

NEW LAW COSTS $4,000 A DAY

$10 a month if she has one child to support. For each additional child she is allowed $7.50 per month. Thus a dependent widow with ten children would draw a pension from the county of $77.50 per month. Widows who are able to work, and whose employment gives them a certain income, can procure a less amount for care of their children, the law providing a graduated scale. Most of those who have already applied to the county court for relief have no means of support at all, and are now dependent upon the county.

In connection with the law, it is interesting to note that Senator W. A. Dimick, of this county, was one of the two men who voted against the bill in the upper house of the legislature. The bill was generally supported in both houses mainly from "pork barrel" sentiments. Under its provisions it is possible for a widow, if she so desires, to obtain practically all the state aid for herself, for if her minor children are working and are gaining sufficient income to provide for their own support, there is no means of regulating the amount the widow shall spend upon the "home," provided she herself does not receive a part of the children's wages.

NEW ROSE SHOW COLORS SELECTED BY LOCAL CLUB

Announcement has been made by Don Meldrum, of the Oregon City Rose society, that it has been determined to change the official colors of the Rose show from pink and green to red, white and blue. This is done to differentiate the local show from the similar event in Portland, the colors adopted for which are pink and green. The local rose show will open June 7, in Busch's hall, and promises to be one of the finest ever held here.

Plants are coming out finely under the warm weather of the past week, and it is expected that they will be in the very best of condition when the display date arrives. Local merchants and others who plan to decorate for the event have been notified of the change of colors, and as a result it is expected that "Old Glory" will enter very largely into the displays to be made.

The trial of 13 striking linemen, and J. C. Ainsberry, all implicated in a riot at Oswego last week, has been postponed from next Tuesday in Justice Slevens' court to the same hours on Thursday. The strikers will face the bar at 10 in the morning, and Ainsberry will be put on trial following the close of the first case.

Baldheaded Row

Early Piety Not Always the Cause of Baldness

Inasmuch as it is an accepted fact that baldness, falling hair and dandruff are caused by a germ, doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to prevent such calamities is to kill the germs.

And doesn't it stand to reason that the only way to kill these germs is to use Parsian Sage, which Huntley Bros. Co. has so much faith in that they guarantee it to cure dandruff, falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back?

Parsian Sage is a delightful hair tonic pleasant to use. It is not sticky or greasy, and contains only those ingredients that will surely benefit.

It is now sold by druggists all over America, and by Huntley Bros. Co. for 50 cents a large bottle. It is used extensively by women who desire luxuriant hair with a radiant luster. The girl with the Auburn hair is on every package.

NAZIMOVA TO BE SEEN AT HEILIG IN NEW PLAY

Robert Hichens' famous story "Bella Donna," as adapted to the stage with Madame Nazimova in the title role is said to be one of the biggest sensations the stage has seen in years. Few actresses are better equipped to present the especially trying role of Mrs. Chepsteow, the central figure in the play, than is this talented Russian woman, for the part is one which fits her especially well. Her performance has been likened to that of a beautiful reptile, who, when the opportune moment arrives sinks its fangs into its victim. Poison and passion are the basic properties in "Bella Donna."

One critic has said of "Bella Donna," "For sustained nerve tension and emotional climaxes it would be difficult to recollect at the present moment two acts of a production more serious in intensity than those comprising this adaptation from Robert Hichens' novel, Madame Nazimova while on the stage, demands a constant attention. The interpretation of the role of Bella Donna, is something extraordinary in its way." Charles Frohman has made a very elaborate and expensive production for "Bella Donna," there being a different setting for each of the four acts.

The company to be seen in the support of Nazimova is practically the same as was with her during the New York engagement. Madame Nazimova in "Bella Donna," comes to the Heilig theatre, June 5, 6, 7.

"FINE FEATHERS" COMING

H. H. Frazee, producer of "Fine Feathers," wishes to deny the rumor that has been current for the past few days that there has been a change in the all-star cast presenting this play, and which is announced for appearance at the Heilig theatre, Portland, June 1, 2, 3, and 4. It is surprising to some people should doubt the authenticity of an announcement that an original all-star cast in a big New York success should be sent to the Pacific coast even before it has been seen in any of the big cities of the east, outside of New York and Chicago, but such is the case with "Fine Feathers."

It is coming here direct from its remarkable run at the Astor theatre, New York, with the entire cast intact, including such celebrities as Robert Edson, Wilton Lackaye, Max Figman, Rose Coghlan, Lolita Robertson and Anna Summers. This is the first time on record that a genuine original all-star cast has been sent to the Pacific coast—and "Fine Feathers" boasts of the most distinguished cast of stars ever assembled for a modern play. "Fine Feathers" is the work of Eugene Walter, author of "Paid in Full" and "The Eastest Way," and this has been pronounced his masterpiece.

DAVID HARUM AT BAKER

The Popular Stock Company to be Seen in Wm. Crane's Great Comedy Success

Next week The Baker Players will be seen in "David Harum," the dramatization of Edward Noyes Westcott's well-known novel, which will open with the usual matinee Sunday. It has been several seasons since Portland theatre-goers have seen this favorite play, and with John Sumner the popular comedian and character man of the county banker and horse trader, it should be a big winner.

