CHAUTAQUA PLAN FOR 1913 READY

YEARS GATHERING AT GLADSTONE TO CELEBRATE 20TH ANNIVERSARY

MANY SUPERB FEATURES SECURED

Educational And Entertainment Program Will Excel All Former Offerings—Ideal Camp Sites to be Had

Twenty-one years ago Mrs. Eva Emery Dye, Oregon City's well-known writer, as president of a local Chautauqua reading circle, outlined the plans of a Chautauqua for Oregon City, Gladstone and Portland. The following year this Chautauqua was held, under most unpretentious circumstances, for the famous railway strike of 1903 kept all the Eastern talent that had been secured at home and local platform men and women filled their places. This coming July, exactly 20 years later to the month, the same Chautauqua meets again, in the same places—Gladstone, Portland and celebrates its 20th anniversary.

President Fletcher Homan, of Willamette University, heads the assembly this year. Hon. C. H. Dye, his predecessor is vice-president, and Hon. H. E. Cross, is serving his 18th year as secretary and manager. The officers and directors have arranged a big program for their 1913 session, which includes such speakers as Colonel Bain Baumgardt, the great lecturer-traveller; Maude Willis, one of the leading interpreters of the drama on the American platform today; the original company of the Tyrolean Alpine Singers, with their quaint folk-songs and melodies of the Alpine country; the Sierrita Mixed quartette, one of the foremost musical organizations of the west, vocalists and artists of high standing; Ng Poon Chew, a Chinese statesman, with wonderful education and breadth of thought who speaks on the subject closest to his heart, the "New Chinese Republic"; Walt Holcomb, the whirlwind Chautauqua orator, incidentally son-in-law of Sam Jones; Matt S. Hughes, a veteran of the Chautauqua field, who has appeared at Gladstone before, and will speak to five thousand people on his next appearance; E. G. Lewis of "University City, Mo.," as he describes himself, the man who made his "University City" famous; Grace Lambin and her "Supervised" play, an innovation for the children, and a blessing for the mothers. Miss Lambin's work was the sensation of eastern Chautauquas last year, and she has been engaged for the complete assembly, to provide play with a purpose, for the children.

Dr. Hinson, of Portland's White Temple, will be on the grounds the whole session and is to conduct the daily Bible studies. A bigger, brighter man, could not have been selected for this task. Dr. Hinson has a statewide reputation as an orator and a deep scholar.

Chautauqua music, always a feature, will be in charge of Prof. F. T. Chapman. He will have, in addition to his large orchestra of twelve pieces which is to be a daily feature of the main auditorium, the services of many of Portland's leading vocalists throughout the session. Mrs. Pauline Miller-Chapman will also take an active part in the Chautauqua music the coming year.

The state colleges will this year each have charge of a daily "forum hour," and several of the leading educational institutions will establish headquarters on the grounds. The Oregon Agricultural College will carry on its extension work, with practical lecturers along agricultural lines; the state university will give a course of free lectures on economic problems of the country. These talks are to be given by Dr. James Gilbert of the economics department of that institution, and a recognized authority along social and economic lines. "Old Willamette" will be ably represented as her president, Dr. Homan, also heads the Chautauqua.

Arrangements are now being made for a half hour car service which will run from Portland directly within the park gates each day of the session. The S. P. trains will also stop within a stone's throw of the grounds for the convenience of the patrons from the lower valley. Ten reservations to a limited number may be made at any time for a nominal sum, and the assembly will also furnish cots if desired by any who do not wish to bring their own outfits. The park during the past year was connected with the Gladstone water system, insuring an abundance of

Colonel Roosevelt Didn't Forget That Libel Suit Against Editor Who Accused Him of Drunkenness.

Photo of Roosevelt copyright by American Press Association. During the last presidential campaign the Ishpeming Iron Ore, a Michigan trade paper, published an article containing the assertion that "Colonel Roosevelt curses, lies and gets drunk frequently, and all his friends know this." Colonel Roosevelt, in seeing the article ordered a libel suit filed against George Newett, publisher of the paper. Then he brought into the campaign again, and friends supposed he had forgotten about the suit until recently, when he was informed that he was going to Michigan to take personal charge of the case. To the left in this illustration is a photograph of Editor Newett. To the right is shown Colonel Roosevelt in a characteristic speaking attitude.

ROSE FETE PLANS ARE ALL COMPLETE

Arrangements have been completed for the annual show of the Oregon City Rose society, to be held June 7. The display of blooms will be in Busch's hall, and incidental to this there will be a monster parade of decorated automobiles, floats, fire apparatus and lodges in the early afternoon. Miss Ethel Risley will be queen of the rose carnival, and with her attendants will head the parade. Prizes have been offered for the best turn-outs in the parade, and it is expected that there will be at least 100 automobiles in line.

At the exhibition hall there will be musical programs both in the afternoon and evening. Among those who will play will be Gustave Fletcher, violinist; Arnold Koehler, flutes, and Louise Walker at the piano. The features of the afternoon program will be the "Crusaders' March" by Sousa; "Liebsfruhling" by Ernst, and "The Skaters' Waltz" by Walteufel. In the evening the leading numbers will be "Triumph of the Country" by Anton Weiss, Schubert's Serenade and the "Blue Danube" waltz, by Strauss.

