TARIFF TO CAUSE DECLINE IN WOOL

While a small amount of business is said to be passing in the wool trade, at scattered points in Oregon and Washington, the market as a rule is quoted extremely quiet with quotations nominal.

The entire trade is awaiting action of Congress on the proposed cut of the duty. That a lowering of the tariff will have an effect upon the price is now the conclusion of the entire trade. Producers are getting somewhat more seemingly willing to make some concessions in the price they have been holding for.

As a rule there is a marked determination to await the regular sales days before disposing of their fleeces, because no matter what the market does they consider they will receive better figures by selling all in a bunch than disposing of their limited lots to individual buyers without competition.

Prevailing Oregon City prices are as follows: HIDES—(Buying) Green salted, 7c to 8c; sheep pelts 75c to $1.50 each. MOHAIR—32c.

WOOL—18 to 20 c. FEED—(Selling) Shorts 25c; bran 24c; process barley $27 to $29 per ton. FLOUR—$4.50 to $5.

GRAVE OF PIONEER WOMAN UNCOVERED

While workmen were excavating in a basement in one of the houses belonging to Frank Busch on Twelfth Street Saturday, a grave was found which is believed to be one of the oldest graves of a white person in the Northwest. The coffin was made of heavy cedar planks which had been hewn out with an ax. They were put together with large hand-hammered spikes. The bones in the coffin are in a poor state of preservation and it is thought that they are probably those of a woman as they are small. Although the grave was in dry sand, it is so old that the cedar has decayed. It is estimated that the grave is probably 65 or 70 years old, because of the fact that hand made nails were used in the casket. It is not likely that of an Indian as there were no beads or other Indian relics found in it.

Numerous other relics have been found in the same neighborhood, among which was a large stone table like the affair used for grinding corn and other cereals.

ESTACADA. Mrs. Mary Irvin, wife of John P. Irvin, one of the pioneers of the Estacada country, died at her home in this city at 9 o'clock, P. M., April 2.

She resided in the Garfield community three miles east of Estacada for more than 30 years. Her husband survives her. Four sons: John T., Alex, Frank and William, and one daughter, Mrs. Alice Folsom, also survive her. There are a large number of grandchildren. The time of the funeral has not been announced.

Mrs. Sarah Palmater, who has resided in the Estacada country 61 years, coming to the present site of the city of Estacada, with her father as a girl of 12 years, when her father took up that land as a donation land claim in 1862, suffered a stroke of paralysis at her home last Friday. She is improving.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Anders is ill with pneumonia.

MACKSBURG. A movement is on foot to raise a contribution of food, clothing and money for the sufferers from the late storm in the east. Should Macksburg be true to her well-earned reputation for generosity the donation must, of necessity, be a liberal one.

Geo. Walsh has merited the genuine gratitude of his neighbors by his promptness in repairing one of the bridges over a swollen branch of the Molalla, which had been swept away in Sundays rain.

Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Baldwin visited their ranch home on Sunday.

Will Wallace, who has been working most of the winter in Macksburg, has returned to Montana.

Supt. Calavan made one of his regular visits to the Macksburg school on Tuesday.

Mrs. Eby, Sr., is quite seriously ill. Mr. Baldwin was in Canby on business last Saturday. Mrs. Baldwin, Sr., visited the school on Tuesday. Mrs. Frank Hilton, with two of her little sons, visited Mrs. Will Roth last Tuesday. Geo. Scramlin attended Lodge on Friday evening in Oregon City.

LAST CAR LEAVES FOR OREGON CITY AT MIDNIGHT

The thrilling Vault Opening Scene from "Alias Jimmy Valentine" as presented by the Baker Players all week beginning Sunday matinee.

ALIAS JIMMY VALENTINE.

Intense Play of Criminal Life to be Seen at the Baker This Week.

Will a criminal really reform and lead a strictly honest life if given the chance is the subject dealt with in Paul Armstrong's thrilling play, "Alias Jimmy Valentine" which the Baker players will be seen in for the week commencing Sunday matinee next. And the play proves that he will, for it deals with three of them, although the principal one is this clever young safe cracker, known as Jimmy Valentine. The scenes open at Sing Sing prison and many types of crooks are shown to a party of distinguished visitors, who at the same time get a glimpse of the methods of dealing with prisoners behind those walls. A young girl discovers in Jimmy the man she has been looking for for two years—the man who rescued her from the attack of a ruffian, and she immediately goes about obtaining his pardon and then induces him to come West with them and accept a responsible position in her father's bank. The play then takes up the life of Lee Randall (this being his real name) and shows how he is still hounded by the police. A certain "Detective" Doyle has been busy gathering evidence against him for a former crime and now comes to claim his man, regardless of the truth that he has been living an honest and useful life for three years. But here Jimmy outwits him in a most clever manner, the scene between them being one of the most intensely interesting and amusing in modern plays. Doyle is just leaving, completely non-plussed, when Red, Jimmy's old pal, comes running in calling for him to come and open the vault in which a child has been accidentally locked, and to which no one knows the combination. Doyle watches and the two of them rush to the vault room, Jimmy opening it by the sense of touch, he being the only known man living who can do this. Of course Doyle then has his goods on him, but the ending is one of the surprises, and likewise one that brings happiness to everyone, including the girl who obtains Jimmy's pardon, and who has since learned to love him. The regular Baker matinees will be given on Thursday and Saturday and the popular Bargain Night Monday.

