CATTLE TRADE IS SLIGHTLY IMPROVED

The Portland Union Stock Yards Company reports as follows:
Receipts for the week have been: Cattle 1469, calves 11, hogs 3515, horses 60.

An unchanged cattle market last week with the exception of Monday, when a few extra choice steers went over the scales at $8 and $8.25. Bulk of steer transactions averaged $7.50 to $7.75, the same as a week ago. Outlet has not broadened appreciably and killers are not filling coolers with beef to capacity. Butcher stock is somewhat weaker. Best cows sold at $6.75, bulk at $6.50. Most of the stuff was only fair quality. Nothing but heavy calves were sold and the market is strong as usual. A good trade in bulls at prices ranging from $6 to $5 was one of the few features. Generally, the cattle market is just steady. Good finished beef is in fair demand in limited quantities only.

The hog market is steady to strong, 15 to 20 cents higher than a week ago. Liquidation has been light while buying demand has not abated, a seller's market for the call but good smooth and rough heavy varieties show proportionate gains. Top loads brought $8.35 Thursday and bulk of sales Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday averaged $8 to $8.15.
Mutton buying confined to Tuesday. Best wethers sold at $3.15, market steady to weak, demand very slow. Poor quality. Sheep difficult to sell. Receipts comparatively smaller. Wethers at $6 and ewes at $5 represent bulk prices on basis of market conditions. Lamb trade steady to slower. Tops at $7 for best wool variety. No sheared stock offering. Market inactive and sticky. Tendency of entire sheep market weak.

LOCAL BRIEFS

Oregon City is to have an ambulance. The management of the Fashion Livery Stable announced Monday that it had ordered an ambulance and that it would be delivered April 1. The city has long needed an ambulance, and the announcement is an assurance that hereafter when one is needed Portland will not have to be appealed to. Horses will be used for drawing the vehicle, a motor vehicle being considered out of the question here owing to the condition of the roads in the county.
Work has been started on the new garage which is being erected by Frank Busch for the Pacific Highway Garage on Main Street between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets. The building when completed will be one of the most complete garages in the county and will be a credit to the city. Both the basement and first floors will be used for garage purposes. The upper floor, for the present at least, will not be finished.

D. O. Anderson, field manager of The Western Stock Journal, has returned to this city after a week spent in Scapoose and Warren where he interviewed the dairymen in that neighborhood in the interest of the Stock Journal. He reports a successful trip and states that stock in that neighborhood is in fine condition. He will soon go to Cleone, Or., on another business trip.
Mr. Poultryman: When you see your chickens moping, wheezing, swollen-headed and sneezing, we recommend Conkey's Roup Remedy. Guaranteed by Oregon Commission Co. **
R. L. Shepard, freight agent of the Portland Railway, Light & Power Company, has returned to his position after an illness of three months of typhoid fever. He was in one of the Portland hospitals during most of his illness.

COUNTY PROSECUTOR TO RECEIVE $1,800
Announcement was made Monday that the county attorney of Clackamas, under the bill passed by the Senate and House, would receive $1,800 a year. This was the amount fixed by the House bill, but it was amended by the Senate making an increase to $2,100. However, the House refused to concur in the amendment and the Senate receded from its position agreeing to $1,800. The bill has been signed by the Governor. It is believed Gilbert L. Hedges will be appointed by the Governor to fill the place. The bill will take effect July 1. District Attorney Tongue, who will become the county attorney for Washington County, will receive $2,400 a year.

