This appointment includes the supervision of the pavilion in which is exhibited the dairy products, and the building housing dairy products, as well as the milk tests. The appointment came unsolicited by Mr. Lazelle, who is a graduate of the Oregon Agricultural college, and who was for several years manager of the promotion department of the Oregon City Commercial Club.

WASHINGTON, March 18.—Congress, when it reconvenes, will find a rival in the capital. It developed today that plans have been made to establish here an organization to be known as the Indian Congress. The arrangements were approved at a meeting of several tribes Indians and their representatives last night. The congress will have one resident delegate from each of the many Indian tribes of the country. Each delegate will receive a salary, the amount to be determined by the council of each tribe, to be paid out of the tribal funds. The primary object of the congress will be to look after the interests of the Indians before the government and congress.

The Indian newspaper, the Toma hawk, now printed on the White Earth reservation in Minnesota, is also to be moved here, and it is expected that publication of the paper in Washington will begin by the time the extra session of congress convenes.

CINCINNATI, March 18.—George B. Cox, former president of the refuted Cincinnati Trust Company, two former officers of the company and eight members of the board of directors were named in the sealed indictments returned by the Hamilton county grand jury yesterday. The envelopes containing the indictments were opened by Common Pleas Judge Cosgrave today.

One of the nine counts charges the "misapplication" of $115,000 of the bank's money through alleged illegal loans to the Ford and Johnson Chair company, now in the hands of receivers. Indictments on this count were returned against George B. Cox, C. H. Davis, Norman G. Keenan, James F. Heady, James M. Hutton, I. N. Miller, N. S. Keith and F. R. Williams.

Cox, J. M. Crawford, Davis, David C. Edwards, Heady, Hutton, Keith, Williams and C. V. Parrish, having control of the funds of the company, were indicted on a charge of having converted to their own use a promissory note of the Cincinnati Trust Co. for $352,000. It is charged that the men who were liable for the note cancelled it and entered it as paid in the company's books when it had not been paid.

Each of the nine counts of the indictment charges misapplication of funds relates to a separate loan to the Ford and Johnson Chair company of which President Cox, of the trust company, was also a director. The total amount of the nine loans was $1,970,000. It is also charged that the notes set out in the indictment comprised only a part of those made to the chair company.

support of Lawrence Y. Sherman, Clyde Jones are standing out against Republican, because consent of Lortimer is necessary to the victory of Mr. Sherman.

John Barton Payne, said to have been suggested at the White House as a good compromise candidate for the democrats in case Lewis could not be elected, received one vote today.

Interpreters of Secretary Bryan's speech in the Dunne camp say that the speaker endorsed the Lewis-Sherman combination proposed by Governor Dunne. National Committeeman Boeschenstein, democratic candidate for the short term, declared Secretary Bryan did not endorse Colonel Lewis, but instead the Nebraska had spoken in favor of two democrats.

The offer includes a guarantee of $2,000 before the nine leaves Seattle and the remainder on its arrival at Tokyo. The only part of the proposition that causes Washington to hesitate is that Washington bring a Japanese team from Meiji college next year and give a similar guarantee.

Manager Horr will take the matter up with the Seattle chamber of commerce.

OGLE MINE STOCK FINE INVESTMENT

THIS IS A REAL GOLD MINE, NOT A STOCK JOBBING PROPOSITION

If you are looking for a sure thing here are a few things for you to think over. It is a sure thing that a plant is going to be put on the property of the Ogle Mountain Mining Company. It is a sure thing that our home people have furnished the money to put the ore in sight. It is a sure thing that the same people have signed for a good block of stock to install the plant. It is a sure thing that some one is going to furnish the balance. It is a sure thing that if our home people don't furnish the balance some one will, and it is a sure thing that if outside capital furnishes it, just that much of the output will be sent away from home. It is a sure thing that the price of stock is going higher, and it is a sure thing that the stock will be off the market as soon as we have the required amount to install the plant. Under these conditions don't you think it would be a wise idea to get in and help finance the proposition? We are not here to beg, but are here with a business proposition that will stand the test of any reputable mining engineer. This we know as for a good block of stock to install the plant. It is a sure thing that some one is going to furnish the balance. You don't need to be afraid to pay 70 cents a share, for it is going higher beyond all question of doubt. The men that back their own judgment with their own money are the men to place your money with if you want to win and if you place your money with us that is what you will be doing. Look out for the men that do all the talking and never put up their own coin. The men at the head of this proposition are putting up what they can and are going to put in their time installing the plant. Besides this we have men that are going to furnish teams to help do the hauling and take their pay in stock, also men that are going to work on the construction work and get their pay the same way. These men see a future ahead or they would not do this. They are not doing this for their own health or for fun. Under these conditions don't you think it would be a good place to invest a few dollars on the following terms?