MELDRUM ACCUSES CITY ENGINEER

Charging that City Engineer C. S. Noble, and his assistant, George C. Yale, entered into a conspiracy with Mayor Jones and the members of the city council for the purpose of giving Yale an opportunity to hold a position unlawfully, Henry Meldrum, city engineer under the Carl administration, has filed a reply in the circuit court. Meldrum is acting on the relation of the state of Oregon, plaintiff, and seeks to oust Yale, who was appointed city engineer early in January. The city charter of Oregon City provides that the city engineer must be an actual resident, and must have been a year prior to his appointment, and although it was contended that Yale was a resident of Meldrum Station, where he lives, he was confirmed by the council, and Henry Meldrum brought suit to oust him. On February 7 Yale resigned and Meldrum says that in pursuance of a preconceived plan, conspiracy and agreement by Yale and the city officials, the mayor pretended to fill the vacancy by the appointment of Noble, who was Yale's assistant. Yale then became Noble's assistant, but has been practically directing the work of the city engineer's department in the same manner as when he held the title of city engineer.

MRS. WILLIAMS TO BE BURIED TOMORROW

The funeral of Mrs. R. C. Williams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harding, of this city, will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1:30 o'clock at the First Baptist Church. Rev. W. T. Milliken will have charge of the services, and Mrs. Lydia Olmsted will have charge of the Baptist choir, which will furnish the music. The interment will be in Mountain View Cemetery, and the services at the grave will be private. The pallbearers will be M. D. Latourette, Clarence Fields, Lee Harding, Carlton Harding, Lloyd Harding and E. L. Shaw.

ART OF FISHING IS TAUGHT BY WISNER

Continued from page 1) tract will be made on the questions of time and cost.

"From information which I have already obtained mackerel is plentiful at certain seasons about two hundred miles off the coast, and I am told that there is an abundance of herring. When our boat is completed our work will be to go out to the banks at different seasons, to work on a commercial scale, and at the same time pursue scientific investigations as well. We shall make a systematic study of bottom conditions, currents and temperatures and sea life at different depths.

"Then there is another side. Nothing has been done in the way of salting, curing, or canning. I am taking down the necessary outfits from here to demonstrate the methods. The study of river fish and the application of modern methods of fish culture will come later."

Boiling Eggs. Eggs covered with boiling water and allowed to stand for five minutes are more nourishing and easier digested than eggs placed in boiling water and allowed to boil furiously for three and one-half minutes.

Oldest of British Sports. Hawking is the oldest of all British sports. To the uninitiated the most marvelous feature of hawking is the manner in which the hawks themselves, naturally the wildest and wildest of the feathered tribe, have been trained to surrender voluntarily their liberty and return literally like a bolt from the blue in obedience to the will of the falconer. This indeed seems the more remarkable when one learns that the best birds are those which have attained maturity in a wild state.—London Field.

DR. FORD TO SPEAK. The subject of Dr. T. B. Ford's address to be delivered this afternoon at 3 o'clock to men in the Woodmen Hall is of great importance. "Has World's Last Gospel lost its power over men? Is the church a spent force? Is Christianity a failure? Is the theme. The address will be in harmony with the new interpretations of Christ and His Christianity, and all men, and especially those who have misgivings as to the outcome of the awful strife between the forces of christianity and the anti-christian forces at work in the modern world. There is a modern world, and we live in it, and have to do with it, says Dr. Ford, and if christianity is not adapted to conditions today it must pass as other religions, pass before the march of the empire of truth. "Is Christianity a Failure?" must be answered frankly.

FORUM OF THE PEOPLE DO NOT NEED HIGHWAY! OREGON CITY, April 5.—(Editor of the Enterprise).—The Enterprise has published some very astounding articles for the past two days upon the title page and under prominent "scars-heads," the bright ideas of which evidently came from some of the wise heads of Canemah. We are surprised to note that a high class publication like the Enterprise, would take up petty differences of road districts and give them prominence on the front page. It must always be remembered that there are always two sides to all stories and in answer to these misleading articles, we know this paper will be just as willing to publish more information about this little matter. In the first place, the people of Twilight do not need the so-called Pacific Highway and never made any effort to have it pass through this neighborhood but have always realized that the Pacific Highway followed the South End road because it is the most practical route. We are willing for the autos to pass through Canemah if they so desire and no doubt it would be quite a treat for us to pass along our beautiful South End road and look down on the little city of Canemah, sleeping peacefully in the bottom. It does look rather lonesome. It happens that the Twilight people have horses and some of them have many horses and quite a number even have automobiles, so it is not surprising that they are interested in having a road and the facts of the case is, we use the roads in Canemah more than the Canemah people do, therefore any sane person would know better than to state that we are opposed to improving the roads. Yes, Canemah voted a special tax and Twilight would not, according to the articles in the paper. Why not come out and play fair and say that we are all in the same road district and that last year we all agreed to vote a special tax and divide the same on an equitable basis upon our three roads. Now, what was done. It was estimated that each road would receive nearly a thousand dollars. About six hundred feet was built in Canemah more than the Canemah people do, therefore any sane person would know better than to state that we are opposed to improving the roads. Yes, Canemah voted a special tax and Twilight would not, according to the articles in the paper. Why not come out and play fair and say that we are all in the same road district and that last year we all agreed to vote a special tax and divide the same on an equitable basis upon our three roads. Now, what was done. It was estimated that each road would receive nearly a thousand dollars. About six hundred feet was built in Canemah more than the Canemah people do, therefore any sane person would know better than to state that we are opposed to improving the roads.
