WOMEN'S FASHIONS TO FAVOR JAPANESE

NEW YORK, June 2.—It was to be expected that the abandoning of strict rules governing the details of style of cut, ornamentation, etc., in women's fashions would first lead to displays of originality and eventually to absurd and sensational extremes. Ever since the coming into fashion of the hobble skirt things have gone from bad to worse and now the point has been reached when an exhibition of the latest models by the noted fashion designers of Paris and other fashion centres reminds one of nothing so much as of an exhibition of Cubist "art."

One of the latest freak notions is the adoption of the Japanese silhouette as interpreted by the western originators of fashions. Only a short time ago one of the best known importers displayed a model which was so completely Japanese that it caused those who saw it gasp with astonishment. The costume was in the new taffeta, which is quite unlike the old material. One occasionally sees on the street a woman wearing a dress of changeable taffeta of the kind that was popular a few seasons ago. It is excessively brilliant of surface, while the new weaves of the fabric have a curious filmy sheen, almost like the soft bloom on a plum.

The Japanese model referred to was in light green taffeta. It had a set-on hem of the same material and the regular "obi" or broad sash which the Japanese woman wears around her waist, and ties in an immense butterfly bow in the back. The material stood away from the back of the neck quite stiffly. The only trimming was embroidery of green and silvery gray floss silk in a Japanese arrangement of squares.

New girdles and sashes appear as by magic every few days, and some of them are fearful and wonderful indeed. Others will be unobjectionable if they are discreetly reserved for wear with white and cream summer frocks. Of these are the new pougee sashes in Cubist designs and colors. They come from ten to eighteen inches in width and look more like crepe than pougee. The ends are gathered in tassels made of the colors shown in the printed patterns.

Shoes and hosiery become more and more striking; and such variety and novelty were never born to bluish-unsens, either. French fashion creators may issue edicts against slashed skirts until they are tired; with these tempting specimens of footwear spread out before them, many American women will snap their fingers at the edicts from Paris and will demand a chance to display the new finery.

WHITE SOX TRIM STATE CHAMPIONS

By pounding Baker, the ex-Louisville mound artist, at the opportune moment, the fast Commercial club White Sox of Oregon City defeated the Salem Senators on Salem baseball grounds Sunday by the score of 8 to 7. It was a game replete with brilliant fielding and heavy stick work, mixed with a few errors to even up matters.

Salem started the scoring in the 3rd inning by taking advantage of two errors of the Sox. Of the three scorers, Salem earned one. The locals retaliated in the 5th by slamming Baker's spitter to the fence. At the close of the inning the Sox had forced six runs across.

Salem scored four more in the 6th with two down in the eighth and a man on second Freeman poled the ball over the fence for a home run. Salem's only chance to score was in the 9th, with one man on 3rd and two down. McRae drove out towards deep left, Bruce, after a sensational run, gathered in their last chance. Winterbotham pitched splendid ball and backed by a superior hitting team brought home the bacon. Baker fanned 5, walked 4, allowed 9 hits. Winterbotham struck out 8, issued 3 passes and presented Salem with 7 hits. The lineup:

DEATH CALLS PIONEER
 James Marrs, a pioneer of Clackamas county, died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John Aldredge, Sunday, following an attack of pneumonia. Mr. Marrs was born in Arkansas in January, 1840. In his early life he crossed the plains three times, finally settling in Oregon City. The funeral will be held Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock in the United Brethren church, the Rev. Milliken officiating. He is survived by a son and five daughters.

SUMMER FRUITS MAKE APPEARANCE

With the sudden onrush of summer weather strawberries have been coming into the local and Portland markets with much greater freedom, and as a result the price has dropped in some grades as far as one dollar a crate. Prime Oregon and Washington berries are still topping the market, but the bottom has dropped out of California prices. State berries are the best of the offerings, and are finding ready sales.

Summer fruits are also being shipped in from outside states. Florida watermelons have appeared at five cents per pound, and many were sold at that figure. Early cantaloupes are also being offered at top prices, but the fruit does not seem greatly in demand, doubt being expressed as to its flavor. Apricots are coming in from California in increasing quantities, and the price has dropped to $2.25 a crate. Advices have been received that early Yakima peaches will be on the market by the end of the week.

Asparagus is still a prime market favorite, and is ranging from 65 cents to a dollar per dozen bunches. Local market prices are somewhat under this, growers being able to sell direct for less than the commission men are charging.

Other vegetables are remaining unchanged, save that supplies are being offered more plentifully.
