Automobile riders will soon be seen again in all their glory. The horse show at Mt. Angle takes place Saturday. Many from this neighborhood will attend, and an unusual large crowd is expected. EAST MT. SCOTT Everybody is busy working in the fields these nice days. Glen Rushford has gone to work in a garage at Portland.

These Pictures Tell Their Own Sad Story of Ruin and Death

IF for one moment you ever thought the newspapers were exaggerating the horror of the recent cyclone in Omaha, Neb., these pictures will set you right. See what the wind demon did to Plymouth Congregational church, as shown in the top picture, and also to residences along the North street boulevard. Likewise see how it demolished a moving picture place. Very little text is needed for these pictures. They tell louder than words their own sad story of ruin and death.

April 20 In American History. 1801—Remarkable war demonstration in New York city to support Lincoln's call for 75,000 men to "suppress insurrection." Resignation of Colonel Robert E. Lee from the United States army. 1892—Severe earthquake throughout the whole of California. 1902—Frank R. Stockton, the novelist, died; born 1834. 1906—Fires checked in San Francisco. Total deaths recorded 488. Loss from fire over $300,000,000. Gross loss from all causes over $1,000,000,000.

CORRESPONDENCE GLAD TIDINGS Mr. Schnack has grubbed up the old prune orchard on his place, set out many years ago by Bert Hibbard. E. A. Shaver is rebuilding partition fences. Virgil Dart has cleared up several acres of a past winter. Surveyors are now at work on the Rachel Todd place. It will be cut up into small tracts and put upon the market. F. E. Ericson sold 3 small fat hogs lately for the sum of $50. Mr. Mortenson, sawmill man, located on Teazel Creek, South Molalla, passed on Tuesday, taking in more up-to-date machinery. Ernest Conrad, who injured his hand several weeks since, is slowly improving. Ole Rue, F. E. Ericson, John Wooster and Geo. Newsome attended the Horse Fair at Mt. Angel, April 12. There was a large attendance, good order and a genuine good time. Clarence Jackson, of Portland is visiting with relatives in this vicinity. He will visit Graham Hunsate, whose wife is a cousin of his, also call on John Jackson and his cousin, Gilbert. Flowing in hop yards has started in earnest and some few have made a start plowing land to be sown in grain.

WILLAMETTE. Nelson Waldron returned Sunday from a seven months' stay in Monroe, Wisconsin. He was with his aged mother during her last illness and until after her funeral and settlement of the estate. Needless to say he is very glad to be home again. Mrs. Schultz and children went to Ranier, Oregon, Friday, where Mr. Schultz is engaged in lucrative work. Bailey Hill and sister, Mrs. Leulla Hickey will keep house in the cottage vacated by Mrs. Schultz. Mr. and Mrs. John Inogole were Portland visitors last Wednesday. Mrs. Leisman and Mrs. Junkin went to Portland Thursday to buy flowers for Mrs. Fisher's funeral, which was held at the house Friday morning, conducted by H. Leisman in a very solemn manner. There was a large attendance at the house, and a good many went to Oswego, where the interment took place. Mrs. Fisher was 74 years old and leaves six children to mourn her loss. Preaching services were held by Mr. Woodfin Sunday evening at Willamette church. A new sidewalk is a great improvement on the church property. Our generous citizens contributed the funds necessary to purchase the lumber and Mr. Snidow and two young men put it down. The eighth grade had a walking party Saturday evening. Arbor Day, Friday, April 11, was kept by the three lower rooms in a simple manner. Anthony Tour's family is moving into H. Shipley's house. Mr. Booz from Sydney, British Columbia has been visiting Lee Bacon.

ASTRONOMICAL EVENTS.

Evening stars: Venus, Saturn. Morning stars: Mercury, Jupiter, Mars. The Pleiades of constellation Taurus (the Bull) seen midway between the Milky way and the horizon, north of west, about 9 p. m.

MUCH DEPENDS ON THE old story HOW IT IS SAID of the Oriental potentate who put his grand minister to death because he said to him, "Oh, sire, you will live to see all your ministers and court die and leave you," and who subsequently elevated the court fool for saying, "Rejoice, oh my master, for your life shall be long and happy and you will see new generations arise to do you honor," seems to be quite closely paralleled in the present "crisis" that is reported to exist between Japan and the United States. The lower house of the California legislature has a bill prohibiting "all those not eligible to citizenship" from holding land in the state. The senate has a bill, of exactly similar import, only instead of providing that "those not eligible to citizenship" cannot hold land, it sets forth that only "citizens" may hold land. Japan feels that the first bill is a direct slap at her people—as is probably so—but the second bill is acceptable to her because there is no phase of its wording upon which can be hung a diplomatic objection—even though the bill has the same purpose as the first. Japan realizes that the United States has a perfect right to legislate as she will in regard to her citizens, but she objects to legislation directed against those who are not citizens. It is a small thing, in the final analysis, but possibly the point is well taken. The moral of the whole thing seems to be that it is wise to consider carefully the language used—whether the wording figures in a matter of international importance, or in mere personal intercourse.

