WILSON EXPLAINS FAR EAST POLICY

TRADE WILL NOT BE SCORNED, BUT OLD DIPLOMACY IS ABANDONED

CHINESE AIDE OFFERS ARGUMENT

President Says United States Can Best Help Preserve Country by Keeping Outside Agreement

WASHINGTON, March 22.—President Wilson's recent statement withdrawing the aid of this government from what was popularly known as the "six-power loan" means the retirement of the United States from participation in Far Eastern diplomacy.

The President talked today about China informally with some of his callers, among them George Bronson Rea, technical secretary of the railway committee, and the Chinese government to construct 10,000 miles of trunk railways in China. Mr. Rea explained to the President that without the aid of the United States government American capital had been enlisted in the railway enterprise, but that it was desirable to know how far the United States would go in protecting what Mr. Rea termed "honorable" contracts between American business men and the Chinese government independent of political connection.

The President asked Mr. Rea to prepare and submit to him a memorandum and promised to study the question carefully. Mr. Rea pointed out that the objectionable features of the six-power loan project, to which China herself had objected, were those which concerned the imperial administration of China and that his relations with Sun Yat Sen and the Chinese Republic were such that he knew the action of President Wilson had met with approval in China.

Mr. Wilson indicated that the development of the administration's policy toward China would be gradual and well measured, that there was no intention of withdrawing the potential influence for protection which this government has exerted in respect of China, and that the Wilson administration would make a vigorous effort to promote American trade interests in the Orient.

The President's viewpoint was that the United States would be in a far better position to help preserve the integrity of China by remaining outside of any particular agreements which might be for their object a voice in China's political future than by actual participation.

FAIRCLOUGH REPORTED AHEAD IN CHECKERS

The checker tournament at the Commercial Club, it is believed, will come to a close Monday evening. The tournament started Friday night with six players and has been hard fought. While the managers, John Cooke and George McCherter, said Saturday night that it had been decided not to give the name of the leader until the close, it was rumored that John Fairclough had a name to the good. The other players are T. B. Fairclough, M. A. Mazone, Dr. C. F. Anderson, J. W. Moffat and C. C. Babcock. It also was reported that Mr. Moffat was playing a consistent game, and his friends believe he will win the prize, a $5 pearl handle knife given by Wilson & Cooke, the hardware merchants.

PLANS FOR EASTER ARE ELABORATE

SPECIAL MUSIC TO BE FEATURE IN OREGON CITY CHURCHES

ST. JOHN'S HAS FINE PROGRAM

Episcopalians, Methodists, Baptists, Congregationalists and Other Denominations to Observe Day

Easter services will be held in most of the Oregon City churches today. Probably the most elaborate ones will be held in St. John's Catholic and St. Paul's Episcopal Churches. Rev. A. Hillebrand, pastor, announced that the following would be the program at St. John's Church:

6 o'clock—Low Mass, sermon; 8 o'clock—Low Mass, sermon; 5 hundred will take communion at this time among whom will be Catholic Knights who will take communion in a body. 10:30—High Mass, St. John's choir will sing this mass. A new mass will be sung (Loebsch composer). Sermon at High Mass after Mass Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

The program at St. Paul's Church will be:

Organ Prelude, "I Know That My Redeemer Liveth"..... Houdel Processional, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today"..... Syria Davidica Introit, "Christ Our Passover"..... Chappel Communion Service..... Gounod's St. Cecilia. Recessional, "At the Saint's High Feast We Sing"..... Erey Organ Postlude, "Hallelujah" Chorus..... Evening Service: Organ Prelude..... Impromptu Processional, "Jesus Christ Is Risen Today"..... Syria Davidica Magnificat and Nunc Dimittis..... Marks Anthem..... Solo Recessional, "The Strife Is Over"..... Organ Postlude, "Torchlight Procession"..... Clark Solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Theodore Osmund, Mrs. J. J. Tobin, Mrs. William Lucas, Mrs. Augusta Warner, Mr. Virginia Harris and Mr. H. H. Hughes. Organist, Mrs. V. Harris.

