GRAND OPERA TOMORROW

Season Opens in Portland for Four Great Productions

The greatest musical and society event that has ever come to the entire Northwest will be the season of grand opera in Portland next Monday by the famous Chicago Grand Opera Company. This great organization, which is headed by Andrews Dippel, and whose musical conductor is Cleofonte Campanini, has over three hundred people on its roster, and will travel to Portland from San Francisco in two long special trains.

Among the famous songbirds who will appear in Portland during the three days' musical festival will be Mary Garden, Luisa Tetrazzini, Carolina White, Marie Cavan, Charles Dalmores, Giocini, Polese, and many others. The Orpheum Theater in Portland (formerly the Heilig) will be used for the four performances of the opera, and seats can be secured for the operas by sending, or telephoning in, to the Sherman Clay and Company's music store in Portland, or the Steers-Coman office in the Columbia Building, who will be glad to attend to all orders.

The seats for the opera range in price from three dollars to seven, both evenings and the matinee, and general admission is two dollars.

Following is the entire repertoire on, in the respective roles of the genuine Prince of Pilsen and the American lieutenant, are recent acquisitions, and their excellent voices add largely to the effort of the performance.

In reviving this musical comedy classic, Mr. Savage equipped the organization with an entire scenic production and costumes. The augmented orchestra will be under the direction of Emil Bierman.

The prices for this notable attraction will be $1.50, with a special $1 matinee Saturday. Seats will go on sale Tuesday, April 1.

Heart to Heart Talks

By JAMES A. EDGERTON

EVERY MOMENT AN OPPORTUNITY.

There are many opportunities to do good in simple, unostentatious ways.

It sometimes seems that every moment is packed with them.

It is not hard to rise to the big occasion.

The real test comes in rising to the little occasions.

It may be a trifling service, a small kindness, a helpful suggestion, a comforting word.

If our hearts are in tune these things come easy to us.

The beauty of a right word or deed is that it helps both ways—the giver and the receiver.

It has power to multiply itself indefinitely.

It makes the smile a little brighter, the hand clasp a little warmer.

Thus it passes from one to another. Like the pebble dropped in the ocean, the waves go out to the very shores.

What if no one knows who dropped the pebble?

But does not one know?

Somewhere there must be kept a record.

Somewhere the influence of each act must be measured.

But, whether it is or not, the good is accomplished.

That is enough.

It is easy to say and do the kindly and helpful things if we keep ourselves kindly and helpful in thought.

As a man thinketh in his heart so does he speak and do—at least in the little things.

To those who are keen of sight we constantly reveal ourselves.

There are unguarded moments when we show the real trend of our thoughts.

The only safe way is to be right all through.

Then we need not seem.

Then we will see and seize the opportunities to do the right thing. Figuratively speaking, at least, every moment presents such opportunities.

Once past, they are gone forever.

One more chance unimproved!

It would have required such a little effort and might have resulted in good beyond our power to measure.

Let us not make the mistake again.

For all the future moments are ours.

Let us not make the mistake again.

For all the future moments are ours.

Big Cyanide Plant Is To Be Installed Soon

Work To Commence Immediately

Construction work is to begin on the 100-ton cyanide plant on the property of the Ogle Mountain Mining Company early in April. Mr. Charles F. Spaulding, Engineer and expert, will be here by April 1 to take charge of the construction work and the orders for machinery will be placed immediately.

Stop and think what the above statement means to Clackamas County and the state at large. Have you helped finance the proposition? Are you going to let the chance go by? Or are you going to get in and help us along? Now is the time a little help will be appreciated, for when the plant is completed it will do the rest. If you don't want to help, just keep your eye on Ogle Mountain and watch the gold bricks come out, and console yourself by the old saying, "The chance has gone by."

This is one of the many recommendations that we have of the Engineer, Mr. Charles F. Spaulding, who is to take charge of the work at the mine. Copy Gilbert Wilks & Co., Inc., Electrical Engineers and General Contractors, Denver, Col.

To whom it may concern—The hearer, Mr. Charles F. Spaulding, has been known to me for a considerable time past and I consider him one of the best mining and concentration engineers of the West. He is painstaking, and being possessed of great natural ability, has brought several hard propositions to a successful termination, and I have no hesitation in strongly recommending him to any one needing high grade services in his line.

Signed, WILLIAM H. GREY, M. & E. E.

Under the management of Mr. Spaulding we feel sure we are going to get all there is coming to us, and the best of treatment for he has the name of doing things right.

Where can you place a few dollars with the chance of winning larger profits? There is no easier money made than there is in mining. Why do we say we have a mine? Because we have our property developed, the veins are of true fissure origin, there are many in number and range in width from four to seventeen feet; are located from surface to thirteen hundred feet in depth and all carry values in payable quantities. What more can you ask, as these are facts and the property is located right here at home and owned by home people.

Gentlemen, what more can we do to prove to you that we have one of the best investments for big returns on the Pacific Coast? Our display of ore is credited among mining men as being the best on the coast. Call at our office, Tenth and Main Streets, and learn all particulars or fill out the following contract:

"Jess Dandy, as Hans Wagner, in Henry W. Savage's 'The Prince of Pilsen', to be at the Heilig Theatre three nights, beginning April 3. Special price matinee 3 tur.

THE PRINCE OF PILSEN.

"The Prince of Pilsen", accepted throughout the English speaking world as the standard musical comedy of the times, will be presented at The Heilig, Eleventh and Morrison, for three nights, beginning Thursday, April 3, and the company presenting it will disclose, it is promised, an average of vocal and acting excellence rarely shown in this line of stage work.

While none except Mr. Dandy and Miss Delmore have been in the cast of this play from its inception, the new comers are said to measure up in every way to the standard set by their predecessors. To those who have already seen "The Prince of Pilsen", its remarkable success, both here and abroad, needs no explanation. Frank Pixley provided a humorous-romantic story, deftly ingenious in its complications and picturesquely placed on the shores of the Mediterranean, under the blue skies of the Riviera. Such a story was an inspiration to the composer, and from Gustav Luder's pen comes a rush of harmonies that fitted the lyrics, and gave to the entertainment such songs as "The Message of the Violets", "Pictures in Smoke," "The Song of the Cities," "The Tale of the Sea Shell," "The Pretty City Widow", and a dozen others. The cast is led by "Jess" Dandy, who in the role of Hans Wagner, a Cincinnati brewer, innocently has princely honors thrust upon him. Mr. Dandy is the ideal comedian for the part. His personality exudes humor, and his facility for extracting the last essence of comedy from a topical song or parody gave him a distinction as an entertainer, long before he found his true measure in musical comedy. Lottie Kendall—dashing, chic and graceful—will be seen as the vivacious widow, and this character has never been more charmingly outlined. Bernard Ferguson and Fred Ly-to the charred, or brittle, or soggy kind made in the tedious old-fashioned way, is relatively the same as the superiority of grilled steak to fried steak.

For one-tenth of a cent a slice the General Electric Radiant Toaster makes Perfect Toast faster than you can eat it. It is Perfect Toast because the radiant heat forces the necessary chemical change in the bread. This insures delicious golden Toast that fairly melts in your mouth.
