Locomotive Races Around Hidden Curve and Crashes Into Standing Car At Grants Pass S. P. Depot

GRANTS PASS, Ore., May 23.—(Special)—Six persons were injured seriously in a wreck caused by a rear-end collision between a Southern Pacific motor-car running between Grants Pass and Ashland and Southern Pacific engine No. 2545, running light behind the motor, three miles south of this city about 6 o'clock tonight. The injured are: August Goetche, engineer on motor; back seriously wrenched and back of head cut. Mrs. Emma Daniels, of Eagle Point, arm broken by being thrown in aisle, striking against seat. Arthur Ellis, ankle sprained. Marcus Brown, teeth knocked out and face bruised. Claude Bardon, shoulder wrenched and back hurt. William Decair, right arm injured. The motor had stopped at the dam to pick up fishermen and was a little behind time. Conductor Hall was in charge of the motor and Engineer Dinniny of the live engine. Dinniny did not observe that the motor had stopped until the fireman saw it just around the curve. Dinniny reversed the engine and whistled, but it was too late.

FUN FOR YOUNG AND OLD READY

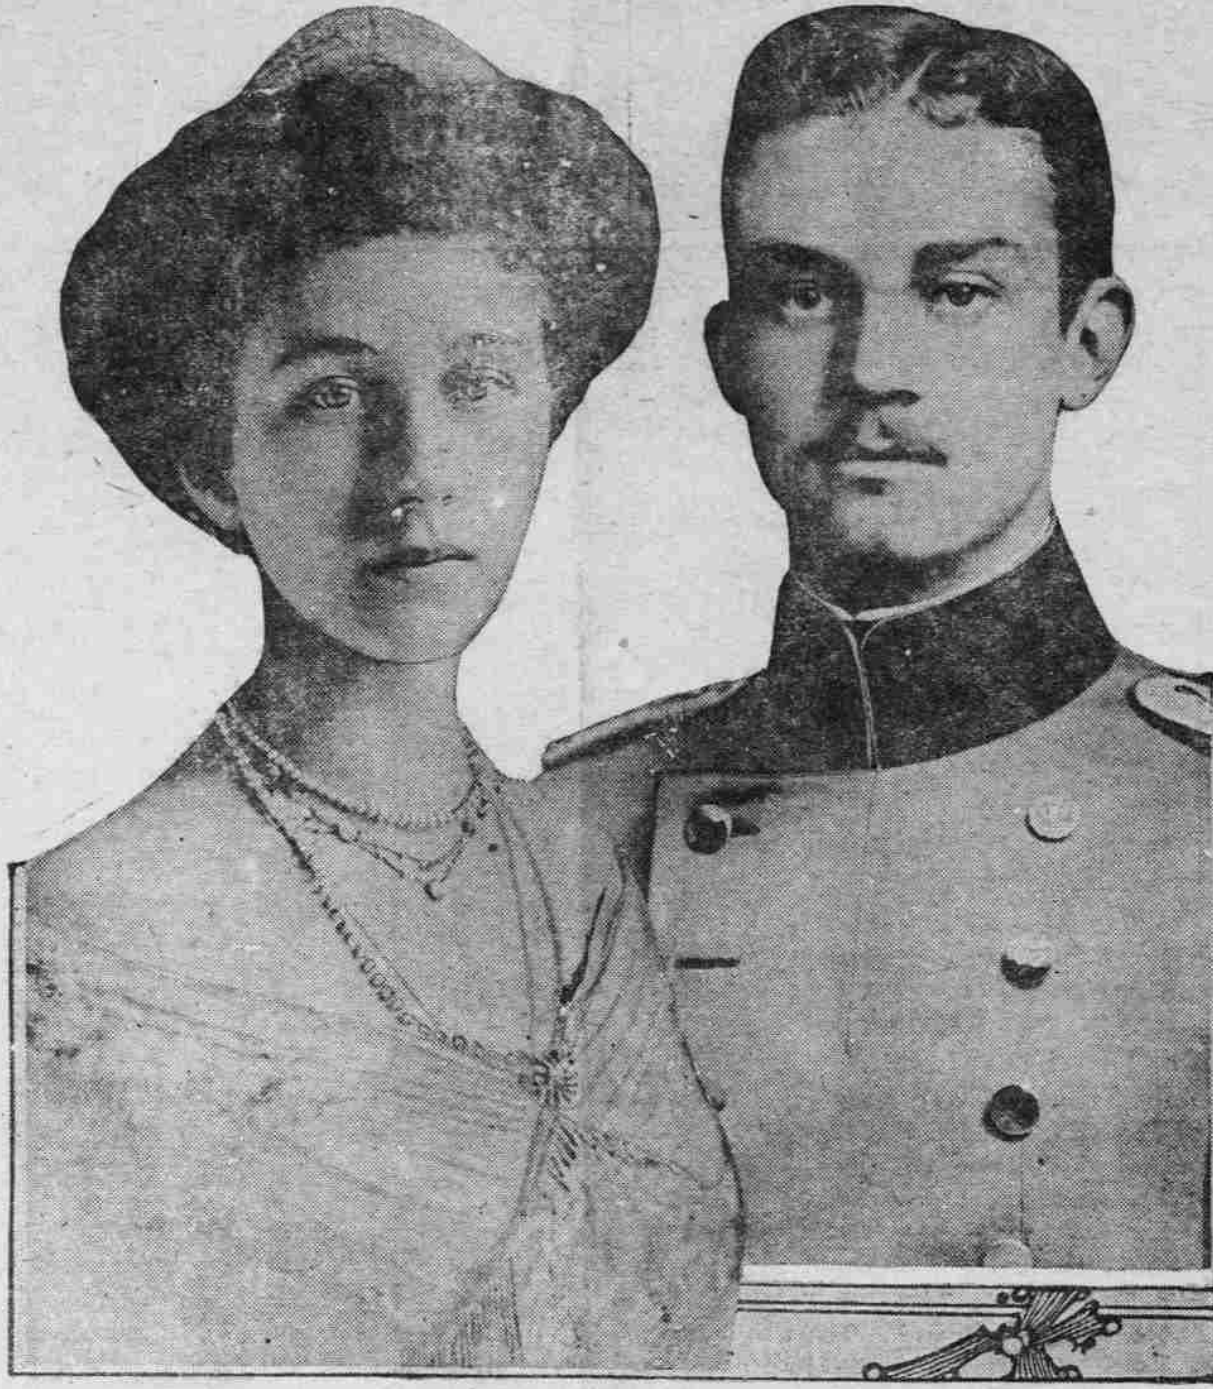

ANNUAL COUNTY FIELD DAY AT GLADSTONE PARK CROWDED WITH FEATURES

GIRLS WILL PLAY BASEBALL GAME

Great Contest Between Pupils and Teachers, and Battle for High School Trophy Will Keep Excitement High

This is the day that Oregon City high school will either win or lose the Clackamas County School league trophy, for today is the annual track meet at Gladstone park, when all the schools of the county will be represented at a gathering given over to fun and sports. The local high school track team has won the trophy for the past two years, and according to the deed of gift, the school that wins it three consecutive times gains permanent possession of it. Athletes of the local schools will be out in force, for aside from the high school team there will be teams from the various grade schools. The events at the park will be divided into three classes, those for high school boys, those for grade school pupils, and those for the rest of the folk, including grown-ups. The meeting is to be a sort of an all-day picnic, and students, teachers, parents, big and small brothers and sisters, and just visitors will be welcome. All that is required for admission to the park is a happy smile, accompanied, if possible, by a kodak and a lunch basket. Interest centers in the high school track contest, in the girls' baseball game between teams from Gladstone and Oak Grove schools, and in the baseball game between the students and the teachers. Aside from these main events there will be a host of lesser attractions, such as potato