THIS DATE IN HISTORY

May 20.

1775—Articles of Confederation agreed upon in congress. 1830—Congress reduced the duties on coffee, tea and cocoa. 1859—French and Sardinians defeated the Austrians at Montebello. 1860—The Prince of Wales (King Edward VII.) concluded his visit to Canada. 1868—George Junkin, founder and first president of Lafayette college, died in Philadelphia. Born near Carlisle, Pa., Nov. 1, 1796. 1879—St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York city, dedicated. 1887—Cornerstone for Stanford University laid at Palo Alto, Cal. 1897—Monument in honor of Stephen Girard unveiled in Philadelphia.

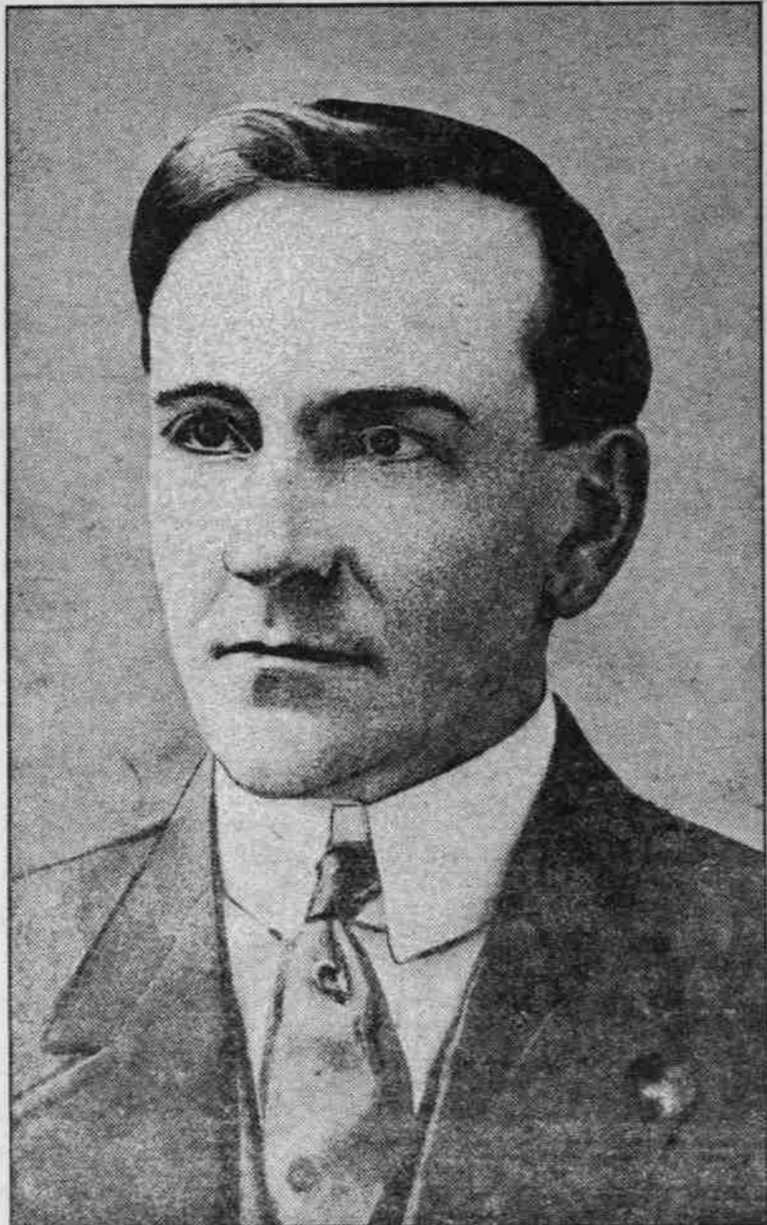

CHANCE FOR BETTERMENT With an awakening of the public conscience in regard to the duty of the community towards itself have come many things. The council has recently passed a number of ordinances designed to better conditions in Oregon City, and to abolish unsanitary states that have existed, simply through carelessness, for some years. A committee of city officers, club women and the Live Wires is now busy preparing a plan whereby there shall be established the office of market inspector—and so things are progressing.

With all of this, however, there is still one need that is being neglected, and that is the matter of a playground for the students at the high school. Younger children have been provided for, the grown-ups are being given care; but the city's citizens who are at the age of adolescence are being left out in the cold. The matter is brought to the front just now through the call of the high school youths and lassies for a place wherein they can train for competitive events that have been arranged for the county school track meet at Gladstone next Saturday. Oregon City's high school representatives have won the county cup for two seasons; if they win it again this year the trophy will be their's "for keeps." And to be able to win it the students need an adequate training ground.

