DARROW JURY IS STILL DEADLOCKED

MEN ARGUE FAR INTO NIGHT WITHOUT REACHING AGREEMENT

ADVICE OF JUDGE IS NOT ASKED

One Report Is That Ten are For Acquittal and Another That Eight Fight for Conviction

Clarence S. Darrow, famous labor lawyer whose fate rests with jury.

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—After having been out more than 24 hours, it appeared tonight that the jury in the second trial of Clarence S. Darrow for jury bribery was hopelessly deadlocked. Some, however, expressed the belief that a verdict would be reached because of the almost unprecedented length of time consumed by the deliberations of the jury without once reporting to the court that they were unable to reach a verdict.

Many rumors were in circulation today and tonight regarding the division among the jurors, the most commonly accepted report being that they stood ten to two for acquittal. Late tonight, however, it was reported on what was said to be authentic information that the jury stood eight to four for conviction.

Once this afternoon a bailiff notified Judge Conley that the jury wished to report that they were unable to agree. The officer was instructed to bring in the jury, but he returned with the report that it was a "false alarm" and that the 12 men still hoped to reach an agreement.

Shortly before 5 o'clock Judge Conley declared a recess until 10 o'clock tomorrow morning. Word also was sent to the jurors at that time that they could retire for the night at 8 o'clock if no verdict had been arrived at then.

Judge Conley declared that he would discharge the jury at the stipulated time tomorrow should a report be made in court that there was no chance for a verdict.

"If they think they can agree eventually," he added, "I will keep them locked up for a week or until they decide they cannot break the deadlock."

50 DEAD; 50 INJURED IN SHIP EXPLOSION

BRITISH STEAMER ALUM CHINE WRECKED IN BALTIMORE HARBOR

3 MEN ARE KILLED ON U. S. COLLIER

Shock Felt at Philadelphia Navy-Yard in Reading, Penn., Nearly 100 Miles Away

Frederick H. Newell, director of the Reclamation Service, who has been made the defendant in charges made by a Congressional sub-committee, which charges that the government has lost over six million dollars in the Salt River irrigation project as a result of maladministration of the Reclamation Service.

BALTIMORE, March 7.—An explosion of dynamite, far-reaching and disastrous in its results, occurred in the lower harbor of Baltimore this morning, when more than 300 tons of the explosive, being loaded on board the British Steamer Alum Chine, blew up.

The known dead number 13 and latest estimates place the total mortality at 50 and the injured at 50. Forty stevedores are still unaccounted for.

Four of the dead belonged to the crew of the Alum Chine, three were on board the United States collier Jason, lying alongside, and six aboard the tug Atlantic.

Twenty-nine men on the collier and the greater part of the crew of the Alum Chine were injured. Ten of those injured aboard the collier Jason were said to be mortally hurt. The tug was practically demolished.

Pitiful scenes were enacted on Broadway wharf when the tug bearing the dead and injured arrived there. Hundreds of women and children whose husbands and fathers work on the water, crying and wringing their hands, begged to be allowed to see if any of their men folk were among the victims. Nearly 50 of the injured were landed here. Some of these were able to walk to their homes unassisted, but the bulk of them were taken to hospitals at Sparrow's Point.

Up to tonight no definite figures of the number of casualties could be ascertained but it was said that at least 50 men had been killed and about as many more injured. Some of the latter were expected to die.

The force of the explosion swept away the upper works of the United States naval collier Jason, killing three men and injuring 29 others. The Jason was about 700 feet away at the time. She had just been completed by the Maryland Steel Company and was soon to have had government trial trip.

The explosion was remarkable for the great distance the shock of the blast was felt. At Coatesville, Pa., the windows of the High School rattled. The shock was felt at the Philadelphia navy yard in Reading, Pa., nearly 100 miles from Baltimore, in a number of cities in Southeastern Pennsylvania and in New Jersey as far as Atlantic City. In many towns the tremor was so distinct as to cause people to believe an earthquake had occurred.

The shock interrupted the proceedings of the lower house of the Delaware Legislature at Dover, the speaker remarking:

"That must have been an earthquake."

The Munson Steamship Company of New York, agents for the Alum Chine, were wired by their agents here that the ship was nowhere in sight after the explosion.

The ship, a small tramp of 1767 tons gross burden, was owned by the Alum Chine Steamship Company, of Cardiff, Wales. She left New York for Baltimore February 26, arriving at Colon with a load of dynamite to be used for government work on the Panama Canal.

CIVIC COMMITTEE TO HELP COUNCIL

ORGANIZATIONS AGREE TO WORK IN UNISON FOR CLEANER CITY

HARMONY IS KEYNOTE OF MEETING

Councilman Albright Elected Chairman of Joint Sessions and Oimsted Secretary—Work Planned

Harmony was the distinguishing feature of the meeting of the Health and Police Committee of the city council and the Civic Committee of the Live Wires, which was held Friday evening to discuss means by which these organizations could work together. Dr. J. A. Van Brakle stated that he believed much of the trouble had arisen from the fact that the people did not understand the Council and Civic Committee of the Live Wires were working together. He stated that both bodies were working for the good of Oregon City and that there was no reason why they should not agree.

Councilman John Albright, who presided over the meeting, stated that the two should work together, and said that he believed improvements and changes in the town had to be wrought slowly and conservatively as it was hard to change people from the customs in a day. He said that he thought more could be accomplished by working a little more slowly. He stated that the committee should and could work together.