races, three-legged races and other stunts. Some of these have been arranged for the children and some for the older people. And there will also be a Maypole winding, in which it is expected some ten or twelve teams will take part. The weather man has prophesied fair skies and cool breezes, so everybody ought to have a good time. The annual field day is a feature of the school year in Clackamas county, and is one of the milestones at the end of the scholastic terms.

Union of Kaiser's Daughter and Prince Ernst Attracts Keen Attention of All Europe.

May 24, 1913, probably will be written into the annals of royalty as a memorable date through having reunited the house of Cumberland and the house of Hohenzollern by the marriage on that day of the kaiser's only daughter, Princess Victoria Louise, to Prince Ernst August, son of the Duke of Cumberland. The duke and the kaiser had been at odds for years. Consequently the announcement of the betrothal a short time ago came as an agreeable surprise, indicating, as it did, that the long standing differences had been forgotten or at least had been permanently put aside. In this illustration are shown photographs of the young couple whose union brings an end to the unpleasantness of years' duration. Many royal personages accepted invitations to the wedding.

Fred Ford Quits Long Fight; Buys Freedom and New Suit, Goes Home Happy and Rich!

Fred Ford, arrested for being drunk, and given his choice of a $40 fine or 30 days in jail some time ago, picked the 29 days, and started in to serve it out. Friday he had covered 15 days, and Friday also he redeemed himself and left town a new man from the bottom up and the skin out. It happened in this way.

Fred was working at Shaver's camp some score or so of miles out of town, and contracted the habit of coming to the city on pay-days and spending his money on stuff that made him first joyous and then sad. This habit eventually got him into his trouble, but before that happened friends at the mill got to holding back some of his earnings, Friday, learning of his predicament, they gathered up all that was coming to Fred and sent it down.

Confronted with the pile of cash, Fred was at first a little dubious. Then he made up his mind what to do, paid the unearned part of his fine, and sought out Chief of Police Shaw. Whispering to the chief what he wanted to do, the two of them went down the street, the chief keeping between Fred and the saloons. After the trip was over Fred had paid all his debts, acquired a brand new outfit and some extra equipment, taken a bath and bought a ticket to Boise, Idaho. Transformed he and the chief went to the depot, where Fred got on a train.

