PRESIDENT ASKS CURRENCY ACTION

Judgment the Administration has confidence.

The President intends to stay in Washington throughout the extra session, giving every attention to legislative questions. He has every day declined invitations to make speeches outside of the city.

The Cabinet will meet tomorrow, when the question of recess appointments will be discussed. The resignation today of Huntington Wilson as Assistant Secretary of State leaves the State Department under charge of Alva Adeo, second assistant secretary of state. It is probable, however, that there will be a recess appointment of John Bassett Moore as counselor to the State Department tomorrow so that he can cooperate with Mr. Adeo in running the department. The President telegraphed Secretary Bryan that he need not cut short his vacation on account of Huntington Wilson's withdrawal.

A Tooth to Pick. The attempt to use idiomatic English is fraught with danger to the beginner. A diplomat nearly paralyzed a debaucher at a Washington ball by telling her that he had a tooth to pick with her.—New York Press.

Could the originators of the Juvenile Fair witness the enthusiasm of the rising generation in Macksburg they might feel that they had not worried in vain. The children are preparing the grounds for seed, putting the young stock in, caring for the poultry and working generally with a degree of earnestness that promises a creditable exhibit of fruit stock and handiwork in the coming fall. This new opening for the showing of youthful skill is also an incalculable advantage in the home. Many an hour would otherwise be misspent is now occupied in healthful, pleasing work with such gratifying results as well tended gardens, finely stocked poultry yards and no ends of beautiful flowers.

The high school department of Macksburg opened Tuesday, March 11th, Mr. Baldwin having so far recovered from his recent illness that he returned to his work on that day.

A little son was born to Mr. and Mrs. John Givster Friday, March 7th. Special services are to be held in the new church of the Mennonites on Easter Sunday.

Mrs. George Walsh was the guest of Mrs. Wesley Eby on Tuesday last. Mrs. John Hippler's mother, who has been seriously ill, is recovering.

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Dawson was gladdened by the birth of a little daughter Thursday.

Mrs. Frank Hilton with her little son, visited Mrs. George Walsh last Friday.

Miss Margaret Zenger with her two brothers, Messrs. Hans and Andy Zenger, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baldwin on Friday evening.

Mr. Hubbard's large new barn is completed and is a material enhancement to the appearance.

Very pleasing is the news that the P. E. & E. R. R. has completed the grade between Canby and Molalla and will put down the rails without delay.

Mrs. P. O. Chindgren, daughter, Miss Mabel Chindgren, Mrs. Milton Chindgren and daughter, Vivian, called on Mrs. Shepherd Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Geo. Hofstetter and daughter, Miss Emilie, went to Portland Saturday to see George Hofstetter, Jr., who is in the hospital.

A few of the parents and friends attended the program given by the pupils Friday, consisting of songs, "Beautiful Bells" by the school; recitation, Pauline Hofstetter; reading, Gilbert Hutchinson; song, "Dip, Boys Dip the Oar" by school; recitation, Myrtle Hutchinson; reading, Paul Schiewe; song, "Kind Words Can Never Die"; Little Schiewe; dialogue, two teachers, Nettie Larkins and Ella Schiewe; recitation, "The Blind Girl," by Gladys Batey; dialogue by three boys, Willard Kerns, Oliver Orem and Wallace Hutchinson; song, "Darling, Nellie Gray," by school ended by a debate by the small pupils. The question was, "Resolved, that the horse is more valuable than the cow." Leader on the affirmative, Ora Hutchinson, negative, Katie Hofstetter, the judge's decision was for the affirmative. The little folks did well.

Miss Myrtle and Hazel Larkins spent Sunday afternoon with Maude and Blanche Trullinger of Union Mills.

Herman Chindgren took a load of fat hogs to Canby Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Kerns and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Chindgren.

Useless. "Dear, oh, dear," sighed Mr. Sallowday, "I wish I knew some good way to acquire an appetite." "Nonsense!" exclaimed his wife. "An appetite would only give you more dyspepsia."—Philadelphia Press.

