WRESTLERS FAIL IN RING. Former Star Explains Why Grapplers Are Poor Boxers.

Charley Cutler, manager of Jess Willard, the Kansas heavyweight and a former wrestler and boxer of ability, states that a successful wrestler can never succeed in the ring.

This expression of opinion was brought out as the result of the announcement that Jesse Westergaard had decided to try his luck as a white hope in pugilism.

Cutler said: "The whole question turns on the fact that wrestling brings into play an altogether different set of muscles from that utilized in the giving and taking of punches.

MBRIDE TELLS OF FUNNIEST PLAY HE EVER SAW.

"The funniest incident I remember in baseball occurred in a game played in Washington shortly after the fire on our grounds, which was in 1911," says George McBride, the Washington shortstop.

"When the new park was laid out they switched the diamond, and now I think Washington has one of the worst sun fields in the league.

"The incident I have in mind took place in this sun field. The roof of the stand had not been started, which made things worse.

"We were playing St. Louis, and 'Hap' Hogan was in left. It was a close game, and Schaefer, who came to bat with three on bases, made a half line to left field and 'Hap' lost the ball in the sun.

"The ball struck him squarely on the head when it came down, and we scored three runs. Hogan was stunned for a minute, and the way Schaefer carried on made it all the funnier.

"The next day the St. Louis outfielders practiced before the game, wearing catchers' masks on top of their heads and also regaled in chest protectors."

DETROIT BOASTS OF ONLY FRENCH BATTERY IN GAME

The Detroitis will boast of a French battery in Ducec, pitcher, and Roudeau, catcher, which prompts Huxley Jennings to go back into history.

"There have been all sorts of batteries in baseball during my days, in Sadie McMahon and Wilbert Robinson the Orioles had the dumping battery. The sauerkraut battery comprised Theodore Breitenstein and Heinle Peitz. The pretzel battery was Getzein and Charley Ganzel of the old Detroit champions. The Orioles also had the pony battery in Dr. Pond and Frank Bowerman. Ed Walsh and Billy Sullivan of the White Sox were called the Irish battery, while Gilmore and Connie Mack were known as the shadow battery. There may be genuine Italian, German and Swedish batteries in baseball, too, but the Detroitis this year have the first and only French battery, Ducec and Roudeau."

HIGH HONORS FOR TRAVERS.

Amateur Champion Only Golfer in United States Rated at Scratch. There is but one man at scratch on the national handicap list for 1913 announced recently by the executive committee of the United States Golf association. Needless to say the man in the honor position is Jerome D. Travers of Upper Montclair, N. J., the holder of the amateur championship.

"When the first national handicap list was prepared a year ago there were six,000 on the scratch mark. Travers was one of them, but his remarkable work last season, especially his play in the national championship at Wheaton, showed that he is in a class by himself.

His six companions of a year ago are now all ranked behind him, one of them at one stroke and the other four at two.

"Cliek" Evans, runner up to Travers in the national championship, is the only man allotted one stroke by the United States Golf association. His play during the year entitles him to the distinction. He played better golf than Travers on many occasions, and on the season's performances up to the day of the final round at Wheaton he had the better record, but the final match conclusively established the superiority of the eastern player.

Didn't Want Much. Here is an advertisement from an old copy of an English journal: "Wanted, for a sober family, a man of light weight, who fears the Lord and can drive a pair of horses. He must occasionally wait at table, join the household prayer, look after the horses and read a chapter of the Bible. He must, God willing, arise at 7 o'clock in the morning and obey his master and mistress in all lawful commands. If he can dress hair, sing psalms and play at cribbage the more agreeable. Wages, 15 guineas a year."

Big Cyanide Plant Is To Be Installed Soon Work To Commence Immediately

Construction work is to begin on the 100-ton cyanide plant on the property of the Ogle Mountain Mining Company early in April. Mr. Charles F. Spaulding, Engineer and expert, will be here by April 1 to take charge of the construction work and the orders for machinery will be placed immediately.

Stop and think what the above statement means to Clackamas County and the state at large. Have you helped finance the proposition? Are you going to let the chance go by? Or are you going to get in and help us along? Now is the time a little help will be appreciated, for when the plant is completed it will do the rest. If you don't want to help, just keep your eye on Ogle Mountain and watch the gold bricks come out, and console yourself by the old saying, "The chance has gone by."

This is one of the many recommendations that we have of the Engineer, Mr. Charles F. Spaulding, who is to take charge of the work at the mine. Copy Gilbert Wilks & Co., Inc., Electrical Engineers and General Contractors, Denver, Col. To whom it may concern—The best mining and concentration engineers of the West. He is painstaking, and being possessed of great natural ability, has brought several hard propositions to a successful termination, and I have no hesitation in strongly recommending him to any one needing high grade services in his line.

Signed, WILLIAM H. GREY, M. & E. E. Under the management of Mr. Spaulding we feel sure we are going to get all there is coming to us, and the best of treatment for he has the name of doing things right.

Where can you place a few dollars with the chance of winning larger profits? There is no easier money made than there is in mining. Why do we say we have a mine? Because we have our property developed, the veins are of true fissure origin, there are many in number and range in width from four to seventeen feet; are located from surface to thirteen hundred feet in depth and all carry values in payable quantities. What more can you ask, as these are facts and the property is located right here at home and owned by home people.

Gentlemen, what more can we do to prove to you that we have one of the best investments for big returns on the Pacific Coast? Our display of ore is credited among mining men as being the best on the coast. Call at our office, Tenth and Main Streets, and learn all particulars or fill out the following contract:

Under the management of Mr. Spaulding we feel sure we are going to get all there is coming to us, and the best of treatment for he has the name of doing things right.