"I'm going home, chief," he said in parting. "I've paid all my bills, got a new outfit, and had you keep me away from the saloons. I'm going to quit fighting booze, and I'm going back to the place where I came from, 68 miles by stage out of Boise, and there I'm going to straighten up. I'm going back a new man, and I'm never again going to take the first drink. That is what has got me before, the first drink. After that it's all off with me. I want to thank you, chief for getting me out of town, and I want to thank the boss up at the mill for sending me the money coming to me. I'll have about fourteen dollars left when I get home, and I reckon I can keep straight on that. So long, chief."

"FASHION NOTES" FROM HIGH SCHOOL

The "shirt-waist man" is taboo at Oregon City high school. While youths in the grammar schools may ignore the conventionalities to a certain extent, no costless comfort is to be gained by the more mature lads at the city's highest institution of learning. This law was laid down once and for all Friday afternoon, when boys who thought the weather sufficiently warm to dispense with outer coats, appeared garbed in diaphanous shirts of silky texture and soft color. They were sent home for their clothes.

The local school authorities, however, are not insisting that the young women at the high school obey the same law. Girls may do about as they please, provided that they do not blossom out into "peek-a-boo" waists that reveal pink or baby-blue gams beneath. Low collars are permitted, but are not encouraged. Few of the Oregon City girls have shown any tendency to pronouncedly outre styles, so the teachers have not had much to worry about.

But with the boys it has been different. It took some courage for the youths to blossom out as "summer men," but once a few of them had agreed to the thing other recruits were quickly found. The "shirtwaist brigade" put in its appearance Friday morning, and was promptly squelched, and no youth who had not his coat with him and on his back was permitted to attend assembly.

WASHINGTON, D. C., May 23.—Rep. Sisson, of Mississippi, today denounced the dictation of federal land policy by "foreign powers."

VETERANS RECITE WARTIME HISTORY

Twenty-eight members of Meade Post, G. A. R. and the Women's Relief Corps were taken to Gladstone park by Capt. Apperson Friday, where they held memorial exercises for the benefit of the children of Gladstone school. The meeting, one of several that the old soldiers have been holding to inspire a greater patriotism among the flag among the school boys and girls, was in the nature of a picnic, and was thoroughly enjoyed by both youngsters and grown-ups. Comrade Grant told some of his war stories, throwing much dramatic action into them, and making the scenes and incidents he recounted extremely realistic. Comrade Moore gave an account of the battle of Vicksburg, and recited a poem upon the great battle of Gettysburg. The life and drum corps gave some more of its martial music, and then the young folks took charge of things and rendered a pleasing outdoor program. Following this a lunch was served by the ladies of Gladstone. After lunch the veterans and their companions went to Parkplace, where the children of the Parkplace school greeted them enthusiastically and held exercises for their benefit. Following this the old soldiers told the pupils much intimate war history, and the musicians played a number of military airs. Informal entertainment of the veterans by the ladies of Parkplace was a feature of the visit, and Meade Post wishes to thank both them and the ladies of Gladstone for adding to the enjoyment of the day.

AS OTHERS SEE US

The Woodburn Independent thus comments on Clackamas county in its last issue: "Canby is shipping rhubarb to California by the carload. That is turning the tables on our southern neighbors. We buy fruits and vegetables from California largely but sell to her very seldom." "Since Clackamas county has been having its timber cruised, a single section near Molalla has been posted from a valuation of $2,500 to one of $56,500. The increased tax will be $963.60. Hasn't Marion county some timber that needs cruising?"

LOCAL SPEEDERS

WILL EEEI LAW
WILL ILLL LAW

Owing to the failure of many local and visiting automobilists to obey the speed ordinances within the city limits, city and county officers have determined upon a joint campaign against all who hereafter utilize the paved streets of Oregon City as race courses. The officers have not said very much about their intentions, but recent violations have become so numerous that it has been determined to make examples of speeders.

Cars passing through Oregon City, between Portland and points south, fine the even surface of Main street an excellent place to "let her out," but henceforth they will be timed at either end of the city's main thoroughfare, and now beside the driver who makes the run in less elapsed time than the legal speed limit provides. Officers will be stationed at telephones at either end of the city, and close tab will be kept upon all big cats.

Local autoists have also developed the habit of "starting off with a dash," and will be brought up in short order by the police if they continue the practice. Several accidents have been but narrowly averted within the past week owing to the desire of some chauffeurs to emulate Barney Oldfield, and plans have been made to give such folk unexpected instruction in the provisions of the city laws.

ARCHBISHOP WILL ADDRESS VETERANS

Memorial services are to be held this year in St. John's Catholic church by the Grand Army of the Republic and the Women's Relief Corps. The veterans will attend worship in the historic edifice next Sunday morning to the church in a body. Pupils of the McLoughlin Institute and a delegation of the Catholic Knights of America will escort the soldiers from Tenth and Main streets.

Services in the church will begin at half past ten, and solemn high mass will be sung. Special music will be provided by the choir under the direction of B. T. McBain, and Miss Louise Draper will be at the organ. Father Hillebrand has invited Archbishop Christie to deliver the memorial discourse, and he has accepted. Visitors to the memorial services will be welcome, and it is expected that the capacity of the church will be taxed to the utmost.
