Tumbledown Acapulco. Acapulco, Mexico, with one of the finest harbors in the world, is one of the most wretched towns in the entire country. It is poorly built, the houses being for the greater part composed of adobe with tiled roofs, while the majority of the poorer class can afford nothing better than rude huts built with poles stuck in the ground, the fronts of the cocoanut palm woven into the sides and the whole thatched.

Numerous earthquakes have damaged the buildings, and scattered ruins and cracked walls give the town a wretched appearance. There are no improvements of any kind, no sewers, water-works, telephone nor electric lights. Argonaut.

OGLE MINE STOCK FINE INVESTMENT

This is a Real Gold Mine, Not a Stock Jobbing Proposition

We are going to install a 100-ton cyanide plant on our property. We have proven beyond all question of doubt that the ore is there in paying quantities to keep said plant in operation for years to come. This mine is located in our own county and owned by your own people and under these conditions it is bound to be of great benefit to our county as all the money extracted will be distributed right here at home. We have a mine and not a hole in the ground called a mine that so many have bought stock in. When we say a Mine, we mean that the ore bodies are located to the extent that it shows that it will take years to work them out. If you have old stock stored away ask yourself whether it was a hole in the ground or a mine you invested in, and if you will look it up and find your stock is worthless you can't help but see that you invested in a hole in the ground and not a Mine, so don't condemn a mine or place it in the same ranks. Be broader minded. Statistics show that there was produced in the year 1910 over $127,000,000 in gold and silver in the United States and as this is a fact you cannot say that mining does not pay. If we get our plant in operation this fall it is reasonable to believe that we will be handling 500 tons daily in five years from now, and that means an output of about $1,000,000 a year. It has taken years of labor to make the mine what it is today and as we are only short $10,000 to carry on our work to completion we think this a very small amount to ask our friends who have not already helped, to raise. Think it over! Cut out the following contract, sign up for a block of stock and you will congratulate yourself by saying you helped put the finishing touch on the plant that made Ogle Mountain famous.

Stock fully paid and non assessable Capital 1,000,000 shares par value $1. I hereby subscribe for and purchase _____ shares of treasury stock of the Ogle Mountain Mining Company at the agreed price of 70 cents a share, total $_____

I hereby agree to pay for same on the following terms: 25 per cent when machinery is ordered and work starts, and 25 per cent on the first of each month thereafter until full amount is paid, said stock to be issued on final payment.

PRODUCTIVE LABOR.

There is pleasure in mere struggle, so it is not hopeless, and in overcoming resistance, obstacles and hardships. When to the pleasure of exertion is added the satisfaction of producing a new value and the further satisfaction of earning a livelihood through that new value we have then the common pleasurable conditions of productive labor.—Charles W. Eliot.

EVIDENCE FAVORS HEALTH OFFICER

heartly endorsement of all the Oregon City physicians and Judge Beattie stated that if anything the Doctor was too strict with the quarantine laws instead of being too lenient as was stated by the prosecution.

When asked by Dr. Norris' attorney, C. D. Latourette, if he had received any criticisms of Dr. Norris, Judge Beattie said:

"I have received probably a dozen criticisms of the county health officer from people over the county, but they were all to the effect that he was too severe in the matter of quarantines. I have not known of any persons complaining to me that Dr. Norris was too lenient."

Dr. H. S. Mount and Dr. M. C. Strickland testified that Dr. Norris was faithful and competent and further that they had never known him to be guilty of any willful neglect of duty.

Among the witnesses introduced by the prosecution were Albert Notz, Alex Robinson and J. C. Webb. Mr. Notz and Mr. Robinson had children who were ill with fever. Mr. Robinson is principal of the Clackamas school. Mr. Webb stated that the two Robinson children had returned to school before they should have done so.

Dr. Norris stated that he had always tried to do his duty to the best of his ability and believed that he had as far as it was possible for him to do it. He stated that in a territory as large as Clackamas County, it was impossible for him to visit all the cases of contagious diseases and that he was forced to rely upon the report furnished him by physicians in charge of the cases. He stated that all places where he had found such diseases were fumigated by the health officer or his deputies. He stated that he had always kept the spirit of the law when attending patients having contagious diseases.

After all the testimony had been given Dr. Calvin S. White, speaking for himself and the other member of the State Board of Health, Dr. Pierce, said that the evidence that had been received would be presented to the State Board of Health at its regular quarterly meeting at the end of the present month. A report of their findings will be made public about March 28. Sievers & Sievers represented Rev. James Speiss.

The following is a copy of a letter which was introduced by the defendant: "In behalf of Dr. Norris and his work as health officer of Clackamas County, we, the undersigned practicing physicians of this county, wish to state our approval of Dr. Norris' conscientious and faithful work as health officer.

MOYER

PORTLAND

Every physician is familiar with the unfavorable and undesirable duties of the health officer and quarantine man, for, however broad and liberal minded a man may be in other matters, he is invariably against you when he and his family are placed under quarantine and can never be spread of contagion; careful and conscientious in the expenditure of county funds, but generous to those cases that are worthy and need assistance. We believe it would be difficult to find a competent man that would give the time and consideration to the work that Dr. Norris does.