GLAD TIDINGS. One of our near neighbors, a Mr. Murray, had the misfortune to lose his house and its contents by fire last week, caused by a defective flue. Harrison, son of Ira James, who has been sick so long, died Sunday, April 6, and was laid to rest in the Hubbard cemetery, April 8. Jacob Schnack had quite a number of visitors Sunday, his wife being absent it was up to Jackie to entertain them, which he did in a royal manner. E. A. Shaver made a trip to Scotts Mills Tuesday, returning with a load of bran. Mr. Schnack bought a large fat hog of Geo. Jackson, who he butchered. Pearl Vaucher visited Saturday and Sunday with her sister, Marie Shaver. Claud Marsh along with others hunted fox and other game Thursday night. John Ridings visited Molalla and Dickey's Prairie Wednesday, wishing to buy a horse, but did not make a purchase. With the present nice weather, farmers will soon begin their delayed seeding. Geo. Jackson has hauled the balance of the Madison oats to his house, perhaps 50 bushels remaining which are for sale. James Rue has purchase an incubator and will try the matching and raising ducks, believing that with proper management there will be a fair profit remaining. Roads are fairly good again, with exception of a few ruts or chuck holes.

EAGLE CREEK.

A number of people attended church which was held in the school house Sunday.

TWILIGHT.

Mr. Gage and family expect soon to move to Portland. Miss Tilly Scheer entertained a number of young friends at her home Monday evening. L. E. Bentley was called to Marquam Saturday by the serious illness of his mother. A. H. Harvey, B. L. Harvey and G. M. Lazelle attended the Congregational Brotherhood Tuesday evening in Oregon City. Mrs. Mier, of Canby, has returned home after a few days' visit with her daughter, Mrs. Henry Scheer. Mrs. Herman Scheer celebrated her 40th birthday anniversary Monday. She has been a sufferer for three years, being afflicted with rheumatism. She was remembered by a number of friends. Mrs. Curran and Mrs. Scott visited the school Tuesday afternoon. M. J. Lazelle is traveling in the interest of the dairy extension work of the Oregon City Commercial Club. Miss Alice Boylan and Lester Boylan were calling on old friends Sunday. They were formerly residents of this place. Mr. Spigler has his farm surveyed and will sell it off in 5 acre tracts. Anyone wishing a desirable country home give him a call. Miss Alto Ramsby has been engaged to teach the spring term of school. The road from Geo. Lazelle's place to Thomas Kelland's is almost impassable, and a disgrace to Clackamas County. It is no uncommon occurrence to see two or three automobiles sticking in the mudholes. With such a short distance it seems something might be done.

Cruel Styles of Women Are Killing Off Many of Our Beautiful Birds

By Mrs. MAY RILEY SMITH, Director of the Audubon Society

IT has come to the point where women must forswear the use of all feathers save those of the ostrich IF THEY WOULD SAVE THE BIRDS. What they are wearing may have been obtained without harm, but by wearing any wings they PERPETUATE THE FASHION. They aren't necessary, are they? If ribbons and flowers alone were style WE WOULDN'T MISS THEM, would we? STYLE, THAT'S WHAT DOES IT. IT IS FICTITIOUS, FLUCTUATING AND ARTIFICIAL, BUT IT LURES WOMEN ON TO DO THINGS THEY WOULD NOT SANCTION OTHERWISE. Did we not always speak with contempt of "the savage with his feathers?" Then what is this fashion, but an expression of the surviving savage instinct in woman? Men are justified in declaring women unprepared for taking the reins of power in their hands since they are wanting in justice, in tenderness, which has been their traditional attribute. CRUELTY IN WOMEN IS AN OFFENSE THE WORLD IS SLOW TO PARDON.

BUTTER DROPS TO 30 1/2 AND 32 CENTS

The decline of 2 1/2 a pound in the price of butter, forecasted Friday became general Saturday morning; all creameries, city and country, quoting the lower figures. The new price in effect this morning is 30 1/2 for prints, for cubes and tubs and 32c for prints. Cartoons are quoted at the usual premium over regularly wrapped butter. The decline in quotations here still places the local market above the basis where California supplies can be shipped to this territory, but the differential is far less than before and there will be less inclination to speculate in the southern product. Prices here are in line with those quoted on Puget Sound, the latter market having dropped several days ago. Los Angeles berries have entered the local market for the first time this season. Stock arrived overripe and therefore could not compete with the finer Louisiana offering. However, berry business is quiet on account of the cool weather. On account of the Jewish holidays next week there has been a very liberal demand for fat hens in the wholesale trade. Stocks were inadequate to fill the wants and higher prices have again been forced.