The widespread circulation of the book and the quaint sayings of David many of which have become almost household expressions, are sufficient to make the mere announcement of the production of the play by a popular company like the Baker Players the signal for packed houses all week.

All the familiar incidents described in the story are portrayed, from the selling of the balky horse to his old enemy the Seacon, the rain storm in which that pious old fraud is stalled, the arrival of John Lenox and Mary Blake, the securing of the mortgage on Widow Cullen's farm and down to the last act which takes place on charming surprises and comedy climaxes.

John Sumner whose work with the Baker Players all season has made him so many staunch friends and admirers here, will be ideal in the role of David, Ida Adair will play Mary Blake the school teacher and Robert Wayne will play the role of John Pennox, with all the other members in the different familiar parts.

The regular Baker matinees will be given Sunday, Wednesday and Saturday and the bargain performance Monday night. David Harum will be followed by Eugene Walter's beautiful play of the Canadian woods, "The Wolf."

EDDIE FOY, COMEDIAN, TO BE SEEN AT HEILIG

Werba and Luescher will offer at the Heilig, starting May 29th, that favorite of all American comedians, Eddie Foy together with his seven little Foy's, in a new three-act musical comedy, "Over the River."

Mr. Foy is a comedian whose comedy is contagious and whose smile is infectious. No American actor has a greater sense of humor and none reaches his audience more effectively. There is hardly a city in this country where Eddie Foy has not made them laugh by turning on his cat-like smile.

In his role of Madison Parke, the obstreperous clubman who landed in the public court room a night on Broadway and then was sent to the Island "over the river" for thirty days, he found a new musical work that became the talk of New York on the first night. The play was given an attractive musical setting by John L. Golden whose "catchy" songs became whistling hits as soon as they were heard. Mr. Foy will be surrounded by a superb musical comedy company, with the "Berlin Madcaps" and chorus retained that were with him during his New York run.

It is said that all former productions built around the comic abilities of this popular fun-maker have been surpassed by Werba and Luescher who now have Eddie Foy under their management. The company is one of the largest on the road and includes in addition to the large chorus and ballet, the famous "Berlin Madcaps" an octet of dancers and singers imported from the Winter Garden in Berlin.

F. O. B. Factory

In 1908 the Overland factory made 400 cars. This year they will make 40,000.

Big production, growing each year, has made it possible for the Willys-Overland Company to increase their car value, and in consequence decrease their retail selling price, which accounts for and explains their phenomenal progress. By sheer force of huge production, which was their original conception of capturing the automobile markets of the world, they were able to give each succeeding year more actual car for less actual money than any one else in the business. This big, broad manufacturing policy resulted in their rapid and remarkable growth.

Take the present $985 car as a specific case. This car upset the entire industry. When announced, few believed such a car, at such a price, was possible, but it was. Every day you see new Overlands on the street. We are making immediate deliveries.

If you are in the market for a car, see this Model 69 Overland. If you will compare it with others you will be convinced you will save considerable money. It is a self-starting, 30-horsepower, five-passenger touring car, magnificently finished, modernly appointed and completely equipped with every necessary essential. No other maker can give you its equal for a cent less than $1200.

Whenever you find the greatest demand, you can depend on getting the greatest value. Let us show you the car today.

GLADSTONE BUYS OWN GRAVEL PIT

So as to obtain street paving material at the most economical rate, the city of Gladstone has purchased a gravel pit four and a half acres in extent just across the Clackamas river from the main part of the town, and will haul material from it for grading, cement work and other purposes at an approximate cost of 50 cents a cubic yard. The purchase price of the pit was $1,500.

Street improvement work is being hastened in the city, and residents are proud of the fact that Gladstone is being developed and bettered at a faster rate than any other city in the state. This week lumber was purchased for the sidewalk on Dartmouth street from Yale avenue to Gladstone park, and the grading of Portland avenue will soon be put under way.

While the city recently installed a water system at a cost of $20,000, consideration is now being given the plan to add hydrants to the service lines for fire protection, and to purchase a hose cart. Some of the citizens, however, feel that it would be better to let the hydrants wait for the time being, and to purchase a chemical fire engine instead. They feel that perhaps more damage might be done in the case of incipient fires by the too enthusiastic use of water from a regular fire hose than would result from the blaze itself.

CATTLE MARKET TONE STAYS FIRM

Receipts for the week have been. Cattle 1463, calves 173, hogs 3054, sheep 7561, horses 24.

Cattle market steady to firm during the entire week. Prime grain fed steers sold at 9c, many cars being disposed of at this price. Bulk of steer sales $8.50 to $8.75. Butcher stock active and first offering of heifers in weeks brings $8.00 bids from the buyers. A poor layout in cows. Market is steady to strong in all classes.

Swine trade is uneven. General top is steady at $8.25 with an occasional load selling at $8.30 to $8.35. Liquidation continues liberal and sellers have a slight opportunity to raise market level.

Sheep house did a brisk business in medium grade lambs and mutton. Strictly prime stock was a scarce article. Spring lamb top around $7.25, prime wethers $6.00 and ewes $5.00. Sheep demand is somewhat slow and poor thin stuff is finding narrow outlet.

The city school board will meet Monday evening to elect teachers for the ensuing school year.