The rector will preach at 11 in the morning and 7:30 in the evening.

The First Methodist Episcopal Church, "The Church of the Cordial Welcome," T. B. Ford, Pastor, will observe Easter as follows:

1, Organ Voluntary. 2, Singing by the congregation. 3, The Apostles' Creed. 4, Anthem by choir. 5, Lesson from the Psalter. 6, The Gloria Patri. 7, Lesson from the New Testament. 8, Offertory. 9, Christ the Lord Is Risen Today. 10, Children's Vested Choir. 11, Notices. 12, Baptism. 13, "Christ Our Passover" by the quartette. 14, Sermon by the pastor, followed by Holy Communion. 15, Benediction. 16, Doxology. From 12:30 to 2 o'clock, basket dinner.

3 o'clock, a meeting for women in the church, Mrs. L. Hamilton, of Portland, speaker.

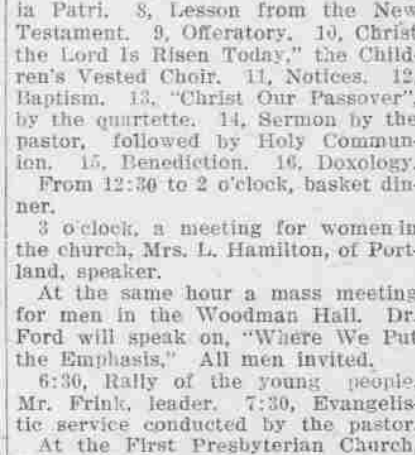

At the same hour a mass meeting for men in the Woodman Hall. Dr. Ford will speak on, "Where We Put the Emphasis." All men invited.

6:30, Rally of the young people. Mr. Frink, leader. 7:30, Evangelistic service conducted by the pastor.

At the First Presbyterian Church, Rev. J. R. Landsborough minister, the program will be, Sabbath school at 10 o'clock, Mrs. W. C. Green superintendent. Special Easter exercises have been prepared for the Sunday School. Morning Worship at 11 o'clock, subject, "The Easter Message." Anthem, "The Light of Easter Morning" (John D. Crosswell). Solo, "Hosanna" (Jules Granier), sung by Mrs. A. Matheson. Y. P. S. C. E. at 6:45, topic, "The First Half of the Fourth Chapter of India's Awakening," leader, Ruth Brightbill. Evening worship at 7:30. The choir will have charge of this hour and will present a sacred concert. Sermon theme, "The Risen Lord My Lord." All welcome.

Rev. Dr. W. T. Milliken, pastor, announces that both the morning and evening services at the Baptist Church will largely be devoted to music. The choir will render two hymns and the following special music for the morning service will be given: Anthem, "Awake Thou That Sleepest" (J. Wallace Goodrich). Mr. J. W. Loder will sing a solo, "Easter tide" (Brackett). Dr. Milliken will speak upon the theme, "The Risen Savior" (Handel). Mrs. Oimsted will sing a solo, "Ye Bells of Easter Day," and will be accompanied by Professor Flechtner. "The Light of the World" (Steven Adams) will be sung by Mr. F. Oimsted. Dr. Milliken will speak upon, "Our Saviour" in the evening.

Rev. George Nelson Edwards announces that the morning service at the First Congregational Church will begin at 10:30 o'clock. Gustav Flechtner will lead his orchestra of eight pieces and open with a prelude "Awakening of Spring" by T. Back. The choir will sing "The Light of Easter" and the Sunday school children will sing an anthem. Mr. Flechtner and orchestra will play the "Melody in F" (Rubenstein). The male quartet will sing "Gethsemane" (Wilson) and the choir will sing an anthem, "Praise to the Risen King." Just before the last anthem the Rev. Edwards will deliver a sermon, "The Chambered Nautalus." There will be communion service and reception of new members.

