1789—George Washington inaugurated first president of the United States in New York city, where the first congress elected under the constitution was in session. 1912—The cable ship Mackay Bennett, with 190 of the Titanic deck recovered from the sea, reached port at Halifax, N. S.

ONE OF OREGON'S The Youth's Greatest Assets Companion, in a recent issue says: "Oregon tries to put a high-school education within reach of the boys and girls of every rural community. A state law provides for a county fund from which any district that, either alone or with a neighboring district, maintains a standard high school, may receive in proportion to the number of pupils in the school. The plan was first tried in Lane county in 1908. The six high schools of that year, with 523 pupils, have increased to sixteen, with nearly a thousand pupils. Seven other counties have adopted the plan, with the result that now there are said to be more high school pupils in proportion to the population than in any other state."

The magazine from which the above is taken is one of the standard children's periodicals of the nation. Perhaps more youngsters have been brought up on The Youth's Companion and St. Nicholas than on any other two papers. Some children have been lucky enough to have both included in their earlier reading, and have profited much thereby. Therefore, it means more than mere content when such a magazine prints in Its columns information such as is given here, for not only do thousands of children throughout the East and Middle West read it, but their parents read it as well, and thoughts are thus directed towards Oregon as a state that believes in looking out for its future generations.

The neighboring commonwealth of Washington has long justly prided itself upon its public school system, which has been developed to a high degree. Tacoma, one of its cities, is perhaps most widely advertised by its magnificent high school and stadium—and while Tacoma has a newer and yet larger high school, its older buildings is still drawing annually many new families to the city. People migrate these days to places where they can not only better their own condition, but where they can be assured of a liberal and modern education for their children as well. The little clipping printed at the head lines about Oregon is advertising that pays. It is quoted here as an example of the sort of news we want to give the rest of the world about ourselves. It matters not so much that our resources are wonderful and inexhaustible—the resources of Brazil are as great. What we want the rest of the world to know is that not only have we resources and vacant land awaiting settlement, but that we have also here a system of life as advanced as any to be found in the United States, a system that not only provides comfort and progress for the grown-ups, but that provides the means of the successful advancement of the younger generation. People these days are thinking of their children's future more than of their own; and the state that can do the best for the children is the state that will grow. The public school system has made America what it is today; Oregon's advanced public school system will do wonders in making her the great state of the future on the Pacific slope.

MISS HELEN KELLER has been for years one of the marvels among the afflicted of America. Today she is more of a wonder than ever. Deaf, dumb and blind since the age of nineteen months, she has developed into a finely educated young woman, a college graduate, who takes a keen interest in public and civic affairs. She is an ardent Socialist. Miss Keller has conquered her lack of speech. She can now talk and in a way sing. She is shown here at a flower show in New York. She was able to tell the various kinds of flowers by her sense of touch and smell.

JUST who are the desirable and who the undesirable is not always easy to determine. On the contrary, it may be very difficult. Just what additional measures may be necessary to exclude undesirable immigrants now coming to the United States within the law it is not for me to say. But certain undesirables are coming whom the authorities cannot exclude lawfully. Aliens have no inherent right to enter the country, and it is OUR OWN FAULT IF WE CONTINUE TO ADMIT THOSE OF INFERIOR TYPE OR WHO ARE NO GAIN TO THE UNITED STATES. We should unquestionably be MORE PARTICULAR than we are as to whom we receive and strive for quality rather than quantity. We require only immigrants of the right sort, those who are physically strong and who possess such moral and other qualities as will help build up the race and the nation. WE ARE NOT CALLED UPON TO ENDANGER THE FUTURE OF OUR COUNTRY OR ITS INSTITUTIONS FOR THE SAKE OF THE DISTRESSED OF OTHER COUNTRIES, HOWEVER MUCH THEIR CONDITION MAY AROUSE OUR SYMPATHY. The time has come when it is necessary to PUT ASIDE FALSE SENTIMENTALITY in dealing with the question of immigration and to give more consideration to its racial, social and economic aspects and in determining what additional immigrants we shall receive to remember that our FIRST DUTY IS TO OUR OWN COUNTRY.