But this is not all. Were it solely a matter of training for competitive meets, the matter might be left as it is. However, it is more than that. Boys and girls of high school age need play, just as much as do younger children—in fact they need it more. Sometime ago it was hoped that the high school girls might be taken care of by establishing tennis courts on the park block about the new library, but this has been tabooed. Owners of nearby property, it is said, do not want the park "overrun with howling youngsters." Too bad! And naturally, if the gentle game of tennis is barred, there will be no chance at all for the more strenuous and noisier sports of the boys.

What are the high school children going to do? Play in the street? The girls tried that, tried playing "indoor baseball" in the street. Quite naturally they gave it up. They cannot play tennis in the street, nor can they play basketball there. As for the boys, being made of sterner stuff, they have utilized the street and the county roads, and have surprised early morning and late afternoon pedestrians by running about clad in unconventional costume. Sometimes they have gone long ways to either Canemah or Gladstone parks, but it is almost too much to ask the youths and lassies to go out of town to play. It is necessary that these young people have a playground. It will keep them healthy, it will keep them out of the downtown streets, where there is nothing to do but parade aimlessly up and down and gossip. It will provide them with strength and develop their bodies with out-door exercise. It will provide them with a center for their activities, and will keep them together and so build up the school spirit. In short, it is just as important, in the campaign of betterment, that the high school boys and girls be taken care of as it is that the markets be inspected, or that barns be kept clean, or cows kept in sanitary quarters. And perhaps it is more important, too.

A QUERY A correspondent, who ANSWERED modestly hides behind the title, "A Reader," writes to The Enterprise to say that the last seen of "Scoop" he was in a garbage can, and that his presence from this paper is missed. Information as to his whereabouts is requested.

It is sad, but true, that Scoop wound up his local career in a garbage can, but that was the fault of the artist, and not of The Enterprise. This paper would have gladly given him a kinder fate. Scoop envied these pages long and faithfully, and while he was learning the newspaper game got himself into and out of many weird scrapes. So it often is with the cub reporter. And, as often, just about the time the springy cub has become a fixture, he bies himself away elsewhere, there to profit by the experience he has gained in the office where first he discovered some of the difficulties of getting news.

The Enterprise is sorry Scoop left in a garbage can. It had no such punishment in store for him. But Scoop's contract happened to run out the same day as the garbage can episode, and while there is little doubt that he rose successfully from whence he fell headlong, his present adventures cannot be chronicled here for some time to come. Variety is the spice of life, and there had been a whole lot of Scoop, so when time came for renewing his contract, The Enterprise thought that quite possibly its readers would prefer a change. Henry Peck, arriving at an opportune time, was accepted to fill a certain definite engagement, and until Henry's contract expires there can be no more of Scoop and his blithe blunders. But it is hoped that in the meantime the philosophy of Henry Peck and his son will in part fill the aching void left by Scoop's departure, and perhaps at a later day the boy journalistic marvel will return.

Train Our Children Right If We Want Them to Lead

By L. R. ALDERMAN, Superintendent of Public Instruction of Oregon

BUSINESS OF THE NATION TODAY IS FIRST WITH THE CHILDREN.

I am convinced that the awakening of the west is not a purely western movement. Everywhere the present system of public schools is UNDERGOING ANALYSIS. It is being realized and admitted that our schools today, generally speaking, will NOT STAND THE EFFICIENCY TEST. It is bunglesome, rather trying to fit the child to the education than fitting the education to the child.

The result will be that in fifty years there will be such A REVOLUTION AND SHATTERING OF TRADITIONS AS WE HAVE NOT SEEN IN ANY ONE LINE. If we don't we may expect to see foreign trained students come into America in greater numbers, take our places at the desk, the work bench or the markets and usurp rightfully the places and stations which belong to the American men and women.

FOREIGN SKILL WILL OVERTOP AMERICAN TRAINING, UNLESS WE CHANGE THAT TRAINING. FOR THAT REASON THE INDUSTRIAL MOVEMENT IN EDUCATION HAS BEGUN. THE TRADE SCHOOLS, AGRICULTURAL TEACHING, PERSONAL HYGIENE AND VOCATIONAL TRAINING IN ALL LINES ARE BUT THE FIRST OUTCROPPING OF A HARVEST OF NEW IDEAS THAT WILL NET DOLLARS AND CENTS TO THE NATION IN YEARS TO COME AND MEN AND WOMEN OF MERIT TO OUR CITIZENSHIP.

What is the good of inflicting a needless amount of algebra on a girl who cares nothing for engineering detail? The training in this line leads to the engineer's room, and how many girls look in this direction? We must ELIMINATE THE DEAD TIMBER IN OUR EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM AND PROVIDE TRAINING THAT WILL FIT THE STUDENT TO TAKE UP LIFE IN HIS OWN PARTICULAR FIELD OF AMBITION. It is this movement that is stirring the educators of the entire country.