AINSBERRY STAYS IN JAIL AWHILE

J. C. Ainsberry, who has been in and out of jail on various charges since May 19, so many times that it is hard to keep track of his record, was brought before County Judge Beattie Saturday morning on a writ of habeas corpus, and his freedom asked by J. E. Hedges, his attorney. Ainsberry was in custody as a fugitive from Wyoming state penitentiary, from whence he was charged with having broken. He was also under arrest but "released" on $1,300 bonds, for assault with a dangerous weapon in the course of the Oswego telephone strike riot May 19.

In view of the fact that Wyoming officers are in Portland, and will ask Governor West for extradition papers for Ainsberry, Judge Beattie refused to release the prisoner on the writ of habeas corpus and he was remanded to the custody of the sheriff.

PIONEER OF COUNTY DIES

R. A. Schoenborn, a pioneer of this county, died at his home, Seventh and J. Q. Adams streets, Saturday after about a month's illness. Mr. Schoenborn was a native of Germany, but came to the United States when but a boy, and has lived in Oregon for the past fifty years. Formerly he was a resident of Beaver Creek. His widow and seven children survive him, five boys and two daughters. They are Frank, Albert, Robert, Harry and Henry Schoenborn and Mrs. Ned Smythe and Miss Elsie Schoenborn.

The funeral will be held from his late residence Monday afternoon at two o'clock.

PROF. TOOZE TO SPEAK

The annual baccalaureate sermon for the graduating class at the Oregon City high school will be preached tomorrow in the Presbyterian church, F. J. Tooze, city superintendent, will be the speaker of the occasion, members of the class having requested him to officiate.

BISHOP SCADDING HERE

Right Rev. Charles Scadding, Episcopal Bishop of Oregon, will conduct the 11 o'clock services at St. Paul's Episcopal church in Oregon City Sunday morning. The bishop will preach after the morning prayer.

BOYS AND GIRLS SCORE TRIUMPHS

HIGH SCHOOL PLAY SUCCESS FROM RISE TO FALL OF CURTAIN AND BETWEEN

CLEVER LINES CAUSE MERRIMENT

Seniors Show Remarkable Talent in Producing Comedy Filled With Action and Sprightly Situations

Over 500 people crowded Shively's opera house Saturday evening to see "The Merchant of Venice Up-to-Date," the annual senior play, presented by the graduating class of Oregon City high school. They were well repaid for their visit, for the amateurs put on a most creditable production, and one that reflected well upon the care bestowed upon the rehearsals by Mrs. H. P. Cartledge.

Between the five acts of the production the school orchestra of eight pieces rendered many selections. No attempt was made on part of members of the other classes to interfere with the play, as had been expected, and the sprightly comedy was brought to its thrilling climax without a single hitch. Many local jokes were mingled in the lines, and whenever some local character was made the target of a hit, generous laughter and applause showed the appreciation of the audience. The students themselves, many of whom heard the play, seemed to most enjoy the gentle digs given City Superintendent Tooze and Professor Pfingsten.

The last act of the production, in which the football team made its appearance, topped out in all its battle array, was perhaps the best of all. It certainly was the most spectacular and realistic. The fourth act, depicting a room in the home of "Portia," was also exceptionally well put on, and the work of the actors and actresses in this received much applause. The balance of the production more than fulfilled the expectations of those who witnessed the performance, and the hearty applause given the performers that their efforts were appreciated.

While the work of the entire cast was very good, special mention must be given Miss Irene Hanny, who as "Nerissa" scored one of the hits of the evening. Her presence was perfect throughout, her enunciation was clear and distinct, and never for a moment did she seem at all self-conscious. She was completely absorbed by her part, and showed remarkable dramatic ability. The "Portia" of Miss Adah Mass was also particularly good. Her lines required a great deal of effort, and she acquitted herself nobly. Having perhaps the leading part in the production a great deal was required of her, and that she acquitted herself so well was a great tribute to both her own ability and to the skill of Mrs. Cartledge in coaching and training. Miss Hazel Mitchell also won much praise for her clever character work.

Among the boys honors were about equally divided. The Shylock of Shelby Shaver was good, as was the Antonio of Joe Sheehan. Other members of the cast handled their parts capably and effectively.

The full case was as follows:

MARQUETTE, Mich., May 31.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt won his libel suit today against George A. Newett, who charged the Colonel with drunkenness. The Colonel received damages after the defendant had uttered a retraction and the jury awarded the nominal damages of 6 cents provided in such cases by the law of Michigan. Each party to the suit will have to pay his own expenses.

Judge Flannigan instructed the jurors to bring in a verdict for the plaintiff, which they did without leaving their seats.

The Colonel left for Chicago and the East at 5:30 o'clock this afternoon, less than two hours after the conclusion of the case.

EXPLODING METAL HITS WELL-KNOWN BLACKSMITH

A. C. Beaulieu, a blacksmith, of the firm of Scripture and Beaulieu, was seriously injured Saturday when a weld that he was forging "exploded," throwing molten metal into his groin. It is believed that some foreign substance must have gotten into the metal, and that under the blows of the heavy sled it was ejected with great force. The injured man was at once placed in care of Dr. Guy Mount, who declares his condition to be serious.

Order your Ford today if you expect to get one this year. The enormous output of the Ford factory for 1913, 193,000 cars, has been sold and no dealer will get as many cars as he wants.

Think of it—As many Fords this year as all other kinds of autos, big and little put together and there's a reason why—The Ford costs less to buy—less to run, less to maintain and yet will take 5 people over Oregon roads faster than any other car at any price. Price—5-passenger car, fully equipped, $675 in Oregon City. Make a deposit on your Ford and be sure of it.