Points for Mothers

Contagious Diseases.
To the mothers who must nurse their children through contagious disease there are some suggestions worth remembering. The very fact that trained nurses receive higher salaries when in charge of contagious patients emphasizes the point that there is risk and also requires a special kind of care.
In any disease of this kind isolation is necessary. Not only must the patient be considered, but the members of the family must be protected. Only the doctor and the nurse should be allowed in the sick room.
The room should preferably be at the top of the house, where others need not pass, and where the danger to adjoining rooms will be small. It should be well ventilated. Sunlight and fresh air are nature's important aids that should never be overlooked. Hang in the doorway of the sickroom a sheet moistened with a good disinfectant solution. Chloride of lime is cheap and excellent.
All secretions should be burned. Patients should expectorate in small pieces of cloth or paper, which should be burned. Never, under any circumstances, should handkerchiefs be used and washed with the family's laundry. The risk to the laundress and the other members of the house is unnecessary. The water, sponge, etc., in which the patient is bathed should be disinfected before throwing down the main drains. Germs have a habit of lurking in drains and sewers. Water will not wash them away nor drown them.
Chloride of lime or a 5 per cent solution of carbolic acid will answer all purposes. Bed linen, night clothes, etc., should be placed in this and then thoroughly boiled and dried out in the sun and fresh air.
The nurse, whether trained or the home nurse, should keep up her own fighting strength. The proper care of herself is necessary. Sufficient rest, fresh air and nourishing food should be supplied. If possible a regular exchange in the open air in a complete change of clothes should be taken.
Since the isolation is one of the most trying of experiences to children amusement should be varied. Cheap toys, books and games should be supplied. They must be burned when the little one has recovered, but they will greatly contribute to the passing of the time and will give a cheerful mental condition, necessary to the recovery.
After the patient has recovered there should be thorough disinfection of the room and all things in it. A sulphur candle, a formaldehyde lamp or any of the mechanical sprayers of solutions for the purpose should be used. The room must be thoroughly aired, the door sealed with wrapping paper and the disinfectants allowed to do the work for a week at least. In the large cities a request filed at the bureau of health will bring free disinfection by experts. It is compulsory, but it can be given after any sickness.

When Child Begins to Talk.
When a child is beginning to talk he will be sure to notice what is said by those around him and will retain in his memory a good deal more than he is often given credit for. For this reason things should be given their right names, and correct words should be used in conversation when he is present.
This is the time when picture books are useful in training and educating the little one in everyday matters. Bricks with pictures of letters, figures, animals, etc., on them should be shown to him and the representations on the bricks called by their right names. The brain that is just beginning to work will by the constant repetition of the names become used to connecting the sounds with the pictures.
It is not a good plan to try to force a young child to say new words until he is used to talking; then he will be always saying something new. He is as yet speaking by imitation, but he will, as he develops, connect something tangible with the sounds he makes. The lovely sound mamma becomes connected with mother, and in the same way cat on a picture brick becomes more real when the child learns to connect the sound with the picture and with the real puss of the nursery.

Party For Wee Folks.
For children a fairy party is very attractive. The room should be cleared of ordinary furniture and transformed into a fairy palace. Some painted cardboard, tree branches, tinsel, flowers and twinkling lights skillfully arranged will effect a most realistic transformation.
The invitations should be sent out in the names of the fairies, and the little guests should come as fairies of every clime and, if liked, characters of well known fairy tales.
In similar way it is possible to give a witch party in a magic cave or a Dutch party in a Dutch interior, while forethought will suggest other ideas equally attractive and easy to carry through successfully.
When presents are given at a children's party the following novel idea will be found an attractive method of distribution: Cut a cake into slices and on the outside of each slice fasten a present, with the name of the intended recipient on a little flag stuck in the top of each piece. Place the slices in position again and tie the cake round with a broad ribbon to keep it in shape.
Women Roadmakers.
Germany's roads are maintained in their high state of smoothness and durability largely through the efforts of women, who, like some American convicts, break stones to pay their road taxes. Mothers with their infants can be seen sitting on a pile of large stones breaking them. Only those who are too poor to pay their road tax are forced to "make little ones out of big ones." The only persons in America forced to break stones for roads are felons.—Chicago News.

The South African government employ a veterinary surgeon to study the diseases of ostriches.