A COUGH REMEDY FOR BABY

If you could hear the grateful remarks daily made to us about Rexall Cough Syrup, you would not hesitate to use it the instant baby showed the least evidence of a cold. You would buy a bottle of it and keep it in the house ready for emergency.

It is not wise to give baby a cough syrup or any other remedy that is designed for old people. Decreasing the dose does not meet the requirements. Baby should have something specially designed for it. Its system is too delicate for medicine made for adults.

Rexall Baby Cough Syrup is exceedingly pleasant in taste. It is usually so quickly comforting in its effects that it is preferred by parents above any other cough remedy. It contains absolutely nothing harmful. It tends to relieve congestion, inflammation and irritation, and to lubricate the air passages, raise the phlegm and make the little patient comfortable. We promise you that if it does not do all these things in a way that will please you, the money you paid for it will be refunded without question.

nized by the retail merchants of Oregon City, but the consent of property owners has always been a stumbling block in the past toward establishing additional hitching facilities.

Reports were received by the committee on pure water and public docks. Both matters will be called to the attention of the city council Wednesday night, the pure water situation in the form of a report from Engineer Dieck, who has been for several weeks searching for sources of pure water supply, and the dock question in the form of a petition from practically all the live business men for the establishment of a dock. It is understood that the engineer's report will contain a great deal of data that will be of value and of interest to all those interested in a better water supply for Oregon City.

Vance Edwards, assistant chemist of the Willamette Pulp & Paper Co., and Charles T. Parker, of the Oregon Engineering & Construction Co., were elected to membership in the Live Wires.

MINORS FINED FOR ENTERING SALOONS

Chief of Police Shaw has notified the saloonkeepers that they must observe the law regarding the serving of drinks to minors. Frequent complaint that minors were obtaining liquor has been made to the chief.

Albert Bernert, 18 years of age, was fined $25 Tuesday by Recorder Stipp for entering a saloon. Frank Udderman, accused of selling the lad liquor, will be given a hearing today. A. Estes, 19 years of age, was fined $25 by the recorder for entering the saloon of D. M. Klemsen. Klemsen was fined $40. The saloonmen declared that he did not know his customer was not of age and had no way of finding out. The saloonkeepers say the law regarding their selling to minors is unfair and it is not improbable that a test case will be made.

A Pathetic Suicide.

According to a Spanish writer on Japan, the most pathetic suicide recorded in the history of that country took place over eight centuries ago. "In 1381," writes Sprow Gomez Curillo, "the nine-year-old emperor, Kotoku, saw his troops defeated. The child disheveled his hair, wept copiously and invoked the holy name of Buddha. When he had finished his nurse, Nildono, took him in her arms to the seashore. There is a lovely city beneath the bay," she said, and then the waves covered the emperor and his nurse."

KING GEORGE OF GREECE KILLED

received here came in a telegraphic dispatch from Vienna.

Prince William George was only 18 years of age and midshipman in the Danish navy when he was offered the throne of Hellas. The former ruler, King Otto I, who was a Bavarian prince, was dethroned by a revolution in 1862, and the provisional government by the ministry was not strong enough to prevent political complications which threatened to undermine the peace of Europe. The great powers of Europe recognized the necessity of providing a new ruler for Greece and the position was offered first to the Duke of Edinburgh, and then to the Duke of Saxe-Coburg-Gotha, but both declined. It was M. de Chandoyer, a French diplomat, who conceived the idea of offering the throne to Prince William George, and the plan was promptly approved by England and the other powers.

Four years later he married the Grand Duchess Olga, oldest daughter of the Grand Duke Constantine of Russia, thus connecting himself with a strong link to one of the most powerful reigning families of Europe. The Greeks agreed to settle $250,000 a year upon their new king. England, France and Russia each agreed to add $20,000 a year for the term of his natural life, and about $50,000 was charged for his benefit on the Ionian Islands, which were later ceded to him by Great Britain. Although his civil work was very meager, King George I, under which name he became ruler of the Hellenes, by means of his remarkable business ability accumulated an enormous fortune during the 50 years of his reign. He made large sums by successful speculation on the bourse, and invested his winnings in landed estates in Greece, real estate in the various countries of Europe and in the United States. He became the owner of mines, farms, plantations, railroads and of various financial and commercial establishments and of large merchant vessels trading between Mediterranean ports.