Franklin Knight Lane, Secretary of the Interior in Wilson's Cabinet.

CLUB DANCE TO BE LARGELY ATTENDED

The big Commercial Club Ball which is scheduled to take place Tuesday evening, March 25, is progressing in a way that makes the committee confident of the success of the undertaking. The committee has granted numerous invitations to those who want to bring their friends. A large number of people have signified their intention of masking and a large crowd will be on hand to watch the funny performances of the masked persons, who will hold full sway upon the floor before 10:00, when the floor will be thrown open to all. Special arrangements have been made to seat the large crowd of spectators and nobody need be afraid of not securing a seat.

The evening prizes are: $10.00 for the best original couple or team; $5.00 for the best original lady and $3.00 for the best original gentleman in costume is attracting many.

Judges of prizes will be C. J. Buchanan, E. J. Daulton and Geo. A. Harding.

The dance will celebrate an event which has not occurred for one hundred years and which will not happen again for seventy years, out of lent. That event is March 25 coming out of Lent. Any person who wishes to dance on that day and observe Lent should be on hand as they will probably never have another chance.

Special parties are arranging to come from Portland, Molalla and other nearby towns in automobiles and other cars.

Dainty refreshments will be served and six lady attendants will assist in the banquet room and in the wrap room. Three men attendants will assist the gentlemen. Fox's six piece orchestra will furnish the music. The affair promises to be one of the greatest social events in the history of Oregon City.

CAUFIELD PRAISES BUSINESS OUTLOOK

BANKER DECLARES FINANCIERS HAVE CONFIDENCE IN PRESIDENT

PANAMA CANAL AN AMAZING WORK

East and South are Lau'd but Traveler Declares Oregon is Best State of All

"Business conditions in all parts of the United States I visited were about all that could be expected," said Charles H. Caufield, President of the Bank of Oregon City, who with Mrs. Caufield, returned Saturday night from a trip through the East, Middle West, South, Cuba, Canada and Panama. "The business men and financiers, so far as I could learn, do not expect a financial depression during the Wilson administration. As a matter of fact they regard the new President as a safe man and believe he will make a great chief executive. Of course they realize he lacks experience, but a man of the ability he has shown, it is believed, will make few mistakes."

Mr. Caufield himself is optimistic regarding conditions and believes the country is on the eve of an era of great prosperity. It was his first extended trip outside of Oregon, and, although glad to get home, he pays glowing tributes to the East and South.

"We left here February 2," said Mr. Caufield, "and we have been on the go ever since. We went to New Orleans first and had a fine time there. The Southern metropolis is a great city, and is growing rapidly. Then we went to Panama and look-

PARTLOW, POPCORN KING, IS HERO

WAGON ABLAZE TWICE, OWNER IS BOMBARDED WITH WHITE FLAKES

GASOLINE LEAKS FROM BIG TANK

Proprietor Extinguishes Flame Although Explosion Seems Imminent—Loss is Estimated at $30

James Partlow, "Popcorn King" of Oregon City is a hero today. The popcorn wagon of Mr. Partlow caught fire twice Saturday, and, although threatened with destruction both times, the plucky owner remained with his gasoline engine until he had stopped the leaks. The roof and floor, being saturated with oil, caught fire, and Mr. Partlow was twice enveloped in flames, but the "Popcorn King" did not flinch.

The first blaze started about 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Mr. Partlow immediately discovered the cause of the trouble, and, although his wagon which cost $1,200, seemed doomed, and an explosion seemed imminent, he remained at his post until he found the leak and stopped it. Then he extinguished the blaze in the interior with wet rags and with the assistance of a friend, after a hard fight, extinguished the blaze in the top of the wagon. Meanwhile he was bombarded with flakes which came from all directions. The first blaze damaged the wagon to the extent of $10 and the popcorn loss was about $5.

The proprietor had the gasoline tank repaired, and he thought his troubles had ended, but not so. Just