BROWNELL TELLS OF WORK OF THE SAVIOR

The Sunday services in the Methodist Church, under the direction of the pastor who is acting as his own evangelist, with the help of his own people and some of the other pastors of the city, were all that Dr. Ford predicted they would be. The exercises in the Sunday school were characterized by unusual seriousness, and plans were made for a series of services for the children Friday and Saturday afternoon and evening. The 11 o'clock services were well attended and deeply spiritual. Charles F. Hazeman conducted the afternoon services and gave an interesting address, pledging the largest cooperation of the laymen in the revival campaign. The pastor spoke on "The Captain of the Lord's Hosts as the Real Leader." A number of prayers were offered, and the testimonies given indicated victory. The Aildredge brothers rendered songs of the olden time.
Before the evening service began a number of the members of the brotherhood met the pastor in his study for a conference and prayer, and went from this into the main service. The chief feature of this service was the address of George C. Brownell on "What I Think of Christ." In this Mr. Brownell justified the highest expectation of the pastor and the people who looked for something decidedly above the average, and the address ranks first among the speaker's greatest efforts. Mr. Brownell justified the work of Christ by his character, teaching and works, and gave him pre-eminence in world-movements in the progress of civilization and the consolidation of peoples in a universal brotherhood founded on truth, justice and love, wherein every man will receive the full measure of his due, and there will be no distinctions based upon discriminations, injustices and cruelties.
Dr. Ford followed, expressing his appreciation of the address and the spirit in which it was delivered, and made an appeal to men to believe what they had heard and accept of Christ as the great force which is regenerating the individual and society, and pleaded for Him to have a chance to do for the people of Oregon City what he is doing for others.
The entire service was pervaded by a spirit of devotion, sincerity and earnestness, and was what the pastor announced it would be, "a great evangelistic service." Many men and women arose promptly, testifying to their faith in Christ and their acceptance of Him. The Aildredge brothers, the regular choir, the Children's Vested Choir and the people joined heartily.
The meetings will be continued throughout this week, every evening at 7:30. The Aildredge brothers will sing.

"MIKE DOE" PAYS DEARLY FOR ATTACK
A man, who could not make his name understood by the court, and who was called "Mike Doe" for convenience, was fined $40 Monday by Justice of the Peace Samson for striking J. Castigan on the head with a club. The assault occurred at the Crown-Columbia Pulp & Paper Mill last Wednesday. The defendant was also compelled to pay court costs.
The surgeon who attended his victim, $10 to the hospital and $25 to the nurse who is attending the wounded man.

SURGEON ALLOWED $200 FOR OPERATION
Dr. George S. Whiteside, of Portland, was Monday awarded a verdict of $200 against George M. Secret, administrator of the estate of S. L. Secret. The defendant's sister was operated on several years ago by the plaintiff, a fee of $500 being asked. The administrator alleged that the bill should have been presented to his father before his death. Dr. Whiteside was engaged by Dr. H. S. Mount, the family physician, to perform the operation.

Portland Couple Weds.
A license to marry was issued Monday to Ethel Stella Bodey and Harry Thomas Johnson, of Portland, Justice of the Peace Samson officiating at the wedding.

PORTLAND AUTO MEN PLAN BIG EXHIBITION

Not wishing to be outdone by other Northwestern cities, Portland's progressive automobile dealers will stage a motor show during the week of March 17-22. While it will not be the most elaborate nor pretentious display of gasoline chariots ever held, it will give the public and sub-dealers a long-sought opportunity to compare the cars side by side. This is the chance many have been patiently waiting for. It is certain that the show will lure thousands of prospective buyers and scores of country agents and those who are looking for the right kind of a car to engage in the business. Upwards of 35 brands of commercial vehicles will be on dress parade.
That the show comes at an opportune time for the country dealers is self evident. Few have closed their 1913 contracts. They will not do so until road conditions are good. This is yet several weeks distant. Coming in the latter part of March, the combined exhibit gives the smaller agents the chance to look over the cream of the field before making a decision.
Cataract Hose Company, No. 2 will hold its annual ball in Busch's Hall this evening at 8:30 o'clock. The dance promises to be even a greater success than any ever held by the company. The fact that this is inauguration day will make the event of more than usual interest. Pray's Orchestra of Portland, has been engaged to furnish the music.

Modern Living Causes Sickness

The stomach is the most important organ of the body. The entire system depends upon its action. The stomach of a man or woman living a shut-in life from day to day, riding to and from business and taking little or no exercise in the fresh air, cannot digest the amount of food that is forced upon it. The stomach gradually grows weaker under these conditions and nervousness, kidney and liver troubles, rheumatism and other ailments are the result.
COOPER'S NEW DISCOVERY tones up the stomach, cleanses the system, regulates the digestive organs and gives nature a chance—that is the secret of health.
Cooper's New Discovery drives away that tired, lazy half-sick feeling, and makes you more cheerful, lively and buoyant. It is a pure, vegetable product, compounded after a thoroughly tested and successful formula.
Many thousands of persons testify to the merit of COOPER'S NEW DISCOVERY in the treatment of stomach trouble, indigestion, loss of appetite, lack of strength, rheumatism, catarrh and kidney and liver troubles.
