Dingley, a mining engineer known throughout the Northwest as a man whose reports can be relied upon for accuracy, was a visitor in the city Thursday, seeking particulars in regard to the Ogle Mountain mine. For a descriptive article in one of the big technical magazines, Mr. Dingley may move to this section in the near future, and establish a mining laboratory here. He declares that the Oregon country has never been thoroughly gone over, and expresses the belief that it is richly mineralized. H. Henningsen goes to Floriston, Cal., next week to become general superintendent of the millthere. He has resigned from the position he held with the Hawley Pulp & Paper company after having been with them for five years. Previous to joining the Hawley forces he was for ten years with the Crown-Columbia company. Mr. Henningsen is well-known as a member of the Elks, Woodmen of the World, Redmen and K. & L. of S. He was also a member of Columbia Hook & Ladder company. Mrs. Henningsen will accompany him south.

EGG PROSPECTS LOOKING BETTER

Poultry raisers may soon find an acceptable market for eggs after the last several weeks of quietness, for indications in Portland wholesale counters are that the price will soon advance. Eggs are now bringing 21 cents from the commission men, and demand is not met by the offerings. Oregon strawberries are still in front rank among small fruits on the market, and 24-pound crates are bringing $2.25 to $2.75. Sales of imported berries are decreasing rapidly and the state fruit is ruling the market. Willamette and Clackamas valley berries are not yet ready for picking, but indications are that a good crop will be had. Asparagus is still holding firm, with prices ranging from $1.35 for Walla Walla "grass" down to in the neighborhood of $1 for local cuttings. All varieties seem to be in prime condition. California lettuce is being quoted at $2.25 a crate. Local stock is arriving well, and is getting the preference in the market.

CHILDREN WELCOME G. A. R. VETERANS WITH APPLAUSE. Bolton and Willamette schools were visited by members of Meade Post G. A. R., Thursday morning and afternoon, and the veterans gave the children in each building interesting programs dealing with the great struggle of 1861-65, when the future of the union was at stake. The pupils greeted the old soldiers cordially, and listened eagerly to their stories of the war, applauding the different speakers enthusiastically. Aside from these indirect lessons in patriotism, the famous life and drum corps stirred the hearts of the youngsters with their militant and rousing music, while examples of the different drum calls used in the army served to instruct the children in military usages. The girls were a part of the annual pilgrimages to the schools made by the members of the post and the Women's Relief Corps before the Decoration day exercises. REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS. "SUSAP" MUST GO, COMES BACK SOON

Joe Savanroe, otherwise known as "Susap," one of the most widely known Indians of the lower Willamette valley, and formerly a star baseball player on the old Oregon City team, is going away. Joe has received a letter from his brother, Bill White Salmon, Washington, saying that his sister is very ill, and that she has expressed a wish to see him. So Joe is going to cross the Columbia, and visit the new fruit country on the Washington side. He will leave here Saturday morning, and does not expect to return before Friday of next week. "People do not like to see me go away, but I have to," said Joe in imparting the news. "People all like to have me here. Everybody knows me, and everybody likes Joe. But I have to go away, though I will come back sure. A man must go to his sick sister when she wants him, and so I am going. Maybe mine is dying—who knows, and maybe this is the last chance I shall have to see her. I do not want to go away from Oregon City, but I must go to her. I think that I will surely come back." Joe got the name "Susap" in his youth. Christened "Joseph," his early efforts to pronounce the name resulted only in repeated utterings of "Susap." And the name that he selected for himself stuck throughout life. "Susap" sounds more like an Indian name, anyway.

AUTO CAPSIZES, NOBODY IS HURT

neighborhood, and with people from Oswego they rushed to the assistance of the capsized vehicle, expecting to find the crushed and mangled bodies of the young women underneath. Just as rescuers were clambering down the bank the women started to crawl out from under the car, squeezing themselves through the narrow space between the ground and the body. Examination showed that beyond a severe shaking up, none of the party was injured. Other automobilists volunteered to take the young women home, and Oswego authorities detained Mr. Cook pending an investigation.

FOREST CLERK WANTED. The United States civil service commission announces that a forest and field clerk examination (requiring a knowledge of stenography, typewriting and bookkeeping) will be held in this city on June 7, 1913. Age limits, 18 years or over. Entrance salaries $1080 to $1560 per annum. Considerable difficulty has been experienced in securing a sufficient number of male eligibles for forest and field clerk. All qualified persons are urged to apply at once to the secretary, eleventh civil service district, room 224, Postoffice building, Seattle, Washington, for application blank and full information.

QUIET WEDDING HELD. With Justice Slevers officiating, Mrs. T. L. Howell and E. Smith were married Wednesday afternoon, C. H. Jeremiah and his wife acting as witnesses. Only immediate friends were present. Miss Helen Dykster, daughter of Mrs. Smith, who is attending Laurelwood academy at Gaston, came down to attend the wedding, and Oscar Heater and Valley Dykster were also present. Following the ceremony a wedding dinner was served at the Cliff house, the rooms being tastefully decorated for the occasion.

LOCAL TEAM BEATEN. In a game that was noteworthy for the run-feast was a three-bagger by ademy, of Portland, defeated the Oregon City high school team at baseball at Canemah park Thursday afternoon by a score of 16 to 15. The feature of the run-feast was a three-bagger by Dungey, of the home team. Evans and Vaziantz, credited for the military lads, and Holmes and Dungey were the batteries for the local team.

SENIORS PLAN PICNIC. The senior class of the Oregon City high school will give its annual picnic Friday evening at Schoner's park. The seniors have spent much time on working up this picnic, and it promises to be the highlight of the high school social functions for the year. One of the things that the seniors have worked out is due to the transportation committee who have planned to use hayricks and to have a jolly good time in general.
