HARDSURFACE WOULD BE HELD TO CITY. Oregon City's streets are to be improved this year with macadam, that is if the plans of the city council are carried out. Plans and specifications for the grading and macadamizing of Fourth, Thirtieth and High Streets have been given to the council and unless the property owners along these streets protest they will soon find that they have a street in front of their property that will be a quagmire in the winter and a cloud of dust in the summer. About two years ago Ninth Street was well improved with macadam, but if any person will take the trouble to look at this street he will see that it is covered with mud from two to three inches or more. Ninth Street in Oregon City that is in the same condition. Washington, Madison, Twelfth and Eleventh Streets

GRASS WIDOWS WIN OVER OLD MAIDS

The Sophomore Class had charge of the assembly meeting of the High School Friday. Miss Dorothy Latourette, president of the class, was chairman. The most interesting feature of the entertainment was a comedy entitled, "Resolved that it is better to be a grass widow than an old maid." Theodore Miller and Alton Phillips represented the affirmative side and Roberta Schuebel and Therese McKene the negative. The judges, who were Alton Levitt, M. Miller and Walter Elliott, decided in favor of the affirmative. The program began with a reading by Maud Davis. Several recitations also were given. Miss Helen Hartke and Miss Viola Fisher rendered a piano duet. The president of the class gave a short address.

Here's Proof of the Militancy Of the English Suffragettes

HERE is pictorial proof of the militancy of the English suffragettes about whose feats of arson you have heard so much lately. In the upper picture is seen the women's life and drum corps marching in London streets to advertise a "votes for women" meeting. A very businesslike band of fifers and drummers they are too. The lower illustration shows three convicted window smashers going to jail, bag and baggage. They were fined for disorderly conduct, refused to pay and were allowed to get some of their belongings for their stay in jail.

Third Degree Methods Are Unfair

By CHARLES W. ELIOT, President Emeritus of Harvard University

THE police processes for extorting testimony from supposed criminals immediately after their arrest by incessant questioning and deprivation of sleep and food while they are under great mental strain have brought much DISCREDIT on legal administration in criminal cases.

The public has LOST CONFIDENCE IN LEGAL PROCEDURE in general because it is sometimes vitiated at the start by this EXTORTION OF TESTIMONY. The police examination excites the greater distrust because it is, as a rule, conducted in secret by police agents only, the accused having neither counsel nor friend present.

The American public believes that the process of interrogation, called "the third degree," is a SHOCKING ABUSE and that testimony thus procured in the absence of a judge or of counsel for the accused should NOT BE ADMISSIBLE IN COURT. It is quite true that a confession procured by threats is now inadmissible, but the question whether or not threats were used is a question of fact which can be tried.

THE RIGHT VIEW IS THAT ALL "THIRD DEGREE" CONFESSIONS SHOULD BE THROWN OUT, IRRESPECTIVE OF THE PRECISE METHOD OF PROCUREMENT. IT IS NOTORIOUS THAT CONFESSIONS EXTORTED BY EITHER MENTAL OR BODILY TORTURE ARE APT TO BE FALSE.

No admission or confession made by an accused person in reply to interrogatories of the police should be received as evidence.

It is very doubtful whether "third degree" methods really contribute in this country to the CONVICTION of criminals. Counsel for the defense can often win a jury by describing the police methods of procuring confession.

REAL SUCCESS.

Success is not so much a matter of achievement as it is a matter of rectitude. The man who is worthy to succeed has already succeeded, for in the end virtue is the only success and lack of it the only failure, and nothing, after all, is success which leaves a man at enmity with his conscience.—M. Franklin Ham.