WILSONVILLE.

FRANK MOORE'S BABY DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Ray, the six-months-old child of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Moore, died at the home of his parents, First and Center Streets, Thursday morning at 7:20 o'clock. The little fellow was stricken last October with whooping cough, from which he never recovered, and several days ago he was stricken by pneumonia. There are four remaining children, all of whom are young. The funeral will be held at the residence this morning at 10:30, the services being in charge of Rev. T. B. Ford. The interment will be in the Mountain View Cemetery.

APPLE DEALERS UNLOADING STOCKS

Action calculated to relieve the Portland market of its apple surplus and make room for the new spring fruits is now well under way, and some of the wholesalers expect within the next week or two to have their store and warehouse stocks so far reduced that the apple market thereafter will be no cause for apprehension.

A feature of the trade was the sale by one of the jobbers of 500 boxes of the fruit at 35 cents a box. The fruit in question graded as common to fair and were about such as usually sell at 45 to 55 cents a box at this time of the year. The sale was made solely with a view to cleaning up stocks, and though the price obtained meant a loss to the grower it was counted better than keeping the fruit and dumping it later.

The dealers who made the sale said: "The unfortunate feature of the apple market throughout the season has been the immense over-stock of trash-apples that at the best could not grade above common, and which should have been converted into cider in the orchard or fed to hogs. Had the growers kept this stock back or the greater part of it, and sent to the Portland market a fair proportion of their best offerings, with the understanding that they were to be sold at prices in line with those obtainable this season in the Eastern centers, the local market would have taken care of itself much better than it has done and the producers would have unquestionably profited by such a policy."

"Instead of doing this, the organized growers, at Hood River and elsewhere, at the opening of the season adopted the mistaken policy of sending the finest of their products to the Eastern and foreign markets, while ruinously low prices have been the rule for months, and giving us the refuse. This they have done, and to make the situation worse they have in many cases insisted that the poor to medium grade apples sent to Portland be sold at prices that could not by any means have been obtained in the East."

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: HIDES—(Buying)—Green salted, 7c to 8c; sheep pelts 75c to $1.50 each. MOHAIR—32c; wool 12 to 20c. FEED—(Selling)—Sorgho $25; bran

Join The Morning Enterprise's Thrift League Today.

By John P. Fallon

It costs you nothing to join. There are no dues to pay. Everybody is eligible. If you will abide by the rules and follow instructions you can save enough money between now and August 1st to take a fine vacation.

THE MORNING ENTERPRISE'S Thrift League was inaugurated about four months ago, when we started to direct, concentrate and intensify the interest of our readers in advertising. Our purpose was to show the importance of reading the advertisements every morning, the superiority of advertised goods and the economy of purchasing everything for person or home from the merchants who advertise in THE MORNING ENTERPRISE.

If you haven't already joined THE ENTERPRISE'S Thrift League you should do so today. Simply elect yourself a member. The only rules to live up to are these—1st, read these little talks every morning, and 2nd, read the advertisements in THE MORNING ENTERPRISE closely and constantly. In this way you will be able to purchase everything you buy most economically and what you save through economical purchasing will pay for a fine vacation this summer."

The Willis Overland Company do not. Overland Model 69T Axles must be better—THREE-QUARTER FLOATING. The Overland three-quarter floating axle causes the weight of the car and its load to rest on the axle housings—reinforced by an inner steel tube, riveted and keyed to the housing. ADVANTAGE? In the ordinary semi-floating axle the weight of the car and its load is carried half and half on the axle shafts and housing. Hence, the axle not only does the wheel driving, but must carry, also, part of the great weight. Result—excessive strain and friction, most surely causing disalignment of bearings. More repair expense. High-priced features in a low-priced car. This is one of the features that make the Overland the greatest value in the world. Let us send you a catalogue which explains in detail the many other high-priced features. Please address us. Miller-Parker Co. OREGON, CITY, OR. Overland Model 69T
