed, to be vaccinated at once.

"I am of the opinion," said Dr. Norris, "that it would be proper to insist that children be vaccinated. I have not been able to find all those who have been exposed to the disease."

The city health officer stated that it is unlikely that contagion would result before eruption appears, but that it is not impossible. He also explained that there is no surety of a diagnosis before eruption appears. He admitted there is a grave prospect for several more cases of smallpox, and said that if there is a series of cases, there will be a prevalence of the disease here for probably two months yet.

While the school gives ample authority to the Board of Directors to insist upon compulsory vaccination, the directors do not feel that the situation at this time demands drastic measures. Section 3389 of the Code says:

"Any Board of Directors may, on account of the prevalence of any contagious disease, or to prevent the spread of such contagious disease, prohibit the attendance of any teacher or scholar from any school under their control, and may specify the time during which any teacher or scholar shall remain away from such school, and may prohibit the attendance of any unvaccinated child, who has not had the smallpox, upon the schools under their control, and shall also have power to decide how far revaccination shall be required in a case or cases of smallpox have occurred in the city or district."

Chief of Police Shaw had the city jail thoroughly fumigated Monday afternoon. H. Dugger, a mill worker, complained to the Chief Sunday afternoon that he suffered from a contagious disease. Dr. H. C. Messner and Dr. J. W. Norris, health officer, said the man was suffering from (Continued on Page 4.)

More than 150 votes were cast last year. The officers of election were Jack Frost, chairman of the judges; Harry Freeman, judge and Jack Gleason, clerk.

Every gallon pays a big dividend

There's as much difference between sprayed and unsprayed vegetables as there is between those grown on good and poor soil. A gallon of spray material costs only a few cents, but the increase in the value of vegetables sprayed with it amounts to dollars. Try spraying as an investment.

THERE is nearly as much difference in sprays as there is difference in sprayed and unsprayed fruit. Our Lime and Sulphur solution tests 32 degrees—fully two per cent higher than the average spray on the market and cost you exactly the same as the ordinary kind.

We have Sherwin-Williams Bordeaux mixture and arsenate of lead in packages any sizes from one pound up. Come in and get a Sherwin-Williams Spray booklet. They have spraying down to a science.
